RIOTING LAID TO SOVIET

Moscow Target of Whalen

New York Police Executive Reveals Documents on Red Disorders

Communist Representatives Call Papers Forgeries; Blame Czarists

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Police Commissioner Whalen today made public documents, variously denounced as authentic and as forgeries, purporting to give evidence that the Communist Internationale of Moscow is financing riots and strikes in the United States, fomented by emissaries sent here for the purpose by soviet officials.

Photographic copies of the documents, which were seized by New York police, were furnished to newspapers with translations by the commissioner and a statement in which he evidently accepts them as authentic. Even when shown statements by two prominent Russians in this country who are mentioned in the papers he replied only that the documents are very definite and complete and he is "afraid they must speak for themselves."

One of the documents is a letter on the stationery of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, official purchasing agent for the soviet, which has done millions of dollars' worth of business in this country. It is signed with the name of G. Grafpen, an Amtorg official.

It lists thirty persons said to have been sent here as soviet agents who would be "hard to replace" if they were recalled, naming among them Peter A. Bogdanov, recently elected chairman of Amtorg, and Boris E. Skvirsky, director of the soviet information bureau at Washington.

Another document purports to be a mandate sent to Grafpen from Moscow appointing him to take general charge here of the soviet "secret criminal police" in this country. The document says that Grafpen would handle all financial matters and that Bogdanov should be consulted wherever business affairs are involved.

Bogdanov, in New York, and Skvirsky, in Washington, both issued statements in which they asserted the documents are forgeries. Bogdanov insisted that Amtorg is purely commercial and added an investigation has been instigated in an endeavor to run down the forgers so they might be prosecuted. Skvirsky said he has information the documents had been offered for sale for publication before they came into the hands of police and expressed the opinion they are the work of Czarist emigres.

WHALEN STANDS PAT

Commissioner Whalen, however, stood by his original statement that they show the Communist Internationale to have been responsible for many disturbances in this country.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 2. [To the Editor of The Times:] That Chamber of Commerce of the United States that is in session in Washington now is running true to Chamber of Commerce form. They have the maximum of objections with all the minimum of remedies for all our national ills. Of all the things that this country is suffering from the greatest is overproduction of organizations organized to help somebody that don't need the help as bad as the organization itself. It's not taxes that keeps us flat. It's dues. When the judgment day comes half of America will be on their way to some convention and the other half will be signing application blanks.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

STORM TOLL INCREASES

Death Total Now Twenty-three

Trails of Desolation Left by Four Tornadoes in Nine States

Villages and Farms Strewn With Debris in Wake of Twisters

CHICAGO, May 2. (AP)—Scenes of desolation today marked the paths of tornadoes and storms which cavorted over nine States of the Middle West Thursday, leaving twenty-three persons dead and scores more injured and homeless.

The whirring black funnels of the tornadoes dipped to four widely separated places—Tekamah, Neb., Westby, Wis.; Norborne, Mo., and Russell, Iowa—and cyclonic winds dealt death elsewhere in the affected area.

Property damage, it was estimated, ran into seven figures.

Tekamah, Neb., had four dead; Norborne, Mo., five; Russell, Iowa, one; Westby, Wis., one; Lake City, Minn., three; Duluth, Minn., two; Kickapoo, Kan., two; Lawton, N. D., one; Rockford, Ill., one; Galesburg, Ill., one; Chicago, one, and Antioch, Ill., one.

Nine of the dead were women.

Live stock was lost, crops were damaged and few villages in the

Ship Grounds in Lake Storm

SAULT STE. MARIE (Ont.) May 2. (AP)—Hard aground on a shoal a quarter-mile north of Parisienne Island light, and with a storm sweeping Lake Superior, the steamer Munising of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company is an object of anxiety today in shipping circles.

Two other ore carriers and a lighter went to the aid of the Munising, but reported they were forced to run behind the island to ride out the storm. The crew of the Munising are believed still aboard her. The storm sweeping the lake is of almost gale proportions and has stopped navigation.

INGLEWOOD TOPS RIVAL

Glendale Loses Census Crown

Suburb With Population of 19,605 Has Decade Gain of 496.6 Per Cent

Beach Towns Also Record Gratifying Increases; City Check Made

The glory that was Glendale's was short-lived, and the tentative confirmation on Thursday of the truth of its boast that it is the fastest growing city in America was upset by the revelation yesterday of the rate of growth during the past ten years of another city in the Los Angeles metropolitan area. The new contender for the right to use the Glendale slogan is Inglewood, which according to the figures released yesterday by T. G. De Coudres, census supervisor of the southern district of the county, grew five-fold since the previous census.

In 1920 Inglewood numbered only 3286 inhabitants, while the present census shows 19,605 persons living there. The rate of its increase in population during the past ten years, therefore, is 496.6 per cent.

With the early returns attesting to the remarkable growth of communities in the metropolitan area since 1920, several other census supervisors pointed out yesterday that it is not unlikely that Inglewood will hold the distinction of fastest-growing city for only a few days. No definite predictions were made, but it was said unofficially that when the census tabulation is completed it will probably be found that Beverly Hills will have shown the greatest rate of increase in this area and perhaps even in the United States.

OTHER INCREASES

Other figures released by Supervisor De Coudres yesterday show gratifying increases, but none comparable to that of Inglewood. El Segundo is given a population of 3499, which is 123.6 per cent greater than its 1920 population of 1563. Manhattan Beach is shown to have 1831 inhabitants and this is 113.2 per cent more than it numbered in 1920.

Hermosa Beach, with 4733 persons shown to be living there, has 103.3 per cent more inhabitants than ten years ago, when it had only 2327. Redondo Beach, which was credited with a population of 4913 in 1920, is given 7750 by the present census and this is an increase of 57.7 per cent.

Figures for a number of communities for which there are no 1920 statistics were also given out by Supervisor De Coudres. They are Hawthorne, whose population is given as 6574; Lennox, 6720; Lawndale, 2365; Maywood, 6778; Bell, 7884; Montebello, 5467; Artesia, 3891, and Downey, 5476.

AZUSA ENUMERATED

W. E. Ballentine, supervisor of the eastern district, was able to announce the figures for the township of Azusa yesterday. The township, which includes the cities of Azusa and Glendora and 792 farms, is given a population of 10,086. There is no 1920 figure to compare it with. The cities of Azusa and Glendora are credited with totals of 4803 and 2755, respectively. For Azusa that is an increase of 95.2 per cent since 1920, while the increase in Glendora is only 35.8 per cent.

Revelation yesterday of the results of two surveys being made to check on the number of unenumerated persons in Los Angeles tends to show, it was declared, that the number is still large. One of the surveys is that being conducted by the Chamber of Commerce, which has enlisted the aid of sixty large companies in the city which employ a great many workers.

In its first check of the workers at the factories and offices and stores of these sixty concerns the Chamber of Commerce found that on April 22 something more than 10 per cent of the persons in these establishments asserted they had not been enumerated. A recheck begun yesterday of the persons who had reported that they had not been counted is not yet complete, but for the fifteen companies which had reported yesterday it was shown that one-quarter of the number who said two weeks ago that they

ARMY MEN 'BAIL OUT' IN PLANE DROP

Six Jump as Transport Falls, While Crew Sticks and Escapes Miraculously

FRESNO, May 2. (AP)—With two of the three motors disabled and a crash inevitable, six army air men "bailed out" of a trimotored army Fokker near Oleander late today, landing safely in parachutes despite the fact that they jumped from less than 1000 feet.

The plane, piloted by Lieut. W. A. Maxwell of March Field, Riverside, crashed in a vineyard, but did not turn over. It was so badly wrecked that it will have to be dismantled before being moved.

Lieut. Maxwell and Staff Sergeant J. H. Arthur stayed with the ship and escaped uninjured, although the pilot's cockpit was reduced to jumbled wreckage.

The six men, who in about six seconds became eligible to membership in the famous Caterpillar Club, members of which must make a forced parachute jump, are:

Sergt. C. A. Davis and Private John Koziak of the Eleventh Bombardment Group; Corp. W. L. Green, and Privates George Lockwood, Roy Stokes and Tony Wasilevich of the Ninety-fifth Pursuit Group.

All are stationed at Rockwell Field, San Diego. Lieut. Maxwell and Sergt. Arthur are stationed at March Field.

AIR RECORD CREATED BY FRENCH GIRL

Lena Bernstein Sets New Endurance Mark and Also for One-Pilot Planes

LE BOURGET, May 2. (AP)—A French girl flyer, Mlle. Lena Bernstein, today hung up a new endurance mark for women of 35h. 46m. 55s. She beat by almost ten hours the women's endurance record recognized here—that of Mlle. Maryse Bastie, who flew for 26h. 46m. 30s. last July.

By almost the same margin she exceeded the American women's endurance record achieved a year ago by Miss Elinor Smith at Roosevelt Field, N. Y., a mark of 26h. 21m. 32s.

Mlle. Bernstein took off at 7:18 a.m. yesterday and landed here at a fraction after 7:04 p.m. today when her fuel had been exhausted. It was announced her flight constitutes a world record for airplanes of all categories having only one pilot, male or female.

Last July she made a nonstop flight from Marseilles to Sidi Barbani in Egypt.

Flame Flare in Hangar Injures Nine Mechanics

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS (N. J.) May 2. (Exclusive)—A burst of flame enveloped a ten-passenger Fokker plane which was being reserviced in a hangar of the Fokker Aircraft works at Teterboro Airport near here, burning nine mechanics, two of whom may die. Other planes in the same hangar were not injured, and the flame was so short-lived that except for scorched wings even the plane on which it occurred was not damaged.

William McQuinn of Hasbrouck Heights and George Webber of Little Ferry, N. J., are the two men so badly burned that they may not recover.

Fokker officials were mystified by the accident. Several of the men were engaged in soldering a section of the fuselage. Others were doing other jobs about the machine, which belonged to J. L. Macmillan of the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation of Los Angeles.

CONGRESS ASKED TO VOTE $10,660,000 TO BEGIN DAM

Hoover Approves Plea and Wilbur Lists Six Main Purposes for Initial Appropriation

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Representative

WASHINGTON, May 2. (Exclusive)—The request for the initial appropriation for construction work at Boulder Dam went to Congress today from the Budget Bureau with a letter of transmittal by President Hoover. The sum asked is $10,660,000 and Secretary Wilbur in a statement explained how the money is to be spent.

The statement follows:

"This money will be expended for six main purposes.

"Beginning at a point two miles back from the river, a highway must be constructed to the top of the cliffs overlooking the Black Canyon dam site, a distance of three miles. This over very rough and precipitous ground, and it is estimated that the road will cost $300,000.

TOWNSITE TO BE LAID OUT

"The townsite which will be the point of residence for the working force must be laid out. Topographic surveys are to be made and town planners called in. Careful attention must be given to sanitation. A dependable water and sewer system must be installed. Water must be pumped from the Colorado River, 800 feet below. Settling basins and filtration systems modeled on those of such towns of the region as Yuma will be installed. This will cost about $100,000 for an initial development.

"An administration building and living quarters for government employees will be built there at an estimated cost of $125,000. Living quarters for the mass of employees must be provided, however, by the contractors. These items in preparation of the townsite thus amount to $225,000.

RAILWAYS NEEDED

"Another item calling for immediate attention is that of constructing railways for delivering materials at the dam site. It is not settled whether this should come from Las Vegas, Nev., or Chloride, Ariz. In either case, when these spurs reach the dam site a quite spectacular engineering problem will be encountered. This will be that of getting a railroad down to the bottom of the canyon 300 feet below, both above and below the dam site. This will involve special construction over unusually steep grades. For this work $2,500,000 is needed.

"The first element in the actual construction of the dam will be that of drilling the four diversion tunnels through which the water will pass during construction and to the power plant after the project is completed. Power will be required before this work is undertaken. This power must either be brought in from the outside or a temporary plant must be erected at the dam. It is asked that $1,750,000 be made available for this purpose.

"An initial appropriation is asked for actual construction work on these tunnels. It is estimated that these tunnels will cost $17,000,000, and $5,000,000 is required to begin this work.

RANCHES DOOMED

"In the area that is to be flooded there are certain properties such as ranches and mines that will be destroyed, and for which payment must be made. The department asks that $500,000 be made available for this purpose.

"Finally, the department calls attention to the fact that during the ten years of the investigation of this project, the money needed for this work has been appropriated by Congress out of the reclamation fund. The money so expended has amounted to $385,000. The department asks that the appropriation include an amount to recompense the reclamation fund for this expenditure. Thus the total appropriation asked for at this time amounts to $10,660,000."

The request for this appropriation was referred by the Speaker to the House Appropriations Committee which will consider it and probably call Secretary Wilbur in for a personal explanation before incorporating the item in the second deficiency bill to be laid before the House within the next two weeks. Chairman Wood of the appropriations group is said to have no opposition to the proposed expenditure and it is expected to have easy sailing in the House, save for the lone opposition of Representative Douglas of Arizona.

In the Senate, however, public

River Commission Chief and Attorney-General Give Official Word

PHOENIX, May 2. (AP)—Chairman Charles B. Ward of the Arizona Colorado River Commission and Atty.-Gen. Peterson announced formally in joint statements today that if President Hoover's request for a $10,000,000 appropriation to start Boulder Dam construction is granted by Congress Arizona will file its long-threatened injunction suit in the United States Supreme Court.

"Our commission has held office for more than a year," Chairman Ward's statement says. "During all that time, in pursuance of the terms of the law under which we were appointed, we have endeavored to arrive at an amicable settlement of the Colorado River controversy through the medium of a compact with our sister States."

The statement goes on to review various conferences.

"Negotiations at Santa Fe, N. M., came to nothing," the commissioner declares, "primarily because at that time California was interested and active in procuring the ratification of the six-State compact by the State of Utah. Without such ratification the act (Boulder Dam Act) would have remained wholly ineffective.

CALIFORNIA TARGET

"Last May our conferences were resumed at Washington, and consumed several weeks. It developed there that California's water demand had been vastly increased over anything that she heretofore had suggested, also that she was unwilling to make any compact covering the questions of power and domestic water, insisting that the settlement of those matters should be left to the Secretary of the Interior . . . thereafter it became evident that California was more interested in carrying forward her negotiations with the Secretary of the Interior than in continuing the discussions with Arizona.

"In November of last year it became plain that the status quo was not to be maintained (status quo of Washington conference) as agreed. Our commission formally announced that there would be no further negotiations with California, and the Attorney-General and his associates were directed to proceed with the preparation of the necessary legal proceedings for the protection of Arizona's rights.

CONDITION ACCEPTED

"Later, the Secretary of the Interior communicated with Gov. Phillips and urged that California and Arizona should meet again with the other States and try to arrive at a compact.

"Gov. Phillips then particularly called the Secretary's attention to the provisions of Section 8-B of the project authorizing the State compact 'for the equitable division of the benefits, including power arising from the use of water ac-

LINDBERGH FINISHES TASK

New Air Mail Line Trail-Blazing Trip Completed; Three Minutes Behind on 899-Mile Jaunt

MIAMI (Fla.) May 2. (AP)—Completing his round-trip inaugurating seven-day air mail service between the Americas, Col. Charles Lindbergh arrived here at 5:03 p.m., eastern standard time, after an 899-mile flight today from Puerto-Cabezas, Nicaragua. He carried 211 pounds of air mail bound from Buenos Aires to points in the United States on the new seven-day schedule of the Latin-American express service.

Col. Lindbergh was three minutes behind schedule when he landed at Pan-American Airport here.

Average speed for today's flight, which started at Puerto Cabezas at 5:55 a.m. (E.S.T.,) was ninety-seven miles an hour. Col. Lindbergh and Bas" Roe, co-pilot, averaged ninety-two miles an hour from Puerto Cabezas to Havana, a water flight of 638 miles across the Caribbean sea, and had an average speed of 110 miles an hour from Havana to Miami, northern terminus of Pan-American Airways, Inc., the company holding the mail contract.

Col. Lindbergh and Roe accomplished the first leg of the homeward flight from Cristobal, C. Z., to Puerto Cabezas, a distance of 395 miles yesterday at an average of a fraction less than ninety-eight miles an hour.

During today's flight, the colonel, completing his third inauguration of air mail service between the Americas brought another novelty into his record of accomplishments as he sat at the plane's radio and tapped out his own location message to the Pan-American Airways radio control station here. The message was sent from a point approximately 280 miles south of Havana and sixty miles west of Grand Cayman. Weather conditions generally were reported to be excellent.

Col. Lindbergh blazed the new air trail from the United States to

Injunction Against Comfort Station Dissolved

Judge Holds Concessionaires' Objections Invalid

City Plans Improvements on Water Front

Superior Judge Yankwich yesterday dissolved a temporary injunction and denied a permanent one asked by Mrs. D. H. Monstad to restrain the building of a comfort station on the municipal pier at Redondo Beach, holding that the city of Redondo Beach cannot be enjoined from constructing the station on the pier merely because it may be objectionable to some of the concessionaires occupying stalls controlled by Mrs. Monstad.

Mrs. Monstad, in her complaint, asserted that on July 19, 1926, the city of Redondo Beach gave to her son, W. L. Monstad, a lease for a period of twenty years on a strip of tideland, on which he built a commercial and pleasure pier. The lease was assigned to her on September 22, 1926.

The complainant further asserted that after the building of the pier space was furnished for commercial enterprises such as landing facilities for fishing craft, passenger boats, booths and fish and bait stands. These, it was contended, would be injured by the building of a comfort station on the pier.

W. L. Monstad, the original lessee, testified that about April 18, 1927, the old pier was condemned by State engineers. He then asked permission to reconstruct it. In so doing he removed the old comfort station and for a year thereafter the approach was clear. He contended that, for this reason, he had a right to the approach unobstructed.

The resolution of intention to construct the new comfort station was adopted by the City Council on February 3, last. The new station is a part of certain improvements contemplated by the city for the pier.

After Mrs. Monstad filed her complaint a temporary injunction was granted on April 2, last, by Superior Judge Gates. It is this injunction that was dissolved yesterday by Judge Yankwich.

Question of Art to Be Argued in Divorce Fight

Just what constitutes art and vulgarity in photographs taken of women draped in gauzy things, or entirely in the nude, is one of the things that will be discussed in the contested divorce action of George Walters, Los Angeles photographer, and his wife, Mrs. Lydia Walters, which went to trial yesterday before Superior Judge Hahn.

Walters is suing his wife for a divorce naming James Powell, night watchman in the building where his studio is located, as corespondent. He is represented by Attorney Marcus C. Clark. Through her counsel, Attorney S. S. Hahn, Mrs. Walters has filed a cross-complaint. Among her exhibits in the case is a collection of photographs which she asserts her husband took of women models. She calls them vulgar and indecent. The husband declares they are merely artistic pictures.

The husband contends that he found his wife with the night watchman on New Year's night, 1929. The wife, on the witness stand yesterday, admitted being in the room but asserted she went there to watch her husband.

The wife asks for $250 a month for the support of herself and children.

Plea Made for Foreign Trade Conclave Rally

Until the close of the seventeenth national foreign trade convention, which will be held at the Biltmore from the 21st to 23rd inst., Los Angeles will be in the national spotlight, according to J. A. H. Kerr, chairman of the executive committee of the convention, in an appeal to local business men to send in their registrations promptly.

"Los Angeles has set out to make this the largest convention ever held by the National Foreign Trade Council," said Kerr. "James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation and chairman of the council, will preside as usual and is expected to bring with him several hundred leading business executives of the country.

"To make this convention a huge success we must register at least 2000 delegates from Southern California, including representatives of all the commercial activities in this section. The convention will open here in less than three weeks and it is important that registrations be made without delay.

"This is the third national foreign trade convention to be held on the Pacific Coast, previous ones having been at Seattle and San Francisco. Attendance at the latter was the largest on record."

Raid Dismissal Plea Pondered

The State's case against Earl P. Morgan, Roy Nash, Frank Hale and Earl Herman, asserted operators of a palatial gambling establishment at 1791 North Sycamore street, raided by police on March 23, last, on charges of gambling device possession was concluded yesterday. Municipal Judge MacCoy took under advisement a motion made by Defense Attorney Clifford Thomas to dismiss the charges.

A roulette wheel and table and equipment valued at more than $2000 were introduced into evidence by Deputy City Prosecutor Avery and raiding officers testified that clients of the asserted gaming house escaped through windows and rear doors as the raid was started.

Panamalacques

SOPHISTICATED, distinguished, demure or dignified shapes may be chosen from among a new group of panamalacques specially purchased by J. W. Robinson Co.

This aristocratic straw is developed in many ways. Deep brims are pinched and folded so that, although wide, their line is irregular and casts sophisticated shadows. Often taffeta ribbon, knotted at the side, gives the trimming detail.

Another brim manipulation is crushing to the crown in front the brim which is long on the sides and short in back and finishing it with a feather pompon. This is what the French call "distingue."

Hats reminiscent of the poke bonnet shape often have one wider side, sometimes inset with hair braid which gives a demure glimpse of profile, or sometimes plain and flared, worn tipped a bit, which gives a jaunty air.

The hat with the narrower, more even brim displays an assured dignity. Sometimes the crown is finished with string straw in a lace pattern. Grosgrain or satin ribbon often give a trimming touch.

These types and many more, each individually styled, are presented in black white, beige and pink. Exceptionally priced at $15.00.

PLOTTING LAID TO SOVIET

Moscow Target of Whalen

Communist Representatives Call Papers Forgeries; Blame Czarists

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Police Commissioner Whalen today made public documents, variously described as authentic and as forgeries, purporting to give evidence that the Communist Internationale of Moscow is financing riots and strikes in the United States, fomented by emissaries sent here for the purpose by soviet officials.

Photographic copies of the documents, which were seized by New York police, were furnished to newspapers with translations by the commissioner and a statement in which he evidently accepts them as authentic. Even when shown statements by two prominent Russians in this country who are mentioned in the papers he replied only that the documents are very definite and simple and he is "afraid they can speak for themselves."

One of the documents is a letter on the stationery of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, official purchasing agent for the soviet, which has done millions of dollars' worth of business in this country. It is signed with the name of G. Grafpen, an Amtorg official.

It lists thirty persons said to have been sent here as soviet agents who would be "hard to replace" if they were expelled, naming among them Peter A. Bogdanov, recently elected chairman of Amtorg, and Boris E. Skvirsky, director of the soviet information bureau at Washington.

Another document purports to be a mandate sent to Grafpen from Moscow appointing him to take general charge here of the soviet "criminal police" in this country. The document says that Grafpen would handle all financial affairs and that Bogdanov should be consulted wherever business affairs are involved.

Bogdanov, in New York, and Skvirsky, in Washington, both issued statements in which they asserted the documents are forgeries. Bogdanov insisted that Amtorg is purely commercial and added an investigation has been instigated in an endeavor to run down the forgers so they might be prosecuted. Skvirsky said he has information the documents had been offered for sale for publication before they came into the hands of police and expressed the opinion they are the work of Czarist emigres.

WHALEN STANDS PAT

Commissioner Whalen, however, stood by his original statement that they show the Communist Internationale to have been responsible for many disturbances in this country.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 2. [To the Editor of The Times:] That Chamber of Commerce of the United States that is in session in Washington now is running true to Chamber of Commerce form. They have the maximum of objections with all the minimum of remedies for all our national ills. Of all the things that this country is suffering from the greatest is overproduction of organizations organized to help somebody that don't need the help as bad as the organization itself. It's not taxes that keeps us flat. It's dues. When the judgment day comes half of America will be on their way to some convention and the other half will be signing application blanks.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

STORM TOLL INCREASES

Villages and Farms Strewn With Debris in Wake of Twisters

CHICAGO, May 2. (AP)—Scenes of desolation today marked the paths of tornadoes and storms which cavorted over nine States of the Middle West Thursday, leaving twenty-three persons dead and scores more injured and homeless.

The whirring black funnels of the tornadoes dipped to four widely separated places—Tekamah, Neb., Westby, Wis.; Norborne, Mo., and Russell, Iowa—and cyclonic winds dealt death elsewhere in the affected area.

Property damage, it was estimated, ran into seven figures.

Tekamah, Neb., had four dead; Norborne, Mo., five; Russell, Iowa, one; Westby, Wis., one; Lake City, Minn., three; Duluth, Minn., two; Kickapoo, Kan., two; Lawton, N. D., one; Rockford, Ill., one; Galesburg, Ill., one; Chicago, one, and Antioch, Ill., one.

Nine of the dead were women.

Live stock was lost, crops were damaged and few villages in the

Ship Grounds in Lake Storm

SAULT STE. MARIE (Ont.) May 2. (AP)—Hard aground on a shoal a quarter-mile north of Parisienne Island light, and with a storm sweeping Lake Superior, the steamer Munising of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company is an object of anxiety today in shipping circles.

Two other ore carriers and a lighter went to the aid of the Munising, but reported they were forced to run behind the island to ride out the storm. The crew of the Munising are believed still aboard her. The storm sweeping the lake is of almost gale proportions and has stopped navigation.

INGLEWOOD TOPS RIVAL

Glendale Loses Census Crown

Beach Towns Also Record Gratifying Increases; City Check Made

The glory that was Glendale's was short-lived, and the tentative confirmation on Thursday of the truth of its boast that it is the fastest growing city in America was upset by the revelation yesterday of the rate of growth during the past ten years of another city in the Los Angeles metropolitan area. The new contender for the right to use the Glendale slogan is Inglewood, which according to the figures released yesterday by T. G. De Coudres, census supervisor of the southern district of the county, grew five-fold since the previous census.

In 1920 Inglewood numbered only 3286 inhabitants, while the present census shows 19,605 persons living there. The rate of its increase in population during the past ten years, therefore, is 496.6 per cent.

With the early returns attesting to the remarkable growth of communities in the metropolitan area since 1920, several other census supervisors pointed out yesterday that it is not unlikely that Inglewood will hold the distinction of fastest-growing city for only a few days. No definite predictions were made, but it was said unofficially that when the census tabulation is completed it will probably be found that Beverly Hills will have shown the greatest rate of increase in this area and perhaps even in the United States.

OTHER INCREASES

Other figures released by Supervisor De Coudres yesterday show gratifying increases, but none comparable to that of Inglewood. El Segundo is given a population of 3496, which is 123.6 per cent greater than its 1920 population of 1563. Manhattan Beach is shown to have 1831 inhabitants and this is 113.2 per cent more than it numbered in 1920.

Hermosa Beach, with 4733 persons shown to be living there, has 103.3 per cent more inhabitants than ten years ago, when it had only 2327. Redondo Beach, which was credited with a population of 4913 in 1920, is given 7750 by the present census and this is an increase of 57.7 per cent.

Figures for a number of communities for which there are no 1920 statistics were also given out by Supervisor De Coudres. They are Hawthorne, whose population is given as 6574; Lennox, 6720; Lawndale, 2365; Maywood, 6778; Bell, 7884; Montebello, 5467; Artesia, 3891, and Downey, 5476.

AZUSA ENUMERATED

W. E. Ballentine, supervisor of the eastern district, was able to announce the figures for the township of Azusa yesterday. The township, which includes the cities of Azusa and Glendora and 792 farms, is given a population of 10,066. There is no 1920 figure to compare it with. The cities of Azusa and Glendora are credited with totals of 4803 and 2755, respectively. For Azusa that is an increase of 95.2 per cent since 1920, while the increase in Glendora is only 35.8 per cent.

Revelation yesterday of the results of two surveys being made to check on the number of unenumerated persons in Los Angeles tends to show, it was declared, that the number is still large. One of the surveys is that being conducted by the Chamber of Commerce, which has enlisted the aid of sixty large companies in the city which employ a great many workers.

In its first check of the workers at the factories and offices and stores of these sixty concerns the Chamber of Commerce found that on April 22 something more than 10 per cent of the persons in these establishments asserted they had not been enumerated. A recheck begun yesterday of the persons who had reported that they had not been counted is not yet complete, but for the fifteen companies which had reported yesterday it was shown that one-quarter of the number who said two weeks ago that they

Six Jump as Transport Falls, While Crew Sticks and Escapes Miraculously

FRESNO, May 2. (AP)—With two of the three motors disabled and a crash inevitable, six army air men "bailed out" of a trimotored army Fokker near Oleander late today, landing safely in parachutes despite the fact that they jumped from less than 1000 feet.

The plane, piloted by Lieut. W. A. Maxwell of March Field, Riverside, crashed in a vineyard, but did not turn over. It was so badly wrecked that it will have to be dismantled before being moved.

Lieut. Maxwell and Staff Sergeant J. H. Arthur stayed with the ship and escaped uninjured, although the pilot's cockpit was reduced to jumbled wreckage.

The six men, who in about six seconds became eligible to membership in the famous Caterpillar Club, members of which must make a forced parachute jump, are:

Sergt. C. A. Davis and Private John Koziak of the Eleventh Bombardment Group; Corp. W. L. Green, and Privates George Lockwood, Roy Stokes and Tony Wasilevich of the Ninety-fifth Pursuit Group.

All are stationed at Rockwell Field, San Diego. Lieut. Maxwell and Sergt. Arthur are stationed at March Field.

Lena Bernstein Sets New Endurance Mark and Also for One-Pilot Planes

LE BOURGET, May 2. (AP)—A French girl flyer, Mlle. Lena Bernstein, today hung up a new endurance mark for women of 35h. 46m. 55s. She beat by almost ten hours the women's endurance record recognised here—that of Mlle. Maryse Bastie, who flew for 26h. 46m. 30s. last July.

By almost the same margin she exceeded the American women's endurance record achieved a year ago by Miss Elinor Smith at Roosevelt Field, N. Y., a mark of 26h. 21m. 32s.

Mlle. Bernstein took off at 7:18 a.m. yesterday and landed here at a fraction after 7:04 p.m. today when her fuel had been exhausted. It was announced her flight constitutes a world record for airplanes of all categories having only one pilot, male or female.

Last July she made a nonstop flight from Marseilles to Sidi Barbani in Egypt.

Flame Flare in Hangar Injures Nine Mechanics

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS (N. J.) May 2. (Exclusive)—A burst of flame enveloped a ten-passenger Fokker plane which was being reserviced in a hangar of the Fokker Aircraft works at Teterboro Airport near here, burning nine mechanics, two of whom may die. Other planes in the same hangar were not injured, and the flame was so short-lived that except for scorched wings even the plane on which it occurred was not damaged.

William McQuinn of Hasbrouck Heights and George Webber of Little Ferry, N. J., are the two men so badly burned that they may not recover.

Fokker officials were mystified by the accident. Several of the men were engaged in soldering a section of the fuselage. Others were doing other jobs about the machine, which belonged to J. L. Macmillan of the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation of Los Angeles.

CONGRESS ASKED TO VOTE $10,660,000 TO BEGIN DAM

Hoover Approves Plea and Wilbur Lists Six Main Purposes for Initial Appropriation

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Representative

WASHINGTON, May 2. (Exclusive)—The request for the initial appropriation for construction work at Boulder Dam went to Congress today from the Budget Bureau with a letter of transmittal by President Hoover. The sum asked is $10,660,000 and Secretary Wilbur in a statement explained how the money is to be spent.

The statement follows:

"This money will be expended for six main purposes.

"Beginning at a point two miles back from the river, a highway must be constructed to the top of the cliffs overlooking the Black Canyon dam site, a distance of three miles. This over very rough and precipitous ground, and it is estimated that the road will cost $300,000.

TOWNSITE TO BE LAID OUT

"The townsite which will be the point of residence for the working force must be laid out. Topographic surveys are to be made and town planners called in. Careful attention must be given to sanitation. A dependable water and sewer system must be installed. Water must be pumped from the Colorado River, 800 feet below. Settling basins and filtration systems modeled on those of such towns of the region as Yuma will be installed. This will cost about $100,000 for an initial development.

"An administration building and living quarters for government employees will be built there at an estimated cost of $125,000. Living quarters for the mass of employees must be provided, however, by the contractors. These items in preparation of the townsite thus amount to $225,000.

RAILWAYS NEEDED

"Another item calling for immediate attention is that of constructing railways for delivering materials at the dam site. It is not settled whether this should come from Las Vegas, Nev., or Chloride, Ariz. In either case, when these spurs reach the dam site a quite spectacular engineering problem will be encountered. This will be that of getting a railroad down to the bottom of the canyon 300 feet below, both above and below the dam site. This will involve special construction over unusually steep grades. For this work $2,500,000 is needed.

"The first element in the actual construction of the dam will be that of drilling the four diversion tunnels through which the water will pass during construction and to the power plant after the project is completed. Power will be required before this work is undertaken. This power must either be brought in from the outside or a temporary plant must be erected at the dam. It is asked that $1,750,000 be made available for this purpose.

"An initial appropriation is asked for actual construction work on these tunnels. It is estimated that these tunnels will cost $17,000,000, and $5,000,000 is required to begin this work.

RANCHES DOOMED

"In the area that is to be flooded there are certain properties such as ranches and mines that will be destroyed, and for which payment must be made. The department asks that $500,000 be made available for this purpose.

"Finally, the department calls attention to the fact that during the ten years of the investigation of this project, the money needed for this work has been appropriated by Congress out of the reclamation fund. The money so expended has amounted to $385,000. The department asks that the appropriation include an amount to recompense the reclamation fund for this expenditure. Thus the total appropriation asked for at this time amounts to $10,660,000."

The request for this appropriation was referred by the Speaker to the House Appropriations Committee which will consider it and probably call Secretary Wilbur in for a personal explanation before incorporating the item in the second deficiency bill to be laid before the House within the next two weeks. Chairman Wood of the appropriations group is said to have no opposition to the proposed expenditure and it is expected to have easy sailing in the House, save for the lone opposition of Representative Douglas of Arizona.

In the Senate, however, public

River Commission Chief and Attorney-General Give Official Word

PHOENIX, May 2. (AP)—Chairman Charles B. Ward of the Arizona Colorado River Commission and Atty.-Gen. Peterson announced formally in joint statements today that if President Hoover's request for a $10,000,000 appropriation to start Boulder Dam construction is granted by Congress Arizona will file its long-threatened injunction suit in the United States Supreme Court.

"Our commission has held office for more than a year," Chairman Ward's statement says. "During all that time, in pursuance of the terms of the law under which we were appointed, we have endeavored to arrive at an amicable settlement of the Colorado River controversy through the medium of a compact with our sister States."

The statement goes on to review various conferences.

"Negotiations at Santa Fe, N. M., came to nothing," the commissioner declares, "primarily because at that time California was interested and active in procuring the ratification of the six-State compact by the State of Utah. Without such ratification the act (Boulder Dam Act) would have remained wholly ineffective.

CALIFORNIA TARGET

"Last May our conferences were resumed at Washington, and consumed several weeks. It developed there that California's water demand had been vastly increased over anything that she heretofore had suggested, also that she was unwilling to make any compact covering the questions of power and domestic water, insisting that the settlement of those matters should be left to the Secretary of the Interior . . . thereafter it became evident that California was more interested in carrying forward her negotiations with the Secretary of the Interior than in continuing the discussions with Arizona.

"In November of last year it became plain that the status quo was not to be maintained (status quo of Washington conference) as agreed. Our commission formally announced that there would be no further negotiations with California, and the Attorney-General and his associates were directed to proceed with the preparation of the necessary legal proceedings for the protection of Arizona's rights.

CONDITION ACCEPTED

"Later, the Secretary of the Interior communicated with Gov. Phillips and urged that California and Arizona should meet again with the other States and try to arrive at a compact.

"Gov. Phillips then particularly called the Secretary's attention to the provisions of Section 8-B of the project authorizing the State compact 'for the equitable division of the benefits, including power arising from the use of water ac-

New Air Mail Line Trail-Blazing Trip Completed; Three Minutes Behind on 899-Mile Jaunt

MIAMI (Fla.) May 2. (AP)—Completing his round-trip inaugurating seven-day air mail service between the Americas, Col. Charles Lindbergh arrived here at 5:08 p.m., eastern standard time, after an 899-mile flight today from Puerto-Cabezas, Nicaragua. He carried 211 pounds of air mail bound from Buenos Aires to points in the United States on the new seven-day schedule of the Latin-American express service.

Col. Lindbergh was three minutes behind schedule when he landed at Pan-American Airport here.

Average speed for today's flight, which started at Puerto Cabezas at 5:55 a.m. (E.S.T.,) was ninety-seven miles an hour. Col. Lindbergh and Bas" Roe, co-pilot, averaged ninety-two miles an hour from Puerto Cabezas to Havana, a water flight of 638 miles across the Caribbean sea, and had an average speed of 110 miles an hour from Havana to Miami, northern terminus of Pan-American Airways, Inc., the company holding the mail contract.

Col. Lindbergh and Roe accomplished the first leg of the homeward flight from Cristobal, C. Z., to Puerto Cabezas, a distance of 395 miles yesterday at an average of a fraction less than ninety-eight miles an hour.

During today's flight, the colonel, completing his third inauguration of air mail service between the Americas brought another novelty into his record of accomplishments as he sat at the plane's radio and tapped out his own location message to the Pan-American Airways radio control station here. The message was sent from a point approximately 280 miles south of Havana and sixty miles west of Grand Cayman. Weather conditions generally were reported to be excellent.

Col. Lindbergh blazed the new air trail from the United States to ering to said States' and refused to enter into further negotiations except on the understanding that all matters theretofore under negotiation would be open for consideration and discussion. That condition was accepted by the Secretary and by the other interested States.

"In pursuance of that arrangement, the representatives of the various States met at Reno last January. The conference, after two weeks, appeared to make some progress but adjourned without definite result to reconvene at Phoenix in February of this year.

PHOENIX CONFERENCE

"At the Phoenix conference, and as a result of the Reno conference, it developed that the State had arrived at a more hopeful approach to the problem of water division than had been attained heretofore. California, however, then reiterated her demand that any compact must be confined solely to water division, leaving the question of power and domestic water for the determination of the secretary. Arizona and Nevada, joined by Utah and New Mexico, declined to leave those matters for determination by the Secretary and, thereupon, the conference adjourned.

"Since that time, California has been dealing with the Secretary of the Interior in reference to power and domestic water and it is now announced that California interests have entered into contracts for California's allotted share of the power.

"California has at all times consistently refused to accept the water division suggested by the act, has demanded vastly more water than she asked for prior to the passage of the act, and more than she would be entitled to under the limitation specified in the act, which her Legislature has accepted."

Turning to the $10,000,000 appropriation asked of Congress, the statement says:

"Arizona must oppose that appropriation with every resource at her command. The burden will rest primarily upon our Senators and Representatives. They have indicated that it may be desirable for our commission or some of us to appear before the Senate and House committees of appropriations, and we are holding ourselves in readiness to give them any assistance in our power.

"We are very hopeful that when the facts of the controversy are brought to the attention of Congress, the request for this appropriation will be denied.

"If, however, such appropriation shall be authorized by Congress, the Attorney-General and his associates in charge of this matter are prepared to take such steps as may be proper for the full protection of Arizona's rights and interests."

The statement is signed by Ward, A. H. Favour and John Mason Ross.

PETERSON'S STATEMENT

"The Attorney-General's office," says Atty.-Gen. Peterson's statement, "has been in constant touch over the past year and a half with the Colorado River controversy. Together with special assistants, we have been working on the preparation of a complaint since last August. This complaint has been ready since last December, and is now ready to be filed when the opportune time arrives. That is when Congress shall make any appropriation for carrying into effect the provisions of the Boulder Canyon project act.

"Any attempts to explain the necessary legal steps to be taken in attacking the Boulder Canyon project act would result in giving advance information on the attacks to be made on the project act. I do not feel that this should be done at this time.

"This office is prepared to fight vigorously in the proper court any attempt to put into effect the provisions of the act, and will do so. We believe this should be done properly to protect the interests and rights of the people of Arizona in the Colorado River system."

STOCKS IN HEADLONG DIVE

Prices Crash Downward in Heaviest Selling Session Since November Collapse

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Stock prices went into a headlong decline today, the most precipitant since early December, as it became apparent that such favorable development as the reduction from 3½ to 3 per cent in the Federal Reserve rediscount rate and President Hoover's statement that the worst of the business depression is over had failed to bolster the market.

Selling was in enormous volume in the last hour, boosting total sales on the New York Stock Exchange to approximately 6,000,000 shares, the largest day's turnover since November 13, when the autumn crash touched bottom with sales of 7,761,450 shares in a three-hour trading period.

More than 3,000,000 shares were dumped on the market in the last hour of today's five-hour session.

More than two score issues, including most of the recent popular trading favorites, closed $4 to $16 a share lower. A few leading industrials were bid up at the opening, but a heavy selling movement soon developed. Powerful supporting orders appeared to have checked the decline by early afternoon and many shares rebounded moderately, but the market turned dull on the rise and several large professional traders, finding themselves unable to bid stocks up, launched a powerful attack of short selling.

The price index of ninety leading stocks showed a loss for the day of 5.8 points. On October 28, this index, however, lost 25.4 points. The index was reduced to 187.2 where it was nearly 23 points below the year's peak reached on April 8, and 21 points above the figure at the beginning of the year, showing that about half the year's extreme gain has been lost. The index, however, is 47 points above the low level of November 13.

operation Senators, such as Norris of Nebraska and LaFollette and Blaine of Wisconsin are girding themselves for a fight against the appropriation based on the fact private power companies have been given a share of the power from the Colorado River project. It is not believed that they can defeat or even seriously delay favorable action. The only real concern is lest the second deficiency bill as a whole get caught in a last-minute legislative jam, and shall fail of passage in this session. The chances are that nothing of the kind will happen.

Commissioner Mead of the Reclamation Bureau, who will be in charge of the construction, expects preliminary work to begin on the dam, power plant and all-American Canal under the project within a few weeks after the appropriation is provided.

In the meantime Secretary Wilbur will advertise for bids for the construction work. In view of the magnitude of the project, considerable time probably will be allowed for contractors to study the plans. It is expected that it will require eight years to complete construction.

SWING TO FIGHT FOR IT

President Hoover's action today is another important step in the ten-year contest in Congress over Boulder dam. Representative Swing, Republican, California, co-author of the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon Dam Act, said he will resist any attempt to eliminate the item from the deficiency bill. On the other hand, Representative Douglas, Democrat, a bitter opponent in the contest, said he will do everything he can to strike it from the measure.

Douglas said he expects the State of Arizona will institute court proceedings to prevent the construction should the appropriation be approved by Congress.

Swing said, however, that "only the threat of Arizona stands in the way of the completion of the greatest project of its kind in the West."

The construction town is to be built, Dr. Mead said, on the Nevada side of Black Canyon, three miles from the dam site. The Union Pacific Railroad Company is to construct a line from Las Vegas, Nev., thirty miles away, to the town, which Representative Swing said, probably will be named "Boulder City."

INGLEWOOD HAS CENSUS RECORD

had not been counted still remained unenumerated, according to their statements.

Another survey of a similar nature was undertaken by the Building Owners' and Managers' Association because its president, J. B. Van Nuys, believes that limitation by the Federal authorities of census work to residences might be responsible for the overlooking of a great many single young men and women whose hours of work or social activities have prevented the enumerators from making any contact with them. He realizes the census workers were barred by law from themselves visiting the places where these people work and it is his desire to have his association, through its members, find out the unenumerated and cause them to be counted.

As a preliminary step, three agents of the association canvassed six floors of the Subway Terminal Building and eight floors of the Western Pacific Building on Thursday and found that, of all the office employees asked, 5.7 per cent asserted that they have not yet been counted. Applying this figure to the estimated number of employees in all the downtown office buildings, it would mean that at least 2000 of these employees have not been counted, it was stated by Ross Grant, executive secretary of the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, who is in direct charge of the survey.

NAMES TO BE LISTED

Mr. Grant said yesterday that his association includes in its membership the owners or managers of 85 per cent of all the office and loft buildings in the downtown area and that he has sent a letter to each building manager to detail a man in his employ to canvass the building thoroughly and get the name and address of every person who asserts he or she has not been enumerated. These names and addresses will be turned over to the census authorities.

While it is likely, it was said yesterday by A. C. Munson, supervisor of the central census district, that it will be found that a number of the persons saying that they have not been counted have been enumerated through the agency of other members of their families, there are undoubtedly some persons who have not yet been reached by the census. He is appreciative, therefore, of the aid given by such surveys as that of the Chamber of Commerce and the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, but he suggested that such efforts can well be extended by employers seeing to it themselves that all their employees have been counted.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY SHOWS HEAVY LOSS

HERRIN (Ill.) May 2. (AP)—Williamson county, once called "bloody Williamson" because it was the center of union labor and gang warfare in Southern Illinois, has lost heavily in population in the last decade. All towns showed losses, but they were attributed mainly to a slackening in coal mining.

The four towns lost a total of 4448 inhabitants. Herrin lost 2041 and was displaced by Marion as the county's largest city. The figures gave Herrin 8945 and Marion 9016, the latter a loss of 566 from 1920. Johnston City has a population of 5941, a loss of 1196, and Carterville, 2759, a loss of 645.

GANDHI ARREST STILL AWAITED

All India Tense as Leader Continues at Large

Manifesto Issued to His Followers in Bombay

Terms for Continuing Into City Published

BOMBAY, May 2. (AP)—While Mahatma Gandhi was making known today the conditions under which he will agree to lead his civil resistance campaign in the City of Bombay, all India awaited tensely the arrest of "The Holy Man" which usually well-informed persons continued to insist must occur before another day was elapsed.

Conditions which the venerable leader announced he would exact from his followers as the price for continuing into the city were printed today by the "Bombay Congress Bulletin," an unregistered sheet published daily by the Bombay Provincial Congress committee. The conditions comprise: observance of complete discipline, a permanent pledge to wear homespun khaddar and the actual spinning with "takli," a miniature spinning wheel, for one hour daily.

"If Bombay produces 100,000 such men," the manifesto of Mahatma Gandhi concludes, "I should lead them without the slightest hesitation."

Commenting on this pronouncement, the Congress Bulletin, under the heading, "The Call of Mother India," says: "The number of Satyagraphis registered up to today at the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee quarters is 2442. The Mahatma wants 100,000."

There was little news from other centers. The only news received regarding the Peshawar area, toward which anxious eyes have been turned, is that it is understood Sir Horatio Bolton, chief of British commissioners in India, is returning from the northwest frontier province to England tomorrow, owing to ill health, and S. E. Pears, president of Mysore, will take his place.

area escaped. Nebraska, Minnesota, Northeast Kansas and Northwest Missouri were hardest hit by the erratic storms, but high winds, driving rain and lightning distributed destruction also over Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and the Dakotas.

The Tekamah tornado cut a wide path through the city to kill four and leave the streets choked with debris. Darkness followed with the failure of the electric light plant. Physicians and rescue workers toiled by candlelight and flashlights. Jackson and Homer, Neb., also were struck by the tornado.

The death at Lawton, N. D., was that of a farmer struck by lightning. A cloudburst, sending a wall of water down a ravine in which an automobile was stalled, caused the drowning of two women and a child at Lake City, Minn. At Duluth an automobile carrying two women skidded in the storm and they were killed.

BOY STRUCK DOWN

A boy ran before the tornado at Westby, Wis., was overtaken by it and buried as it leveled a near-by building. The wind blew down a tree at Rockford, Ill., and crushed a man in a parked automobile.

At Kickapoo, Kan., a farmer and his wife were carried a mile from their home by the tornado. Their bodies were found buried in soft earth. A woman was killed in the Russell, Iowa, tornado.

All four tornadoes left injured in their paths. At Russell all the members of a family of seven were injured severely.

Two of the Illinois deaths were considered aftermaths of the storm. Michael Keaty, an electrician, fell forty feet to his death while repairing a power wire in Cicero, a suburb of Chicago. Charles W. Barnett, 34 years of age, a truck driver of Des Moines, Iowa, drove into a blown-down power wire near Galesburg and was electrocuted.

Richard Shannon, 20, was crushed beneath his lake cottage near Antioch, Ill. He died shortly after he was taken to a hospital.

KANSAS AND MISSOURI AREAS SUFFER SEVERELY

KANSAS CITY, May 2. (AP)—Residents of five Northeast Kansas and twelve Northwest Missouri communities today viewed scenes of desolation in the wreckage strewn trail of tornadoes, which last night claimed the lives of seven persons, injured more than thirty others and caused property damage which officials estimated probably would reach $500,000.

Five persons were killed and fourteen others were injured seriously when a tornado sweeping a path 300 yards wide struck Norborne, Mo., shortly after 9 o'clock levelling twenty-five homes and other buildings.

The dead at Norborne:

Mrs. Gertrude Wright, 47 years of age, and her son, John Martin Wright, 17.

Charles Storm, a plumber.

Lillian Wells, 13, and her 5-year-old sister.

Near Kickapoo, Kan., Lawrence Kern, 55, a farmer, was killed, and his wife fatally injured. Mrs. Kern died today in a Leavenworth, Kan., hospital.

Relief workers discovered Kern's body and Mrs. Kern with their heads buried in soft earth on the farm of Ed Forge, a mile south of the Kern home.

The three Kern children, Wilhelmina, 17, John, 13, and Joseph, 10, were injured in the collapse of their home.

SOVIET-POLISH CONFLICT SEEN

France's Envoy to Moscow Tells Briand of Crisis

French Foreign Minister Will Keep Hands Off

Ambassador Not Expected to Resume His Post

PARIS, May 2. (Exclusive)—France is seriously alarmed at the serious situation which has arisen between Russia and Poland.

Ambassador Herbette, in the course of a conversation with Foreign Minister Briand the other day is said to have reported that grave trouble is brewing in the east, and advised M. Briand that if he wanted to avert a crisis he should instruct the Polish government to make a conciliatory reply to the irascible soviet note in regard to the bomb recently found in the Russian Embassy in Warsaw.

BRIAND FED UP

It is expected that the Polish reply, which will appear in a few days, will be very moderate, but it is doubted in some quarters if this is M. Briand's work. The reason for this, according to reliable information, is that M. Briand, despite his pacifistic inclinations, is about fed up on soviet intrigues.

The opinion of military circles here is that a Polish-Russian war would mean only one thing—the overthrow of the Bolsheviks in a few weeks. There is no reason to believe that this would cause the French to shed tears.

WILL NOT RETURN

France's own relations with Russia are not overly friendly at the present moment. It has been previously stated that Ambassador Herbette is not likely to return to Moscow, and it is now learned that two other diplomats have turned down the job of replacing him at Moscow.

It seems that M. Briand wanted Ambassador Herbette to return for a while at least, but the Ambassador is not willing. He declared that while he is willing to swallow the personal insult offered to him by Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, he sees no advantage, either political or economic, for France to have an Ambassador at Moscow.

In Seattle he was to call a meeting in March of all soviet representatives there to issue instructions for May Day outbreaks. Attached to the document is a list of twenty-five persons being sent from Russia to be distributed by Grafpen through New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, North and South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Michigan and Georgia.

Release of the documents today is generally understood to have been made by Whalen in explanation of his having marshalled an immense force of police yesterday to guard against disturbances at a May Day parade and demonstration by some 25,000 Communists. There were no disturbances.

SEATTLE AGENTS ACCUSE WHITE RUSSIANS

SEATTLE, May 2. (AP)—White Russians or other persons "jealous" of trade development between the United States and soviet Russia were accused by Seattle agents of the Amtorg Trading Corporation today of forging the documents made public in New York, purporting to show that that company is secretly active in fomenting riots in this country.

Mahatma Gandhi

"Persons in power should be very careful how they deal with a man who cares nothing for sensual pleasures, nothing for riches, nothing for comfort or praise or promotion, but is simply determined to do what he believes to be right. He is a dangerous and uncomfortable enemy — because his body which you can always conquer, gives you so little purchase upon his soul." Written about Gandhi by Gilbert Murray.

The story of the great Indian leader as related in his autobiography will be told by E. Burdette Backus, Sunday at 10:50 a.m. at the First Unitarian Church, West 8th street, east of Vermont.

DEVICES PROVIDED

Mechanical devices being provided to penetrate the ice above the submarine will not be needed, Dr. Sverdrup thinks. Although Sir Hubert believes the vessel will find open water at least every twenty-five miles, his batteries will carry him 125 miles without coming up for air.

An overhead trolley which will fly up through very thin ice and in open water, will indicate where the submarine can rise between the floes. But if the trolley finds no open space, a thin spot will be picked out by the amount of light that comes through the ice into the water below. The upward seventy-five-ton pressure of the submarine would then tear through. If this fails a circular saw will cut an opening, compressed air will blow away the loosed ice, electrical heating units will melt the ice, or drills will be used.

The object of the expedition will be to locate a permanent observation station several hundred miles off the coast of Alaska and to take magnetic observations in the vicinity of the pole.

POLAR STUDY TO GIVE BETTER WEATHER FORECASTS

WASHINGTON, May 2, (AP)—Better weather forecasts and radio reception may result from a year's international study of magnetic meteorological observations in the polar areas.

Capt. H. U. Sverdrup, noted Norwegian explorer, told members of the American Geophysical Union today that most of the nations are to participate in the simultaneous observations near both poles in 1932-33.

The undertaking will gather magnetic auroral and meteorological observations through a network of stations in the Arctic and Antarctic.

The international committee of meteorological directors expect the increased knowledge gained to be of practical application to problems connected with terrestrial magnetism, marine and aerial navigation, wireless telegraphy and weather forecasting.

The present magnetic charts north of the Arctic Circle, Sverdrup said, are based to a great extent upon observations which were taken in 1882-83 during the first international polar year.

The meteorological charts for that year have formed the basis of many notable studies in weather forecasting.

In the long period which has elapsed since the first polar year many new problems have arisen, Capt. Sverdrup said, requiring additional data for their solution while the instruments and methods of observation have greatly improved.

SOUTH WILL GET BACK CLOCK SEIZED IN WAR

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive) Eight business men of Attleboro, Mass., sailed for the south today on the Savannah steamer City of Montgomery to return an old clock, believed to have been seized by northern soldiers during the Civil War. The clock came into the hands of Edmond H. Gringras at an auction in Attleboro and inscriptions on the inside led to investigation and subsequent disclosure of its former owners.

Inside the clock are inscribed the words "taken from the plantation home of Hon. Thomas K. King, St. Simon's Island, St. Simon's Sound, Georgia." Below this was: "U. S. S. Ethan Allen on blockade, January 10, 1863."

Mr. Gringas traced the history of the clock and got in communication with Mrs. Virginia Lord King Heard of Brunswick, Ga., and later with other descendants.

CONFERENCE OF BANKERS CONCLUDED

Regulations for German Loan Agreed Upon But Conditions Not Disclosed

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

BRUSSELS, May 2. (Exclusive)—Having agreed for the most part on how they are going to handle the first German annuity loan, which, by the new theory of reparations embodied in the Young plan, will go to market like any commercial issue, the bankers of nine countries wound up conversations with each other and the International Bank people here today.

They were mum about the findings which will have to be obeyed by the representatives of the treasuries of the creditor countries in Paris on Monday and by the directors of the International Bank in Basel on the 12th inst. But it is understood that they are in accord except on the important matter of interest, which, it is expected, will only be settled at the last minute.

But the amounts floated by the several countries are fixed, more or less, although they will depend to some degree on later developments. The American market will be called on to take slightly less than 30 per cent of the $300,000,000 loan, or something in the vicinity of $90,000,000. In American circles close to the International Bank, it is considered that this finally refutes the charges heard in Congress that a vast proportion of the loan would be "dumped" in America.

"JOYRIDER" LEAPS FROM PLANE SEAT

Tuolumne Merchant Goes Up to Commit Suicide, Note Left Reveals

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (AP)—John Vucasovich, 38 years of age, Sonora, Tuolumne county, merchant, leaped 400 feet to his death near the municipal county airport at Mills Field today in a plane he had hired a short time before for a "joy ride."

Three minutes after the take-off, Vucasovich, sitting in the forward cockpit of the plane, released the safety belt, stood up and leaped into space. Pilot Walter D. Olson, watching but helpless to stop him, said it was all over so quickly he scarcely realized what was happening.

Vucasovich fell in a cow pasture about 500 yards from the airport.

In a small satchel he had brought to the airport was found a suicide note. It read:

"Dear wife: I am taking the best way out. I can't bear my sickness any more. Give my regards to papa, Andrew and Jennie. Love to you and the baby. Good-bye. John."

YOUNG ALL GROOMED TO START RACE

Governor to Announce His Candidacy Tuesday With Story of Official Record

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (Exclusive)—Gov. Young will announce his candidacy for re-election next Tuesday, according to authoritative information obtained today in Capitol circles.

The Governor's second term declaration has been prepared and now is in the hands of the printer. Copies will be put in the mail for newspapers late tomorrow or Sunday with a Tuesday release date.

It is understood the statement will contain between 800 and 1000 words and will be a recital of the accomplishments of the Young administration which went into power in January, 1927.

Campaign organizations will swing into action in Northern and Southern California with the announcement of the Governor's candidacy. Headquarters already have been rented in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Lady Heath Will Get Reno Decree

RENO, May 2. (AP)—Lady Mary Heath, British aviatrix, returned to Reno today from New York and other eastern cities where she was called by business and tomorrow will obtain her divorce from Sir James Heath, British iron master.

Sir James has not filed an answer to his wife's divorce complaint and the decree will go by default.

MISSOURI UNIVERSITY TEACHER IMPEACHED

KANSAS CITY, May 2. (AP)—Charges of insubordination against Dr. Max F. Meyer, recently reinstated head of the psychology department of the University of Missouri, were voted by the University Board of Curators here today. The impeachment resulted from Meyer's speech at Nashville, Tenn., two weeks ago attacking the methods of the board which suspended him one year for his part in the circulation of a sex questionnaire at the university last spring.

PARKER ISSUE STILL IN DOUBT

Court Confirmation Vote Expected by Tuesday

Norris Criticises Judiciary for Law Making

Fess Says Congress Should Clarify Questions

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—After a week of debate uncertainty still exists in the Senate tonight as to whether Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina will be confirmed as an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

The discussion was deferred until Monday with foes asserting they have the votes to defeat him. Eight members are conceded to be in the doubtful column, however, and friends of Parker express optimism.

A vote by Tuesday at the latest is in prospect. Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, leader of the opposition, said that if a vote had been taken tonight Parker would have been rejected.

In a three-hour attack which concluded the day's debate, Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, complained that the Federal judiciary is creating laws as well as interpreting them and cited several injunctions restraining laboring men.

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, who is leading the Parker forces, defended some of the injunctions complained of by Senator Norris without indorsing all of them. He argued that it was up to Congress to make the law or modify the law in order to guide the judiciary in this.

LEGGE RETURNS CHAMBER BLOW

National Body Accused of Animosity to Growers

Farm Board's Policies Will Continue, Says Head

Stinging Statement Issued in Reply to Attack

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Chairman Legge of the Farm Board said today the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in urging revision of the law under which the board operates is to make "the Farm Board impotent."

The chamber yesterday adopted a resolution which condemned policies of the board and in effect urged that its loans to co-operatives to aid in marketing commodities cease.

In a statement, Legge said the chamber proposed to "sponsor another national conference to adopt some more resolutions of sympathy for agriculture." He asserted the board intends to continue to serve the farmer.

He said the chamber's action "simply confirms what we told the membership of that organization Wednesday."

"They are for something to help the farmer only until they find out it works," he added.

"Our client is the farmer and we are going to continue to serve him just as the Agricultural Marketing Act intended we should—for his benefit; not the benefit of someone else."

Legge and Secretary Hyde criticised the Chamber of Commerce attitude toward the board in speeches before the chamber Wednesday.

LIQUOR DINNER BRINGS INQUIRY

Lobby Committee Hears Dry Foe Questioned

Asked as to Celebration for Presidential Aspirant

Letter Scoring Hoover Read Before Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Questioned before the Senate Lobby Committee concerning memoranda found in his correspondence files which mentioned gin, Scotch and other alcoholic beverages, William H. Stayton, chairman of the board of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, testified today that he had no "personal knowledge" that the liquor had been served at a dinner for a 1928 Presidential candidate.

This testimony resulted from questions by Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, the only wet member of the committee.

Blaine did not mention any Presidential candidate by name and did not specify where the dinner he had in mind was held.

"You have no personal knowledge that this may have been liquor that was served at a dinner given in celebration of a candidate for the Presidency of the United States?" Senator Blaine demanded.

"No, sir, I have not," Stayton replied. "I wasn't there."

LETTER SCORES HOOVER

A letter written by Stayton which said he knew that President Hoover "is not at heart a dry" also was read before the committee. The letter, written to Herbert L. Clark of Philadelphia, said in part:

"If he were sincerely a dry, one might hope to convince him by argument or statement of facts, but, as I know that he is not at heart a dry, I fear that I must approach the conclusion that he is a dry because of the prospective profit in votes and nothing that has to do with right and wrong or with facts will make any impression upon him."

Another version of President Hoover's attitude toward prohibition was given, however, in a letter written by Representative Peavy, Republican, Wisconsin, which said the Chief Executive is "so dry he squeaks."

Stayton was excused after his testimony today and the committee adjourned until Tuesday. It will then begin an investigation of dry organizations, inquiring first into the activities of the Anti-Saloon League.

GIN, SCOTCH, LIQUOR

Blaine questioned Stayton after Chairman Caraway of the committee had examined him concerning slips attached to correspondence referring to a speech former Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, was to deliver at the University Club in Baltimore in 1928. Stayton, a Democrat, had invited Wadsworth to speak at the dinner. The witness said he himself was prevented by illness from attending.

The slips mentioned gin, Scotch, liquor, "champ" and "verm." Stayton said he could not explain the memoranda.

"Have you any knowledge or information," Blaine asked, "as to whether or not the liquor that is listed on the loose slips here was served at a dinner evidently in celebration of a candidate for the Presidency of the United States, just prior to June 20, 1928?"

"I have no personal knowledge," Stayton replied.

"You have no personal knowledge?"

SAYS DINNER SERVED

"I was not present at such a dinner, sir."

"Was there such a dinner held?"

"Yes, there was such a dinner held."

"And you don't know whether or not the liquor listed on these loose slips was served at that dinner?"

"No, sir. I am not sure whether I understood your question. Does this relate to the Wadsworth matter?"

"I think," Blaine replied, "you have probably answered the question as best you can. I was just interested to know whether or not this liquor was purchased by your association for the purpose of serving it at a dinner in celebration of the nomination of a candidate for President, shortly before June 20, 1928, in connection with that method of lobbying."

"No, sir," Stayton said. "The association purchased no liquor. I can't imagine it did. It had nothing to do with a dinner."

Under direction of Dr. Charles H. Townsend of the New York Aquarium and the New York Zoological Society the expedition left Miami, Fla., March 22 for the Galapagos, where it collected the specimens with which it returned.

More than 7000 miles were covered by the yacht among the twelve islands of the Galapagos group. Several live specimens of the "testudo Porteri," which scientists believed extinct, were among the collection.

LAWYERS WET, TEACHERS DRY

"Literary Digest" Reports on Special Polls

Clergy Votes 34 Per Cent for Law's Repeal

Physicians and Bankers Run About Fifty-fifty

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive) The school-teachers of America are the driest and the lawyers are the wettest professional groups in America, according to the returns of the Literary Digest's special classified polls, as published in tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

The clergy of the entire country vote strongly for enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, although more than 34 per cent of this group favor a repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act, according to the votes received in this supplementary poll.

The bankers vote 34,518 for repeal and 35,210 for enforcement, with the balance of 15,096 voting for modification.

DOCTORS TIED

Practically one-half of the physicians vote for repeal in this poll, while 30 per cent favor strict enforcement and the other 20 per cent register their opinions for modification.

In the special poll of the Digest subscribers the vote of this group for repeal is practically the same ratio as that of the main prohibition poll, but the vote for enforcement is considerably higher, while the percentage for modification lags behind the tabulations in the 20,000,000 ballot poll.

In the poll of nearly 500,000 educators the vote for enforcement is higher, 60 per cent, than that of the dryest State in the main poll, Kansas, and the vote for repeal is less than 25 per cent of the educators' total vote.

MODIFIERS LOSING

More than 55 per cent of the votes in the lawyers' poll are for repeal, while the returns for enforcement are under 30 per cent.

The Digest states they have augmented their huge nation-wide poll with these six supplementary polls of the bankers, clergy, educators, lawyers, physicians and Literary Digest subscribers because these special classes touch the national life in six vital and different ways.

Whereupon friends of Miss Durand who had witnessed her long leap in Minneapolis some time ago prevailed on her to put the eastern girl, Miss Frances Rees of New York, in her place.

Miss Durand, who formerly lived in Minneapolis, now is employed as an office clerk in Chicago.

TULLOCH CASE JURY DISMISSED

Second Manslaughter Trial of Bay City Radio Man Ends in Deadlock

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (AP)—The second manslaughter trial of Laurence P. Tulloch, young radio studio employee in whose apartment here last year Mrs. Gertrude Hawkins Lavine, divorcee, was shot to death, ended as did the first in a disagreement tonight when the jury was discharged after deliberating for more than seven hours.

The jury reported itself split with four men and two women for acquittal and the other members, including three women, for conviction.

Deliberations were begun at 2:20 p.m. and three hours later the foreman sent word to Judge Trabucco that the jury was hopelessly deadlocked and he "might as well send us home." The jurist decided further discussion might result in a verdict and directed a bailiff to take the jury to dinner. The panel returned at 7:30 o'clock and resumed deliberations.

Tulloch contended Mrs. Lavine shot herself while he was in another room of this Telegraph Hill apartment last November 21.

Yen Calls People's Congress to Meet Within Month

PEIPING (China) May 2. (AP)—Peiping, so named by its Nanking conquerors who divested it of its centuries-old glory, will once again be called Peking, this time by its new and northern conquerors, who established themselves there recently without shedding a drop of blood.

Dr. Tchou Gao Hsiang, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs for Yen Hsi Shan, sometimes known as the "model" Governor of Shansi Province, announced the change today in Yen's behalf, and said that Peking, Peiping, or Peping, as it now is variously known, will resume as capital of United China.

CONGRESS CALLED

Yen has called a "people's congress" which will meet here within the month to establish a new government, which Yen will head, and which will have, it was announced, Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang as commander of the military. Wang Chin Wei, leader of the left wing of the Kuomintang, or people's party of the Nanking government, will arrive here from the south within a week to become head of the political party which will sponsor the new government.

ALSO "NATIONALISTS"

The new regime will have the name "Nationalist government of China," which, oddly enough, is the name usually applied to the government at Nanking which Chiang Kai Shek heads. Tchou, in making his announcement, made it plain that Yen considered Chiang's government entirely illegal.

Delegates for Yen's congress are already arriving in Peiping, or Peking. Tchou explained that probably only fourteen provinces—including Mongolia and Tibet there are twenty-two Chinese provinces—would be represented. Soon after the congress, it was said, Yen will issue a manifesto to the world explaining the purpose of his move and asking recognition of foreign powers.

VOTES TIED ON RAILROAD MERGER BAN

Senate I.C.C. Committee Splits on Bill to Curb Rail Consolidations

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—By a tie vote the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today ordered reported to the Senate the Couzens resolution curbing railroad consolidations, but whether the report will be favorable or adverse hinged tonight on a roll of the other six committee members.

Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, author of the resolution and chairman of the committee, said he will report the resolution to the Senate on Monday and he predicted the final roll of the committee on it would be "at least a tie—9 to 9."

Couzens hoped, however, for committee approval, as he said of the six absentees two were still undecided tonight but both, he believed, favored the resolution. One was definitely against, he added, one probably would be against and two are on record as favoring the measure. The committee chairman declined to identify the votes.

The resolution suspends the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission until March 4, 1931, to approve or authorize any consolidations or unifications except in conformity with provisions the measure would lay down.

State Rests in Oakland Graft Charge Trials

OAKLAND, May 2. (AP)—The prosecution rested in two Superior Court trials here today of persons indicted by the Alameda county grand jury on charges of conspiracy and bribery.

In the trial of former City Commissioner Parker, Ray C. Lamberson, Parker's former secretary, and John Garbutt, former paving promoter, the people rested after calling William H. Ford, Niles and San Francisco gravel dealer, who went on bond for the Excelsior-avenue improvements in 1928.

Theater Chain Changes Hands

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Outright purchase of fifty-eight motion-picture houses from Michael E. Comerford, Pennsylvania theater man, by the Paramount-Publix Theaters Corporation for a consideration reported nearly $20,000,000 was announced here today.

Through the deal Paramount-Publix not only acquires complete control of the fifty-eight houses located in twenty-five towns and cities in Pennsylvania, but also gains an interest Comerford formerly held in several theaters in New York State.

Earl of Derby Given Welcome

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—The Seventeenth Earl of Derby arrived on the Aquitania tonight for a visit to the United States and especially to see for the first time the Kentucky horse race classic which was named after his family.

Lord Derby was welcomed at quarantine by Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen, George F. Mand of the Mayor's committee, and J. E. Widener, sportsman, from Philadelphia.

CISCO (Tex.) May 2. (Exclusive) Mrs. Robert Quincy Lee, widow of the Representative in Congress from the Seventeenth Texas District, who died recently, has emulated several other Congressional widows by filing for election to her late husband's seat but she has also announced that she does not intend to stay in Congress more than part of a term if elected. Mrs. Lee is a prominent club woman and has reared five children, two of her own and three of Mr. Lee's by a former marriage.

DEFICIENCY FUND ASKED BY HOOVER

Nearly Six Millions for Justice, Postoffice and Army Needs Wanted

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—President Hoover called upon Congress today to make available quickly almost $6,000,000 to cover deficiencies in government departments. Of the requests $1,374,053 will go to the Justice Department.

Other items included $100,000 for an army post in Arizona to house Federal prisoners.

The estimates included $695,757 for the War Department, of which $500,000 is to be expended for army subsistence, the deficiency being created by higher ration costs.

Another estimate of $2,778,262 was made for the Postoffice Department. Of this $1,700,000 is to cover a deficiency in the contract air-mail service and $1,000,000 for special delivery fees.

The balance of the postoffice estimate was for miscellaneous purposes.

The allotment includes Pacific Branch, Santa Monica, Cal., $145,000.

President Hoover today also requested Congress to appropriate immediately a second $250,000 for the Law Enforcement Commission's expenses.

Mr. Hoover said the additional $250,000 was needed to continue during the fiscal year 1931, the inquiry into the problem "of enforcement of the prohibition laws of the United States, together with the enforcement of other laws."

Morrow Stays in Capital to Explain Treaty

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—The Washington Post says that Secretary Stimson has decided to retain the services of Dwight W. Morrow, retiring American Ambassador to Mexico, until the Senate has concluded its discussion on the London naval treaty.

Ambassador Morrow, who was a delegate to the London conference, is to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in its hearings on the treaty and may also testify before the naval committee in the same connection.

Ambassador Morrow is a candidate for Senator from New Jersey and it has been indicated that the Governor of that State will soon appoint him to that office.

MIAMI (Fla.) May 2. (AP)—Efforts of Al (Scarface) Capone, Chicago racketeer, and his wife, Mae Capone, to halt padlock proceedings instituted some time ago against their home, were blocked today by Judge Barns of Criminal Court, who overruled demurrers to the action by Capone's attorneys. Judge Barns ruled that the case inaugurated by State's Attorney Hawthorne must go to trial unless further pleas filed within ten days are successful.

FACILITY STUDY URGED ON WEST

Survey of Advantages for Manufacturing Vital

Few Communities Able to Present Needed Facts

Industrial Conference Told Shortcomings by Official

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (Exclusive)—Western States have much to offer manufacturing enterprises but there still is a great deal to be done perfecting the machinery of essential knowledge for those who would locate here. Such was the keynote of the western industrial conference which began sessions today at the St. Francis with representatives of eleven western States, Hawaii and Alaska present.

George C. Smith, manager of the Industrial Club of St. Louis, chairman of the industrial division of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, who is credited with fathering the present meeting, said most communities lack the facts most likely to interest the manufacturer.

He advocated bureaus of survey to compile data on all lines of manufacturing, showing costs of material, raw and semiraw; skilled and common labor supply and costs; power, its kind and availability; water supply and coal; marketing conditions; waste disposal; warehousing; land costs, taxes, climate and living conditions.

William H. Daum, Los Angeles, president of the California Real Estate Association, emphasized the importance of Smith's recommendations and analysis of the situation.

The compilation of such information, he said, might save the factory owner from ruin in many instances.

P. G. Spilsbury, president of the Arizona industrial conference, which he organized in 1921, declared the State was in a financial slump at that time but that co-operation of all lines of economic endeavor had remedied the situation to the point where the organization was able to distribute $31,000,000 of new business to Arizona industries in 1929.

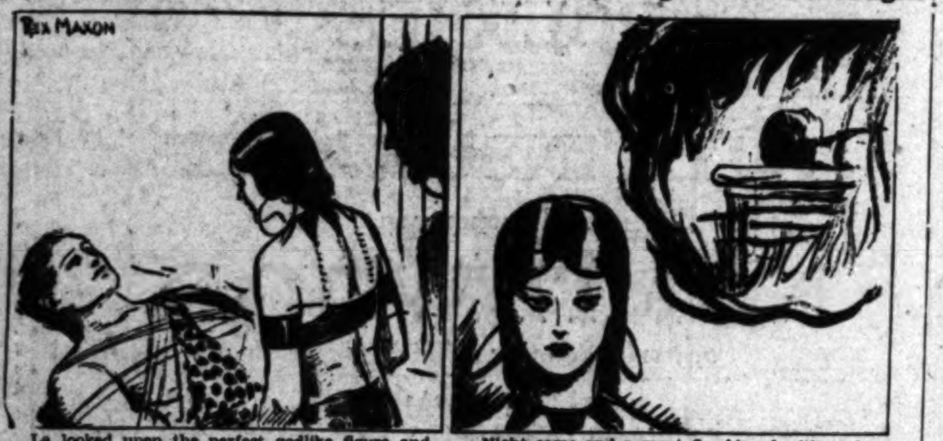
TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



La looked upon the perfect godlike figure and upon his handsome, smiling face. Then she steeled her heart again by thoughts of her love spurned; by religious thoughts that condemned the infidel who had desecrated the holiest of holies and taken from the blood-stained altar of Opar the offering to the Flaming God. How handsome he was to her eyes! She compared him to those grotesque figures from whom she must choose a mate. La shuddered.

Night came and a great fire blazed without her hut. The flames playing upon the new altar she had caused to be erected aroused in the mind of the High Priestess a picture of the event of the coming dawn. Mentally she saw Tarzan writhing amid the flames of the burning pyre; she saw the shock of black hair tousled upon his head disappear in a spurt of flame. With clenched fists and closed eyes La of Opar stood above the object of her hate.

Then into her woman's heart welled all the great love she had felt for Tarzan since first she had seen him. Suddenly a sob shook her and she collapsed weakly. She knew that this handsome infidel whom she loved was dearer to her than life, and she was ready to do anything to protect him from the hideous fate she had ordained for him. Trembling, she dreamed of the forbidden love until sleep released her from her anguish.

Tarzan, untroubled by thoughts of the future, slept peacefully. At the first hint of dawn the chanting of the priests of Opar brought Tarzan to wakefulness. La awoke also. A smile parted her lips. It faded slowly; her eyes went wide in horror as she heard the death chant. "Love me, Tarzan!" she cried. "Love me and you will be saved." Now the low tones of the chanting rose to a frenzy of barbaric shouting.

GIRLS INVITED TO CAMPUS

Pomona College Planning May Masque

Jean Pitzer McBurney, Gymkhana Leader

She is in charge of equestrienne feature of Annual Women's Day and May Masque at Pomona College, to be held next Saturday. The gymkhana is sponsored by the Sigma Sigma Riding Club. More than 1000 visitors are expected to attend the Masque and other events.

CLAREMONT, May 2.—High-school girls from scores of California schools, with their parents and friends, as well as friends of Pomona College, will throng the local campus Saturday for the annual Women's Day and May Masque. More than a thousand visitors are expected to be present for some or all of the events.

The May Masque at 8 p.m. in the Open-air Theater is the crowning event of the day. Seats for 4000 persons are provided. The Masque is directed by Miss Mary Blaisdell, drama coach, and Miss Bernice Van Gelder, of the physical education department.

The Masque is a dancing pageant set to music. It is an adaptation and elaboration of an old fairy tale and is called "The Twelve Dancing Princesses." Large dancing choruses are employed and more than 175 girls will take part.

To meet the demands of the presentation the pit of the theater has been transformed into a pool with a bridge crossing it. The costume effects are elaborate and artistic. Special lighting will be employed on the natural outdoor stage.

The program of events is announced as follows: 1 p.m., athletic events; 2:15 p.m., gymkhana; 2 to 5 p.m., tea in Harwood Court Dormitory for Girls; 4:15, hour of music, Bridges Hall; 5:30 p.m., supper dansant and crowning of the May Queen; 8 p.m., May Masque.

Athletic department exhibits will include archery, riflery, tennis, Danish gymnastics and folk dancing. The gymkhana is sponsored by Sigma Sigma Riding Club and is in charge of Jean Pitzer McBurney. It will be held in a new riding ring erected north of the Scripps College campus.

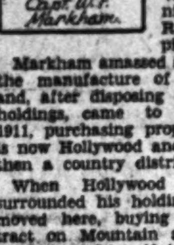
A complete program of musical numbers has been arranged for the hour of music and the supper dansant will feature the crowning of the May Queen, whose identity is never known until that time. The Queen is chosen by vote of women students several weeks before the ceremony and it remains a secret until that time. This year's ceremony will be in old English style.

Principals parts in the May Masque, which will be enacted in the evening, are taken by Marjorie Miller of Los Angeles, Thais Schofield of Glendale, Alice Randall of Glendale, Ruth Musgrove of Long Beach, Mildred Johnston of Colorado, Betty Williams of La Verne, Della Belknap of Colusa, Harriet MacLaurin of Long Beach, Marie Taylor of Los Angeles, Gertrude Shepperson of Ontario and Gertrude Withington of Texas. The pageant was written by Gracia Boynton and Elizabeth Brogdon and managed by Virginia Rockwell.

AIR RIFLE INVENTOR SUCCUMBS

Funeral Services for W. F. Markham of Glendale to be Conducted Wednesday

GLENDALE, May 2.—Funeral services for W. F. Markham, 79 years of age, said to have been the inventor of the air rifle and founder of the Markham Air Rifle Company at Plymouth, Mich., will be conducted here Wednesday afternoon at the Keifer and Eyrick Chapel, it was announced today. He died Wednesday night at the Research Hospital here.



Capt. W.F. Markham.

Markham amassed a fortune from the manufacture of the air rifle and, after disposing of his eastern holdings, came to California in 1911, purchasing property at what is now Hollywood and Vine streets, then a country district.

When Hollywood development surrounded his holdings, Markham moved here, buying a seven-acre tract on Mountain avenue, where he devoted himself to the cultivation of flowers.

A curious fact about the man who invented the air rifle is that he was a lover of birds and encouraged them to make their homes on his estate.

He built the Markham Building at Cosmo street and Hollywood Boulevard, which was for several years the largest block in Los Angeles, and at one time owned approximately 100 parcels of land in and around Los Angeles.

His only official position was onetime president of the village of Plymouth.

Markham was born in England in 1851. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Blanche Shortman Markham; a daughter, Mrs. Maude O'Brien of Detroit; a son, Leigh H. Markham of Baltimore, Mich., and a sister, Louise Markham, Detroit.

Meyer Makes Entry in Race

SOUTH GATE, May 2. — Official entry for the 500-mile classic at Indianapolis on Memorial Day has been made by Louie Meyer, according to his father, Edward Meyer of this city. Meyer, winner of the 500-mile race in the Hoosier city last year, and also in 1928, has a $20,000 racing car which he has entered and which is said to be one of the outstanding speed cars ever constructed in America.

This will be the first race in seven years in which the rules require the driver to be accompanied in the contest with a mechanic, and Meyer has announced that Alden Sampson of Tippecanoe City, O., will be his companion in this race. Two years ago Sampson gave Meyer the necessary financial backing, it is stated, making it possible for his entrance in automobile racing in a big way.

Meyer's father expects to leave here about the middle of the present month for Indianapolis, and will probably be accompanied by Mrs. Meyer, who has never yet seen a big automobile race.

MUTE VENTURAN REGAINS SPEECH

Masters Artificial Larynx Made by Phone Company

Alhambran Also Tries Out Similar Contraption

Device of No Value in Case of Lost Hearing

VENTURA, May 2.—Believed to be the first person in Southern California to talk with an artificial larynx, Jere F. Calef, 305 Park Row, this city, has been practicing with such a device since last fall, it was disclosed today, and has succeeded in practically overcoming the misfortune caused by an operation on his throat several years ago.

This is an experimental device developed by the Bell Telephone Company to restore speech to mute persons, and was presented to Calef by Morton Bidlake, former telephone company manager here, now with the Southern California Telephone Company in Los Angeles.

A similar instrument, but embodying a different principal in construction, also is being used by Louis Veinberg, 1809 South Sixth street, Alhambra, according to local telephone officials.

According to M. L. Stannard, division manager of the Southern California company, the artificial larynx is a by-product of telephone research work, and is loaned for life to those unfortunates whose physical condition makes its use necessary. The apparatus is not useful to persons who can neither speak nor hear; only to those who can hear, and who have lost the use of the natural voice.

The telephone company is anxious to have people know about this development of its laboratories, Stannard said, so that everyone who has need of it will have an opportunity to be benefitted. The larynx is still in a development stage and cannot be purchased from the company. It provides a new passage for the air stream from the lungs to the mouth, and introduces a vibratory element in it. Persons who have lost their voice accidentally or as the result of an operation can, in many cases, learn to use the device, it was said.

BLISS WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

Estate Roughly Estimated at $1,000,000 Left By Aged Montecito Resident

SANTA BARBARA, May 2.—An estate roughly estimated at $1,000,000 was left by Francis Bliss, aged Montecito resident who died last Wednesday, to his widow and second wife, Edith Cecily Bliss; his infant daughter, Enid Frances Bliss, and his two sons, Arthur Edward and James Howard Bliss, according to the will filed for probate here. The law firm of Heaney, Price & Postal filed the will.

He left his famous art gallery, reported to be worth $150,000, including a complete Legros' collection, to his two sons, giving, however, to his wife several of her favorite statues, art pieces and Japanese prints. He provided for the immediate payment of $10,000 to her and for an allowance of $2000 a month until a trust fund of $200,000 is set for her.

He gave each of his sons $10,000 in cash, made a number of minor crash bequests and providing for $500,000 trust for his 11-year-old daughter.

He made a special provision in the will that Mrs. Bliss could not employ a certain nurse whom he thought was too lax and too easy with his infant daughter, on penalty of being cut off in his will, "as if she were dead."

The two sons who are half-brothers of Enid were made her guardians. The little girl is not to have more than $10,000 a year until she is 21 years of age.

His step-children, the offspring of his wife, Marjorie Patrick and Frederick Patrick Henry Mahoney, were remembered with $5000 each. The servants also were given small sums by the will.

Huge Shipment of Sheep Sent

VENTURA, May 2. — About 11,000 sleek and well fattened sheep, housed in thirty-four Southern Pacific freight cars, left the Canada Larga ranch of Ed Canet this morning for their home in Arizona.

The sheep were shipped here early this year to be fattened. The first load to make the return trip left last week, the same number as departed today. It required the combined efforts of two locomotives to pull the thirty-four heavily loaded cars down the Ojai branch of the Southern Pacific System.

THIRD GENERATION TAKES UP BUSINESS

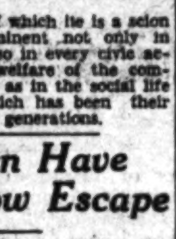
Wilbur W. Brown

INGLEWOOD, May 2.—The third successive generation of one Inglewood family is attesting to that family's confidence in the stability of business in Inglewood.

W. G. BROWN

Wilbur W. Brown, son of W. G. Brown, well-known banker and capitalist, and grandson of the late C. H. Brown, a pioneer banker of the Centinella Valley, has just opened offices here for the conduct of a real estate business, in which both his father and grandfather were active. Each of the elder Browns made a signal success of realty enterprises in this city, before becoming bankers and builders. In 1905 C. H. Brown organized the First State Bank of Inglewood, of which he was president.

His son, W. G. Brown, was the first cashier, and on the death of Brown, Sr., became president. This bank is today a unit of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles system. W. G. Brown is the Inglewood vice-president of the bank. Building activities of the Brown family locally include the construction of thirty-four store buildings and many other types of structure.



C. H. BROWN

"It is because I know Inglewood," said Wilbur W. Brown, who is now launching into the real estate business, "and because my father and my grandfather both tried Inglewood and did did not find it wanting, that I feel this is where I am best justified in looking for a successful future.

"I hope to carry on here, and to have a part in the substantial growth which has always characterized Inglewood. I am certain the future will bring even greater development than the remarkable past of this city."

Wilbur Brown, who is a graduate of Inglewood Union High School, was a star of that school's football team, and he also played on the University of Southern California team, he being a well-known varsity player there during his undergraduate years.

The family of which he is a scion has been prominent not only in business but also in every civic activity for the welfare of the community, as well as in the social life of the city which has been their home for three generations.

Children Have Narrow Escape

SANTA BARBARA, May 2.—Fire at 12:45 a.m. today destroyed a home at 624 West Carrillo street, occupied by Mrs. Maria Breck and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haynes and their six children.

Everything in the house was destroyed and Fire Chief A. H. Cooley reported five of the children escaped with nothing but the pajamas they had on in bed.

The fire started in a woodbox in the kitchen.

TREES IN CONTROVERSY DIE

Four Old Eucalypti on Lomita Avenue in Glendale, Around Which Battle for Their Preservation Raged, Defunct Now, and Being Carted Away

GLENDALE, May 2.—The four great eucalyptus trees on Lomita avenue, around which a civic controversy raged all too keenly two years ago, are dead. One has been hauled away by the City Park Department, two are lying on the street, and the fourth will be removed as soon as the workmen can clear away the two that are now impeding the way.

So bitter was the battle over the preservation of the trees when the City Council sought to widen Lomita street, that a court injunction was obtained preventing their removal, and the struggle even entered into a municipal election that was held shortly after the question of their removal first arose.

Now they are dead, and the City Park Department is carting them away, as the court injunction does not affect the plans of the department to clear away dead trees from the streets and parkways.

Student Union Building May be Temporary

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—Possibilities of a temporary student union building at the new San Diego State College were presented at the student council meeting today by Alvah Deweese, chairman of the student union committee. Prices of already-constructed buildings on the grounds which could be remodeled for student quarters were quoted by Deweese. Plans for a temporary student union structure are also now being drawn by an architect. The proposed structure will consist of a cafeteria seating 200, a bookstore and a soda fountain. The features of the architect's plans will be the economy of construction and the beauty of the product. A letter has been sent to the State Board of Education inquiring whether it will be possible to lease college land for use by the Associated Students. The report, together with the architect's drawings and more information collected by the student union committee, will be made public at a later date.

Members of the student union committee are Alvah Deweese, Edith Jessop and Robert Barbour.

Mother Given Judgment for Death of Son

RIVERSIDE, May 2.—Deliberating two hours, a jury in Superior Judge Freeman's court today gave the Zurich Insurance Company and the mother of the late Frank Darcy a judgment of $15,000 against the Coachella Valley Telephone and Telegraph Company for negligence resulting in the death of Darcy beneath the wheels of a hay-truck trailer.

Darcy was dragged off a load of hay on July 13, 1928, by a low-hanging telephone wire. He met instant death, suffering a crushed skull. Attorneys Kearney of Los Angeles and Welch of Riverside represented the plaintiffs. Attorney Yager of Indio defended the telephone company. The case has been in court here three days.

Minimum height of telephone wires, "horse sense" that hay truckers would use in loading baled hay, customs of truck "swampers" in sitting or reclining on tops of loads, and many other factors played important parts in the three days of evidence developed by the legal array.

Darcy, the sole support of his widowed mother and small children, was employed as a helper on a truck of the E. S. Smith Company of Wilmington. The truck had been loaded in the Coachella Valley with a maximum load of alfalfa and a trailer had been loaded with the same amount of cargo.

MISSING TRUCK DEALER JAILED

William Wolff Ross Arrested in Toronto, Canada

Asserted Swindler of Santa Ana Waives Extradition

Tip to Sheriff and Phone to Wife Locates Him

SANTA ANA, May 2.—William Wolff Ross, missing truck dealer, wanted here on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check for $8022 to the Federal Finance Company and said to have perpetrated a $300,000 swindle on financial institutions in Southern California, was arrested late last night in Toronto, Can., and has waived extradition, expressing willingness to return and face the charge.

The check charge will be supplemented by at least one charge of forgery in connection with Ross's operations with contracts of sale in Orange county and in Long Beach, police declared today.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan sent a telegram to Toronto police last night which resulted in the arrest of Ross at the fashionable King Edward Hotel where he was living under the name of Louis Brown. Jernigan expected to leave tomorrow noon with Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West, Jr., for the Canadian city to return Ross.

Two weeks of uneventful search for the missing truck dealer came to a sudden climax last night. A tip from an unrevealed source in Los Angeles yesterday informed the Sheriff's office that Ross was likely to be in Toronto. This tip was verified when Ross at 10 o'clock last night, tried to get into long-distance communication with Mrs. Ross here. The Sheriff's office immediately sent a wire to the Toronto police and within an hour Chief Constable D. C. Draper of Toronto had Ross in jail.

Kissing Denied but It Costs Man "Plenty"

VENTURA, May 2. — The kiss that John Kastman of Ventura assertedly took by force from the lips of a pretty waitress yesterday afternoon cost him exactly $50 in City Court this morning.

According to the story of Rachel Wallace, of the Brew Inn Cafe, Kastman leaned over the counter and administered an osculatory salute much to her surprise and indignation. She called police.

Kastman denied the charge but received a suspended sentence of twenty-five days and $50 from Judge Thomas Mallandt.

Seven Freight Cars Derailed; Three Upset

SANTA ANA, May 2.—Seven freight cars loaded with oranges and lemons were derailed on the Santa Fe railroad line at Venta, several miles south of Tustin, early today and resulted in a temporary halt of all traffic over the lines, including several trains connecting with the company's transcontinental limiteds. Service was resumed this afternoon.

No one was hurt, although the track was torn up for a short distance and three fruit express cars overturned.

Railroad officials who supervised the work of clearing the track said that the cause of the derailment had not been determined. Trainmen expressed the opinion that a defective truck near the head of the fast freight had given away and caused the cars just behind to leave the tracks.

TRACT PURCHASE FOR PLAYGROUND URGED

TORRANCE, May 2.—Plans for the purchase of the two-and-one-half-acre tract on Carson street between the American Legion clubhouse and Plaza De Amo as a public playground, have been formulated by the Chamber of Commerce. The purchase price of a little less than $15,000 is to be met from the promotion fund of the chamber over a four-year period, without additional cost to the taxpayers. The tract is heavily wooded and will be in charge of the city street department.

WORK ON RIVER SIGHTED

Protection Along Santa Clara, Costing $400,000, Expected to Start Within Thirty Days

SANTA PAULA, May 2. (Exclusive)—As soon as the legal knots are untangled, the contract under which construction work for Santa Clara River protection will be done, will be ready, advertising for bids for the work will be done, and the work, which is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $400,000, will get under way. It is expected that construction will start within the next thirty days unless unforeseen difficulties arise.

At a meeting in Los Angeles yesterday attended by A. F. Walden, manager of the local branch of the Security First National Bank, plans for the work were considered.

The work, which will be done under the jurisdiction of the Ventura County Restoration Committee, will include the erection of check dams, building of jetties, dredging, driving of piles and other construction work, to make the property along the river from Piru to the ocean free from floods.

There will be twenty-one units in the job, and contracts for each of these units may be made separately or as a whole. Each contractor will be called upon to post 25 per cent bond as security of good faith.

The Security First National Bank is to act as a mediator for the county, holding in escrow all the funds for the construction work until it has been completed to the satisfaction of all parties.

At the present time, the only matter that is causing any delay is the framing of the legal language of the contract under which the contractors and bank will work. This is expected to be finished in the near future, so that advertising for bids on the work can start.

COLIMA IN OPEN-AIR SHOW

Benny Miller Featured on Program

Benny Miller and Bert Colima

CARLO CURTIS, who for several years has been running boxing on a small scale in Los Angeles, goes after bigger game tonight when he offers an attractive fight card for his initial open-air show at White Sox Park.

It's quite a leap from Curtis's little arena at the Main-street Club to the wide open spaces of the Hooper-avenue ball yard, but the "boy promoter" is confident of chalking up a winner in his first venture.

Bert Colima, the perennial Mexican middleweight, goes to the post with Cowboy Ray Still of Oklahoma in one ten-rounder while the second half of the main event shows Benny Miller, young knockout "Phenom" in action against Rudy Mendez, El Paso 152-pounder, in another ten.

Colima, who has never fared any too well against body punchers, meets a specialist at this style in the person of Still. The Oklahoma middle is rated as a tough gent among the best of the 160-pounders and includes in his calling list Dave Shade, K. O. Eddie Roberts, and Jack Willis.

Still has shown well in the gymnasium. He has been concentrating on the torso pummeling and has been giving his sparring mates plenty of trouble.

Colima is anxious to win impressively tonight, the main reason being a flattering offer for three bouts in Mexico City this month.

Almost as much attention will be centered in the appearance of young

"STRONG BOYS" TO MEET TODAY

Rothert, Krenz and Brix to Hold Duel of Muscles

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (AP)—Should Atlas, Hercules and Samson turn up here tomorrow even these early time "strong boys" would have to put on an unusually snappy act to compare with the keen competition promised when three modern counterparts come together in the shotputting event of the annual Pacific Association track-and-field meet.

HERMAN BRIX

For the fourth time this year, Harlow Rothert and Eric Krenz of Stanford University and Herman Brix of the Los Angeles Athletic Club will rub elbows in a tri-cornered duel of muscles. These big friendly enemies have been throwing strikes with the sixteen-pound ball out around the fifty-two-foot mark for several weeks. Those who knew their shotputs will not be surprised if at any time the present world's record of 52ft. 11-16in., held by John Kuck of Kansas, is bettered.

Rothert and Brix are the real rivals with Krenz trailing but

SONNENBERG TO QUIT IF UPSET

Mat Champion Threatens to Wind Up Career

Claims Wrestling Toughest of All Sports

Says He Could Break Carnera in Half Easily

BY FRANK ROCHE

Characterizing the modern wrestling game as the toughest of all sports, Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, world's mat champion, declared yesterday that he would quit for keeps if he loses his title Monday night at Wrigley Field to Everett Marshall.

EVERETT MARSHALL.

"Why a boxer's life is a pipe dream compared with that of a wrestler," Sonnenberg stated. "For instance I could take Primo Carnera, the biggest of the present-day heavyweight fighters, and break him in two in a rough-and-tumble match inside of a few minutes. Yet nearly every wrestling match I engage in takes more than an hour of intensive effort before a decisive verdict can be reached," the mat king declared.

SPORT CHANGETH

Wrestling, like other things, has changed with the times, Sonnenberg believes. "It is no longer the old tugging and pulling stuff. Today it is speed and go," the champion said with emphasis on the word speed. Sonnenberg pointed out that the span of a wrestler's life in competition has been cut in half in the last few years. Where a wrestler use to compete for twenty years he now is all washed up inside of ten, the titleholder claims.

"The public demands action and lots of it. As a result the old method of wrestling has passed out of vogue. It is now rough and tumble. Each match takes so much out of a man, too. I know I lack some of the sip I had when I first started in the game but I make up for that in craftiness." Sonnenberg pointed out that he tried to outthink an opponent now instead of wasting too much of his strength blasting into him.

"A good wrestler today has to be able to take a good deal of punishment as well as give it. That's the reason the old familiar faces are fading from the game. They can't stand the gaff," he said.

If a wrestler hasn't got the pep and the snap the fans won't go him, Sonnenberg believes. His flying tackle, although unorthodox, brought results. Marshall's airplane spin is another new hold that came with the new vogue in wrestling, the champion claims.

EXPECTS TO WIN

"I expect to beat Marshall Monday in straight falls but if I lose I am through," Sonnenberg declared. The champion believes he has a defense for the airplane spin but he refuses to divulge just what it is. Sonnenberg wrestled two hours last week in Boston against George Zaranoff. He has trained lightly since coming here on Thursday and believes he will be in tiptop shape for a slam-bang affair with the challenger.

"All I want Marshall to do is to open up and then we will have some real fun. The rougher it gets

FIRST NIGHT BALL GAME VIEWED BY 11,000 FANS

DES MOINES (Iowa) May 2. (AP) Baseball can be played as well under artificial lights at night as under the rays of the sun in broad daylight.

Des Moines and Wichita of the Western League, opening the baseball season tonight, demonstrated that fact convincingly, but to the baseball executives of a score or more clubs who viewed the spectacle, for it was none less, there arose the question: "Will the baseball public take to it?"

Upon the answer to that problem, an answer which none dared to give until the venture has passed the experimental stage and become a fixture, depends the future of baseball by artificial lighting.

Des Moines won tonight's game, 13 to 6, but that is incidental. Sparkling fielding, fine hitting, good pitching—elements

BOBBY JONES WANTS TO ENTER DOUG FAIRBANKS IN TOURNEY

ABOARD S.S. MAURETANIA, May 2. (AP)—Nets were stretched on the boat deck today and members of the Walker Cup team practiced golf shots. Capt. Bobby Jones spent much of the second day out trying to persuade Douglas Fairbanks, to play in the British amateur championship.

"It's a cinch to get you into it," said Jones.

"And a cinch to get me out of it," replied Fairbanks, "What I am going over for is not to play golf, but to watch you play."

LAMAR SHADES M'DONALD

Johnny Wins Close Decision at Hollywood Arena to Claim Coast Synthetic Lightweight Title

Johnny Lamar won the synthetic Pacific Coast lightweight championship at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium last night by defeating Hector McDonald in a very close fight. Referee Abe Roth pulled some might fine hairs in awarding the battle to Lamar, ringsiders declaring that a draw wouldn't have been amiss.

There were no knockdowns during the affair. McDonald took the first two sessions, with Lamar having an edge in the middle rounds. McDonald came back to take the eighth and ninth, while Lamar rallied to win the tenth. The local Mexican boxer was the aggressor all the way, doing most of his damage at close quarters, with damaging short rights and uppercuts. McDonald tallied most of his points on counter-punches.

Johnny Lamar

Joe Wilson, subbing for Harry Decker, took a six-round decision over Teddy Palacios in the semi-wind-up. Palacios was on the floor twice in the second round. He made a nice comeback from then on but not enough to offset the knockdowns.

Tommy Huffman and Frankie Bray battled to a draw in the six-round special event. The decision was very unpopular with the fans, who figured Huffman had an edge.

Steve Hayden made short work of Vic Pertly in one of the scheduled four-rounders, having him kayoed in fifty-one seconds.

The opener went to Johnny Mecelli, who outpointed Lucky Baldwin in four rounds.

CAMPBELL RESUMES TRAINING

Frankie in First Workout Since Recent Operations; Impresses Railbirds

Frankie Campbell picked up his old Jack Dempsey style of weaving and hitting yesterday in his first boxing workout since he underwent two minor operations. The Manhattan gymnasium was packed.

FRANKIE CAMPBELL

The Italian Dempsey worked with Frank Muskie and Mack House. Muskie is the heavyweight who boxed in Gene Tunney's camp at Stroudsberg when Tunney was training to fight Dempsey in Philadelphia. Mack House fought at Pasadena last Thursday night, where he knocked out a big heavyweight in two heats.

Campbell is bigger than when he last fought here by some ten pounds or more. He scales over 190 pounds now. He reeled Muskie about the ring, but took it easier with House.

Tom Maloney announced that he had received a wire from Dempsey at Rochester, Minn., stating he would be back in Los Angeles in time for the Wrigley Field show, when Campbell meets Les Kennedy on the Jim Maloney-Armand Emanuel card.

Emanuel worked four fast rounds with Fred Cullen and Benny Ross.

YOUNG HARRY WILLS KAYOES ROMERO

SAN DIEGO, May 2. (AP)—Young Harry Wills, San Diego Negro welterweight, knocked out Johnny Romero, Mexican, in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here tonight.

Wills put Romero down twice for nine counts in the second round and twice again for nine in the fifth. As Referee Billy McMahon tolled six the third time Romero hit the canvas, the towel was tossed in from the Mexican's corner.

HENRI COCHET BEATEN IN SENSATIONAL UPSET

BIARRITZ (France) May 2. (AP)—Henri Cochet, France's No. 1 tennis player, was defeated today in a sensational upset by the Irish Davis Cup player, Lyttleton Rogers, in the finals of the Biarritz tournament, 6-1, 6-2, 0-6, 9-7.

LONDON, May 2. (AP)—H. W. Austin, the young and somewhat erratic British tennis ace, has not been dropped from the Davis Cup team, it developed today, but is only resting and remaining out of Britain's second-round match against either Poland or Rumania at his own request.

Austin, in a letter to the English Lawn Tennis Association said he did not desire to play in the next series, feeling the need of a respite.

In an interview today, Austin's father, who is a stock broker in the city, strongly criticized the Davis Cup selectors for giving young players too strenuous work to do in a brief time.

WARSAW (Poland) May 2. (AP)—Rumania and Poland divided the opening singles matches of their first-round Davis Cup tennis tie today. N. Mishu of Rumania, defeated Max Stolarov, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, and Tloczski of Poland conquered Ponlieff, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

LOTT AND DOEG LOSE TO VAN RYN, ALLISON TEAM

PHILADELPHIA, May 2. (AP)—John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., and Wilber Allison of Austin, Tex., holders of the English doubles championship, for the second straight day defeated George M. Lott of Chicago and John Hope Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., national doubles kings, in a Davis Cup workout test at the Huntington Valley Country Club today, 6-3, 7-5.

Van Ryn and Allison won the first set with comparative ease, their teamwork being the factor which gave them the advantage.

In the second frame, Lott and Doeg led, 5 to 4, in games and 40 to 0. At this critical point Doeg foozled an easy shot, but by hard work they managed to take the tenth, 8 points to 6. Van Ryn and Allison captured the next two games for the set and match.

SAN GABRIEL OPENS COURSE TO FEMININE GOLFERS TODAY

Officials of the San Gabriel Country Club yesterday announced that the course would be open to women golfers entered in the Southrn California championship this morning. Women planning to take advantage of the offer are requested to be off the first tee at 10 o'clock. This action was decided upon when rain kept a large number of players from practicing Thursday and yesterday. The Southern California tournament starts Monday with an eighteen-hole qualifying round.

DELANEY AND HORNE HURL SERAPHS TO DOUBLE WIN

Acorns Lose Eleven-Inning Opener When Hurler Hits; Berly Just Misses Shutout in Finale

BY BOB RAY

Behind the air-tight hurling of Art Delaney and Berly Horne, Jack Lelivelt's Angels came out of their slump yesterday to hand the league-leading Oaks a double trimming, 3 to 2 and 4 to 1, and even up the series.

Delaney not only outpitched Zip Dumovich, lanky Oakland southpaw, but won his own game in the eleventh inning by dribbling a single across second base to score Carl Dittmar from third with the deciding run. Delaney gave the Oaks eight hits, but the only legitimate run scored off him resulted on Buzz Arlett's home run in the sixth. The Angels tossed the ball around like a hot potato in the seventh round to let the Acorns put across the tying tally.

JACK LELIVELT

Dumovich held the Angels to four hits up until the eleventh when Dittmar, Skiff and Delaney bunched singles to end the struggle, but he was so wild that he was continually in trouble. Zip issued nine walks and hit one Angel, three of the passes being bunched with a double steal and a single to give the Seraphs their first two runs in the third round.

HORNE WINS EASILY

Horne had things all his own way in the nightcap, blanking the heavy-hitting Acorns until the final inning, when Governor and Uhalt bunched bingles to rob him of a shutout. The Angels clustered six of their seven hits off Bob Hurst in the first and third innings to score their first runs early. An error by Deviveros on what figured to be a double play gave the Angels their last two tallies. Pearson replaced Hurst at the start of the fourth and silenced the Seraph bat-

BRUINS, CHICAGO TO CLASH

Final Game of Local Puck Season Scheduled Tonight at Winter Garden

The final game of the lengthy local hockey season will be played tonight at the Winter Garden between the Chicago Black Hawks, and a team of Boston Bruins. It will be the second game of their series, with the Bruins, somewhat weakened, holding a 4-3 advantage in the first contest, played Thursday night.

CHARLES GARDINER

Art Ross, manager of the Bruins, yesterday declined to play the Hawks, but eight members of his team announced they were willing to hook-up with their big league rivals. Ross declared that the Bruins had not expected to meet major league competition in their local games, and played Thursday night only under protest.

Thompson, goalie; Clancy, Hitchman and Lyons, defense, and Chapman, Kilrea, Gaynor and Barry, wings, will perform for the Bruins tonight. The regular Hawk line-up will take the ice, including Gardiner at goal, Bostrum, Gottsleig, Ripley, Adams, and the rest of the

OPEN-DIVISION TILTS ON TAP

San Diego Heads List With Seven Five-Man Days

San Francisco, Fullerton Have Two Each Ready

Oakland Will Also Enter in Pin Competition

The first out-of-town, so-called "slicker" or open-division teams to exhibit their talent of pin spilling in the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress tournament, will take the alleys on the 7 and 9 o'clock shifts at the Davenport Recreation Building tonight.

San Diego heads the delegation with seven five-man teams, San Francisco and Fullerton have two entries each, and Oakland, one; San Diego Gas and Electric No. 1 and No. 2; Young Men's Institute and Gardner Specials are open-division teams from the border city, and a sweet bunch of timber heavers if past records are figured to count.

The Flaming Youths of San Francisco, who go into action on the 7 o'clock squad, are a bunch of youngsters whose combined ages, so it is said, total 335 years. The personnel of the team are H. G. Buck, B. Walters, C. Jessup, W. Hughes, R. T. Caler and Ed Miner.

The work of Harry Fairweather was easily the outstanding performance of the week in setting the Weatherby-Kayser Shoe Company five in first place in the open-team standings with a 2725 total. Fairweather plastered the pins for games of 220, 184 and 244, the high series to date shot in the tournament.

Vincent B. Hayes, advance guard of the San Francisco delegation and past president of the congress, arrived from the north today. Hayes will be seen in action with the Foster Lunch quintet of the Bay City. The scores follow:

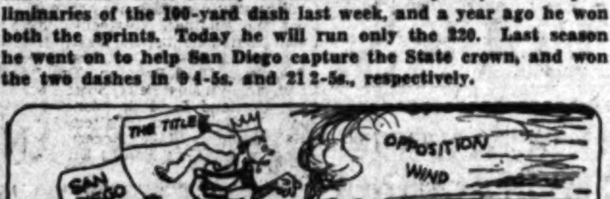
CAN SAN DIEGO REPEAT

THE Southern California prep meet at L. A. High this afternoon may produce a repeating champion for the first time in years. Several of the track experts, including our Mr. Eckhoff, pick San Diego High to retain the title that the southern boys won at the Coliseum last year.

It may be a little harder for San Diego to make the grade this time because little Jimmy Willson failed to qualify in the preliminaries of the 100-yard dash last week, and a year ago he won both the sprints. Today he will run only the 220. Last season he went on to help San Diego capture the State crown, and won the two dashes in 9 4-5s. and 21 2-5s., respectively.



If San Diego does duplicate its 1929 triumph today precedent will be upset. There hasn't been a repeater in years. Los Angeles Poly won in 1926, Glendale in 1927, Long Beach in 1928, San Diego in 1929.

These southern championship meets are always interesting for their red-hot competition. In addition they are the unveiling mediums of future college heroes.

McGeagh of U.S.C. was a Poly star in 1926, setting a new Southern California record of 1m. 59s. in the 880. Payne, Trojan hurdler, took second in the highs and first in the lows for San Bernardino. Williams of S.C. and Shove of Stanford placed second and third for Compton and Pasadena, respectively in the quarter.

Frank Wykoff, current Trojan sprint star, was the hero of the 1927 Southern California championship. He took firsts in the 100, 220 and broad jump. With these and his relay points he won over half of Glendale's total all by himself. In this meet Van Osdel of Compton and Welsh of Pasadena, two other Trojans stars, were conspicuous by victories in their favorite events—high jump and high hurdles, respectively.

Two or three years from now it will be the same story all over again. The boys who win today—and some who are inconspicuous by their thirds and fourths—will be the stars of '32 and '33 and '34.

A FISTIC DREAM

YERTERDAY afternoon's sun gave Carlo Curtis, the boy promoter, a break on weather conditions for his first outdoor show at the White Sox Park tonight.

There is a real human interest story back of Curtis's climb to his first attempt at big-time promotion.

For years he was a struggling newsie, peddling his wares at The Times corner.

He was interested in boxing, and organized a club for the newsies.

It was a big success, and when the ten-round law was passed Carlo branched out. He took quarters in the Spring-street building, since razed to make way for the City Hall.

Then he moved to Main street and staged Saturday night fight shows, running one of the best gymnasiums in the city in conjunction.

Tonight he sees a dream come true—his first outdoor show featuring two ten-round main events, Bert Colima vs. Ray Still and Benny Miller vs. Ray Mendez.

CHALLENGES PRIMO

PERHAPS to convince Everett Marshall of his toughness and fierceness Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg orates on his ability to tear Primo Carnera asunder.

Primo is nearly a head taller and eighty pounds heavier, but Dynamite Gus is confident of his ability—and his flying tackle.

It's another boxer-wrestler argument.

And in this case I would pick Gus to be the winner.

He should make a monkey out of Primo with the football tackle.

And he may make one out of Marshall Monday night—unless the big blond remembers some of the sidestepping tricks of his gridiron days in high school.

MAJOR-LEAGUE HOCKEY

MAJOR league hockey as exemplified by the Boston Bruins and the Chicago Blackhawks is just as different from the ordinary local brand as football and ping pong.

The major leaguers all but skate on their ears as they zip the puck down the ice and the way in which they hold on to it, feint and shoot goals with the goalie looking for the disc in the other direction is marvelous.

Clapper and Barry of the Boston team scored a pair of goals apiece in the second and third periods against Chicago the other night that were pips. They were faultless as to executive, and almost too fast for the naked eye to follow.

Boston had more reserve power on the sidelines and ability to change its lines frequently gave it more power and speed.

CHAFFEY TRACK SCENE OF MEET

Junior Colleges in Annual Competition Today

Provided that the threatened rain does not force the third postponement of the event, the fourth annual Southern California Junior College Conference track meet will be held today on the Chaffey oval in Ontario. Qualifying heats will begin at 9:30 with the finals to be run off at 1:30. Thirteen schools are entered and more than 300 athletes will compete.

Due to a strong dual meet record, the Compton Tartars are being picked to win. Coach Herschel Smith's men figure to place in every event but the sprints and broad jump and pile up enough points to carry off first honors. The Long Beach Vikings seem to be the squad that will be the most dangerous, with a large group of stars entered. Glendale, last year's champs, Los Angeles and Fullerton seem to be the only other teams that stand a chance of winning.

Several good marks should be turned in. Roy Delby, who is being picked to win both sprint events for Fullerton, may break both records in the dashes, as he has done the century in 9.7s. and the furlong in 21.6s. The present marks are 9.8s. in the hundred, held by Frank Wykoff and Maurice Guyer, and 21.6s. in the century, held by Guyer. George Jefferson, Compton's star pole vaulter, who holds the title of Southern Pacific A.A.U. champion in this event, should break his own record of 12ft. 11in.

Both Joe Forbes of Long Beach and Paul Bateman of Compton have bettered the existing record in the discus and should hang up a new mark today. Von Breyman of Compton and Forbes have also bettered the javelin mark. Other records that seem doomed are in the half-mile, mile, two-mile and broad jump. Five jaysee half-milers have bettered Julius Zelman's record of 2m. 3s., while McFadden of Glendale has cleared 23ft. 3in. in the broad jump, which is three inches farther than Jess Hill's mark. Wally Minch of Compton and Donahue of Santa Ana have bettered 4m. 34s. in the mile run, which means that a new four-lap mark will be set by one of them. Jimmie Ferrie's record of 10m. 18s. has been beaten by Aebersold of Pasadena and Ashcraft of Los Angeles, both of whom have run the eight laps in close to 10s. flat.

POMONA SWIMMERS TO MEET CALTECH

CLAREMONT, May 2.—The Pomona College swimming team goes into action for the first time this year tomorrow afternoon, when the Sagehens tangle with the Caltech Engineers. This will be the first meet to be held in Pomona's new pool. Although the pool is an outdoor affair the meet will be held regardless of the weather, as a little more water on the anatomy of the swimmers will make little difference.

The Sagehen swimming team is captained by Stan Hahn, who performs in the distances. Marcus Stanton, Chuck Van De Water, Charles Boynton and John McConnahey will also perform for the Pomona team. There is very little known concerning the relative strength of the two teams and consequently the outcome of the affair is considered a toss-up.

OLIVE HATCH AND CRABBE WINS RACES

With such stars as Buster Crabbe, Mickey Riley, Olive Hatch and Georgia Coleman present, an open swimming meet under the direction of Fred Cady was held in the Huntington Beach pool last night. Coleman and Riley gave several diving exhibitions, while Crabbe and Hatch placed first in the 100-yard free-style swim for men and women. Rutkin Kimball, Evelyn Black and Oscar Simmons were the other race winners.

NIGHT TENNIS SCHEDULED FOR SANTA MONICA FANS

SANTA MONICA, May 2.—A new lighting system for night tennis play will be put into operation for the first time tomorrow evening, Saturday, at the old Santa Monica municipal courts, Lincoln and Wilshire boulevards. Three tennis matches featuring great women and junior players have been arranged. In a doubles tilt Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Mrs. Bert Bruce will oppose Florence Sutton and Mrs. Violet Hope Doeg. In a singles match Midge Gladman will meet Dot Workman.

The junior play features a singles duel between Jay Cohn, national boys' champion, and "Little Bill" Doeg. Many tennis celebrities will attend, and the Santa Monica Municipal Band will play for an open-air dance after the matches are concluded. Mayor Michel and the City Commissioners will officiate at brief dedication exercises, and Ira D. Wheeler, president of the Santa Monica Municipal Tennis Club, will be in charge of the affair.

NIGHT CONTEST LURES 11,000

of the game which go to make up the sport—all were present.

But to sports writers in particular and to a large portion of the minor league executives in attendance there arose the question of the public's reaction.

Without a dissenting opinion, they felt that the game could be adopted to artificial lights, that balls could be handled as well in the field at night as in day light and that the hitting was as good if not a trifle better.

The game was the first ever played at night in a Class A baseball league and for weeks it has been regarded as the test of whether night baseball might stimulate the public's interest in minor leagues.

Those who hoped for a definite answer were skeptical. They regarded the turnout of more than 11,000 spectators as due almost wholly to the novelty of the venture. In a month, or by the end of the season, they said, a true indication of the permanence of night baseball in the American sports world may be given. Before then, it is merely speculation.

OCCIDENTAL CLASHES WITH POMONA TODAY

Coach Bill Anderson's Oxy sluggers clash with the Sagehens on the Pomona diamond this afternoon in the fourth round of Southern Conference play. The Tigers will be favored to defeat the Claremont crew as a result of three league victories out of four starts and a season's record of fifteen wins out of twenty-one games played. The veteran portside chucker, Al De Hoog, will take the mound for Oxy, while Poke Hartman is billed to flip them over for Pomona. Incidentally the two pitchers were opposing captains and stars in football last fall. De Hoog has struck out fifty-seven men in the last three games he has pitched which is somewhat of a record for any league.

LONG BEACH AQUATIC TEAM BEATS ROMANS

Long Beach Poly swimming team defeated the L. A. High Romans yesterday afternoon in the Jackrabbits' pool by a score of 50-36. Three Southern California records were bettered during the course of the afternoon. The first record to be ruined was the 200-yard medley relay mark held by Santa Maria of 2m. 13s. Long Beach won the event in the fast time of 2m. 11 2-5s. The next mark to go was the 100-yard medley which was won by Clark of L. A. High in 1m. 9.2s. The old record was held by Keefer of Long Beach. In the 800-foot relay race L. A. High's quartet of Bond, Murrieta, Deats and Clark wrecked Long Beach's mark of 2m. 30.8s. by winning the event in 2m. 30.2s.

GERARDIN HERO OF CATHEDRAL VICTORY

Hugh Gerardin pitched and batted the Cathedral High team to a 5-1 victory over El Segundo yesterday, and placed his squad in first place in prep baseball league. Gerardin held the losers to two hits, and hit a home run with the bases full. Score:

always dangerous. In their three previous meetings Rothert has nosed out Brix. In comparison, Brix's marks in other competitions have exceeded Rothert's best official heaves. Each has bettered 52ft. in practice.

Last Saturday Rothert showed his competitive ability by winning his favorite event twice within a few hours and under severe strain. In the afternoon at Stanford, against Washington, he reached 51ft. 4 3-4in. and at Fresno that night, hauled in first place with 51ft. 4in., defeating Brix. He traveled by airplane from Stanford to Fresno.

Although Krenz will help boost the distance in the shot, he will give more attention to attempting to break his own world's discus record, a matter of 163ft. 8 3-4in. In practice the last two weeks, he sent the platter sailing 166ft., which is pretty fair country discus throwing.

Aside from the weight events, considerable attention will be given to the short sprints in which Hec Dyer of Stanford and Russ Sweet of the Olympic Club are featured.

Around 100 entrants are expected for the meet. In addition to Stanford and the Olympic Club, teams from California, St. Ignatius and Santa Clara are entered.

FAIRFAX NINE TRIMS UNIVERSITY WARRIORS

Making every hit count, the Fairfax Colonials walloped the University baseball team by the score of 9 to 3 yesterday in a game played on the losers' diamond. The Colonials gathered but nine hits, which coupled with several walks and errors gave them a like number of runs. Gleis and Blankenship starred for the visitors, the former clouting a home run, and the latter holding the Warriors to eight hits.

COLUMBIA FAVORED TO COP CREW CUP

DERBY (Ct.) May 2. (AP)—Columbia's strong and polished eight tonight was favored to repeat its victory of last year over Yale and Pennsylvania in tomorrow's varsity dash for the Blackwell challenge cup. Columbia won by half a length last spring.

Yale men, already here, showed plenty of respect for "Rich" Glendon's Columbians, but were not slow to express the view that the New Yorkers are not quite so good as last year and that Ed Leader's edition is better than a year ago.

FROSH NINES PLAY

The Oxy frosh nine opens the Southern Conference freshman diamond schedule this afternoon facing the Pomona yearlings on the Occidental field. Coach Glenn Roselle expects to start Deaver on the mound in an effort to hold down the Sagehen's reported heavy artillery. Bob Holmes and Priest are the heavy hitters for the Bengal Kitties, and Holmes also acts as relief hurler.

JORDAN NINE WINS

Coach Swede Renius's Jordan High baseball nine took the measure of the Riis horsehiders yesterday afternoon at Riis, by a 5-2 count. The game was featured by the pitching of Blackmar for Jordan and the heavy hitting of the Renius batsmen. Score:

NORTHERN TEAM HERE FOR GAME

San Francisco Rovers to Arrive This Morning for Soccer Battle

Determined to defeat the veteran Hollywood soccer eleven and thereby capture the State championship, an enthusiastic group of youngsters from San Francisco arrive in Los Angeles at 9 o'clock this morning all set for tomorrow's big game at Loyola Field.

The northern boys, who call themselves the Rovers, won over Hollywood, 2 to 1, in the first game of the series up north last Sunday and have only to win tomorrow to cinch the coveted California cup.

The Rovers, only a few of whom are of voting age, compose the first California eleven able to hold its own with veteran old country players, thus showing that soccer is on the upgrade in the West. The sport may be added to the Olympic Games program, officials state.

The invaders bank upon the flash and speed of such nimble boys as Doug Taylor, Tommy Wicklow, Frank Woods and Tommy Roberts for a victory, while Hollywood depends upon its more scientific style of play and upon its line-up of old-country veterans.

There will be a 1 p.m. preliminary game, the feature being booked for 3 p.m. A third game, if necessary, will be played in San Francisco May 11.

The Jewish barrister is trying to perfect a defense for a left hook to the body. This punch is Maloney's best bet.

Some of the critics say Emanuel is making a mistake by trying to step away from a hook and that he should step inside them so as to be able to deliver a punch himself.

Maloney again showed his ruggedness when he savagely punched Vic Alexander and Johnny Barry about the ring at the Main-street gym. The Boston fighter is in good shape now and could fight next Monday night instead of a week later if it was necessary.

Kennedy is still in the mountains. Herb White, manager of the longshoreman, said Kennedy would start boxing Monday.

Dave Shade is back from Soper's ranch to wind up training for his bout with Mike Hector Tuesday night as the regular Olympic show. He is shaping up good for his build-up to the Ace Hudkins battle on the 20th inst.

According to Shade he believes the tough bout with Hector will be a good omen. Just before he knocked out Jimmy Slattery he slipped over to Buffalo and defeated Lou Scozza.

Hector is back in the gymnasium. His two fights with Joe Cordoza put him in shape so he doesn't need much training for Shade.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams completed the card yesterday. There are three sixes and one four under the Shade-Hector bout. The sixes are Don Burchard vs. Sammy Offerman, Oscar Rankins vs. John Sherrod and Willie Fausto vs. Eddie Curley. Joe Soldidar and Bob Patrick box the opening four.

PICK SAN DIEGO TO KEEP TITLE

Manual runner, and Lester Cline of Whittier perhaps the best of the bunch. However, Bob Smith of Wilson, "Big Ben" Tikker of Venice, Lewis of Belmont, Deiboldt of Inglewood, Hotchkiss of Washington, Faure of Puente, and Johnny Tatar of Garfield, all have excellent chances to nose out the above.

Only two records are likely to be broken, with the mile being one of them. Chesley Unruh set the present mark of 4m. 29 2-5s. in 1925, when he ran for El Monte. The other record in danger is the shot put mark of 54ft. 3in. set by Bud Houser way back in 1922.

John Lyman, Santa Monica captain, has bettered Houser's mark once this year, winning the Bay League iron ball event with a push of 55ft. 3-8in. Don Carter of Franklin, Charley Hull of Inglewood, Len Morgan of Pasadena and Walt Schell of Redondo are scheduled to press Lyman hard. All four have bettered 51ft. this season.

Exactly sixty-five schools will be represented in the meet, with forty-eight institutions having entries in the Class A division.

the better I'll like it because I know it will be over that much quicker," he said.

Sonnenberg was wearing heavy black glasses during the interview which was given in his suite in the Alexandria Hotel. When asked about the glasses he stated that the light hurt his eyes and he was saving them against the effect of the glare under the arc lights at Wrigley Field.

Sonnenberg stated that he had seen Marshall wrestle but once and that was only for five minutes here about a year ago. "He looked like a good prospect," was the only comment he would make on the 22-year-old youth who will attempt to take his title away two days from now.

The champion will go through a light workout this afternoon at the Manhattan gymnasium and then rest until time is called for the bout.

ANGELS ANNEX TWIN BILL

Delaney Wins Own Game With Single in Eleventh; Horne Baffles Acorns in Nightcap, 4-1

ters without a hit in the three innings he worked.

Skipper Lelivelt, in an effort to get some runs out of the Angels, presented a switched line-up in both contests. Schulmerich was moved up to the clean-up spot, while in the nightcap Johnny Moore replaced Jigger Statz in center field. At that, the Angels scored only seven runs in eighteen innings, so they had to have great pitching to win.

Although Arlett got a homer in the first game, that was the only hit he was able to make off Delaney and Horne. Buzz was thrice a strike-out victim, much to the glee of the customers, who apparently get just as much kick out of seeing him fan as they do seeing him hit one out of the lot.

There was plenty of fancy fielding during the twin bill, Uhalt and Moore pulling the prize catches in center field. Truck Hannah, however, made a spectacular catch of a foul fly in the second game when he reached in the box seats and snagged the ball right off of a customer's head.

ANGELS OFF IN FRONT

The Angels got off in front in the opener, putting over a pair of runs in the third inning by dint of some snappy base running. Dittmar drew one of the many walks issued by Dumovich for a starter and reached third on successive infield outs by Skiff and Delaney. Haney got a walk and then he and Dittmar pulled off a double steal, the latter scoring. Dumovich also walked Statz and Sigafoos followed with a single to right that scored Haney and sent Statz to third. The rally ended, however, when Uhalt made a sensational running catch of Schulmerich's line drive to deep right center.

Oakland had runners as far as second in three of the first five innings, but Delaney bore down in the pinches and managed to prevent any scoring.

The Acorns broke into the run column in the sixth when Buzz Arlett's big bat caught one of Delaney's choicest offerings and drove it away over the right-field fence for the circuit.

Oakland knotted the count in the seventh when the Angel defense temporarily went to pieces. With the winning run on third, however, Delaney tightened up and got the side out.

ARLETT DISPOSED OF

Angel fans held their breath the next two times Arlett came to bat, but Delaney disposed of big Buzz both times on inside curves around his knees, on one occasion fanning the Oakland bambino.

After whiffing Arlett for the second out in the eighth, Delaney got in trouble when Verges was safe on Dittmar's error, went to third on Fenton's single and the latter stole second. Ricci was out, Dittmar to Jacobs, to end the threat.

Dumovich walked Haney and Sigafoos to put runners on first and second with but one away in the Angel tenth, but the Acorn southpaw got out of this jam by retiring Schulmerich and Jacobs on easy chances.

Harper went out to open the Angel eleventh but Dittmar singled to right to start the excitement. Skiff came through with a single to center and Dittmar raced to third. With the infield drawn in to make a play at the plate, Delaney won his own game by bouncing a single over second, just out of Deviverios's reach, and Dittmar galloped over the plate with the deciding run.

The Angels also got the jump on the Oaks in the nightcap, putting over a run in the first round. Haney opened the inning with a single to left, but was caught stealing. Moore, replacing Statz in the Angel line-up, followed with a double off Arlett's shapely shins and came home a minute later when Sigafoos singled to right. Schulmerich forced Sigafoos and was in turn forced by Jacobs to end the stanza.

THREE SERAPHS SCORE

Three more Seraphs scored in the third, which saw the last of Hurst on the mound for Oakland. A pair of errors by Deviverios helped the Angels to two of their runs. Haney singled infied to begin the third and Moore beat out a bunt to Fenton. Sigafoos forced Haney at third, Hurst to Verges. Schulmerich sliced a single to right that scored Moore and sent Sigafoos to third. Jacobs was hit by a pitched ball to fill the bases. Harper hit a double play ball down to Dean, but Deviverios dropped Dean's throw and both Sigafoos and Schulmerich tallied before he could retrieve the bounding horsehide. Deviverios then fumbled Dittmar's grounder to again clog the sacks, but Hannah hit into a double play to end the inning.

Pearson blanked the Angels during the final three rounds, while Horne kept the Oaks away from the plate until the seventh when Tony Governor, batting for Dean, singled, reached third on a couple of infield outs and scored on Uhalt's one-base shot to left. Brubaker batting for Deviverios, was thrown out by Dittmar to end the contest.

WHITE PICKS CANTLON TO SCORE AT LEGION

Bill White, young Hollywood auto racing financier who has entered two cars at Indianapolis this year and whose most reliable driver is "Shorty" Cantlon of Detroit, is predicting a victory for the Michigan speed king in tomorrow afternoon's 100-lap sweepstakes at the American Legion Speedway.

White declares that he has no doubt in his mind but that Cantlon will lead Walt May and the rest of the field to the checkered flag in the feature.

Cantlon is making his return to the dirt competition after a short lay-off during which he devoted all of his time to speed trials at Muroc Dry Lake. Coming back, the Michigan dare-devil faces his toughest competition from Walt May, the Alhambra youngster whose winning streak he hopes to halt. May has been going like a house afire lately and has defied efforts of all others to stop him. Throttling a Deulin Special from Portland, the local youth virtually ran the field ragged at Fresno last Sunday in winning the fifty-mile grind and a sprint feature. He also broke the record for the mile track there for good measure.

The pair have similar styles and are expected to enact a wild battle on the banked curves of the local oil course.

Three events are listed tomorrow, a total of 122 laps of racing being on schedule.

COLIMA HEADS OPEN-AIR BILL

Benny Miller, the latest in knockerouts. Benny has been coming to the front fast and looms as a fitting successor to Mushy Callahan as the pride of the newsboys. He has flattened eight opponents in his last nine stars, a record that bids no good for Mendez tonight. The latter, who is rated as a tough "club fighter," has been doing his campaigning at the smaller arenas.

Two sixes are also on schedule. In one, Sandy Garrison Casanova, who as a 165-pounder has been performing in the same auspicious style as Miller lately, faces Russell Brock, a slugger from Seattle.

The other brings together Paul McClary, 265-pound man mountain from the Long Beach Signal Hill district, and Cecil Meyers, 215-pound Negro.

McClary, who is attracting the attention of heavyweight "fortune hunters" in the fistic fraternity, is regarded as something in the way of another Carnera. He towers in the neighborhood of six feet six inches tall and is reputed to have a devastating punch. Although his experience has been limited, Jim Jeffries has been dishing out pointers to the giant on the finer points of the game and it is claimed that the oil worker learns quickly.

Two fours round out the program, Danny Robles facing Kosus Takahashi at 118 pounds and James Flores meeting Bobby Thompson at 120 pounds.

BLACK-FOXE NINE WINS

The Black-Foxe varsity baseball team defeated the faculty nine in a closely contested game yesterday by a score of 11 to 10. Elton Peak fanned eight of the school profs, while Harold Kenoyer, who pitched the last two innings for the cadets, caused two teachers to whiff the ozone. Irwin Krause twirled for the school profs, fanning five of the young soldiers.

BRUIN NET TEAM DEFEATS TROJANS

Playing without their southpaw captain, Jack DeLara, the Trojan varsity tennis team bowed to the U.C.L.A. netters, four matches to two, on the Westwood courts yesterday. The Bruins took all four singles matches, while the Trojans annexed both doubles. Scores: Dworkin (U.C.L.A.) defeated Gates (S.C.) 2-6, 6-4, 6-0; Struble (U.C.L.A.) defeated Barr (S.C.) 6-2, 6-1; Lewis (U.C.L.A.) defeated Flum (S.C.) 6-2, 6-2; Schultz (U.C.L.A.) defeated Stokes (S.C.) 2-6, 6-3, 6-0; Gates and Stokes (S.C.) defeated Dworkin and Lewis (U.C.L.A.) 6-2, 1-6, 7-5; Barr and Flum (S.C.) defeated Rooley and Gaves (U.C.L.A.) 9-7, 6-2.

BUILDING-LOAN ASSETS JUMP

Associations in Los Angeles Break Former Records

Total Resources Reach New High for All Times

California Aggregate Crosses $500,000,000 Mark

With the addition of more than $3,000,000 to their resources in the March quarter, the thirty-three building and loan associations of Los Angeles reported to the State commissioner assets on March 31, last, aggregating $121,005,787, a new high record and a gain for the year of $11,544,626, or 10.6 per cent, the California Building-Loan League announced yesterday.

During the first quarter this year the institutions added $3,026,439, or 2.26 per cent, to their resources, holding the leading position of all cities in the State by a substantial margin. San Francisco associations ranked second with $76,552,696 of resources and San Jose third with $54,352,863.

BRANCHES SWELL TOTAL

These figures do not include the resources of several associations which maintain branch offices in Los Angeles. Among these are Pacific States Savings and Loan Company, San Francisco, $60,429,591, an increase for the year of 69.7 per cent; Mutual of Pomona, $15,026,251, or 17.5 per cent; Mercantile of Oakland, $6,615,250, or 375 per cent. During the past year, Angelus was merged with the Mercantile so that the actual gain by Los Angeles associations is greater than indicated.

Aggregate resources of the 235 California associations totaled $500,988,367, as of March 31, a gain of $23,762,252, or approximately 5 per cent, for the quarter. This establishes a new high mark for the State and for the first time exceeds the $500,000,000 mark.

HOME LOANS ACTIVE

A total of 9481 loans, amounting to $33,042,563, was made by California associations during the first three months of the year. This represents an average of $3485 each, bringing the total number of loans in force to 132,182, aggregating $418,101,509, the State league reports.

Investment certificates and membership shares in force on March 31, last, amounted to $436,859,541, an increase of $17,954,917, or 4.28 per cent, as compared with the opening of the year.

TRADING ON WOOL MART STILL DULL

Weekly Survey Reports Fine Grades Top Buying and Mediums Neglected

BOSTON, May 2. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

Summer street has been quiet again this week. The demand favors fine wools, which are in very light supply, while medium wools are neglected. Demand is not heavy in any direction and the reports from the mills are still very dispiriting, with some large units closed entirely and others operating on very light schedules.

Foreign markets are firmer, especially on the finer wools as indicated by a 5 to 10 per cent advance at the resumption of the sales in Australia this week.

With the tariff bill evidently near a settlement and prospects of amendment of the Federal Farm Act along sounder economic lines, the wool trade is feeling encouraged. Buying in the West is proceeding slowly, however, in view of the uncertainties injected into the picture by the present set-up of the national pool marketing corporation under the Federal Farm Board plan. Prices paid in the West have been very close to if not quite up to eastern market parity.

Mohair is quiet and prices largely nominal. Most of the Texas hair has been consigned to the co-operatives.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930, to May 1, 1930, inclusive, were 46,572,000 pounds, against 62,514,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to May 1, 1930, inclusive, were 66,263,000 pounds, against 75,796,685 pounds for the same period last year.

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

There are 191,568,006 shares listed on the curb with a current market value of $5,469,482, or an average price per share of $28.55.

MEXICAN LINE IMPROVING

Southern Pacific's Extension to Guadalajara Reports Net Profit of $1,000,000 in 1929

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Southern Pacific's enormous investment in Mexico, about $50,000,000 in 1248 miles of main line, is beginning to promise results as a substantial producer of revenue. It has been twenty-six years since Epes Randolph, Harriman engineer, first conceived the project and last year was the first time that operating income assumed respectable proportions.

Because of revolutionary disturbances, the European war and construction difficulties, Southern Pacific of Mexico has operated as a through line from Nogales to Guadalajara for only about three years. The revolution last year seriously affected operations, but despite this disturbance the Mexican line was able to show 1929 net operating income of $1,004,606. This was an increase of $173,220, or 20.84 per cent over 1928.

SERVICE INTERRUPTED

Revolutionary disturbances beginning in March and continuing for several months interrupted service on the main line until May. As a result of the revolution, 199 trestles were destroyed, and the decks of sixteen steel structures were wholly or partially destroyed. Permanent structures replacing temporary work were not fully placed in operation until November, all at a cost of $700,779.41 for the reopening and rehabilitation of the line.

Notwithstanding these disturbed conditions, the operating results for the year are sufficiently favorable to warrant hopes of substantial returns soon to Southern Pacific stockholders from the Mexican investment. The total operating income from the transportation of mineral products, cattle, vegetables, grain, etc., amounted to $7,009,805, an increase of 8.27 per cent over the previous year. This sum represents only a fragment of the tonnage that Southern Pacific of Mexico expects to develop within the next few years from the prolific west coast.

RANDOLPH PIONEER

The 1200-mile line was constructed under formidable difficulties, chiefly by Randolph, the engineer who was in charge of the spectacular rescue of the Imperial Valley from the Colorado flood twenty-two years ago. Randolph was one of Huntington's favorite engineers, and won the support of E. H. Harriman with his dream of extending the Southern Pacific into Mexico. The completion of the line about three years ago gave to the Southern Pacific a stretch of steel rails running from Vancouver along the Pacific Coast down into Mexico to Pacific and Caribbean Coast ports of Guatemala.

In the 103-mile section between Tepic and La Quemada are thirty-one tunnels, two of which are 2000 and 2900 feet long, respectively. Linked up with the tunnels are eighteen viaducts, one of which is 860 feet long. Maximum grade is 1.5 per cent, which compares with 2.2 per cent on Espee's Sierra Nevada line, and 3.3 per cent in the Siskiyou Mountains.

Continued progress in Mexico's economic development is certain to reflect in the earnings of Southern Pacific of Mexico. The increasing cultivation of the fertile west coast agricultural lands is building new traffic for the line, especially fresh vegetables and fruits for the American market. Sugar is a crop of growing importance.

Merger of Ink and Dye Units to be Effected

Formation of a new company under a plan for the consolidation of the dyestuffs and chemical division of the Newport Company with the International Printing Ink Corporation was announced yesterday by Dillon, Read & Co., bankers for both companies. The consolidated company will have assets exceeding $25,000,000 and an authorized capitalization of 350,000 shares of $100 par cumulative preferred stock and 2,000,000 shares of no par common of which there will be outstanding 119,239 shares of preferred and 657,844 shares of common. Net earnings of the properties to be combined, available for dividends, totaled $3,500,000 for 1929.

Terms of the proposed consolidation call for the acquisition by the new corporation of all or the major part of the outstanding securities of the International Printing Ink Corporation and all of the stock of the Newport Chemical Corporation. The Newport Company will continue in existence, retaining its wood distillate division.

The exchange basis for holders of International Printing Ink securities follows:

One share of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock, series A, of the new company for each 6 per cent cumulative preferred share of International; 1.4 shares of common stock of the new company for each common share of International. A detached warrant for the purchase of 1.4 shares of common stock of the new company at $45 per share, expiring June 1, 1935, for each subscription warrant (now or originally attached to International preferred shares) for one common share of International at $60 per share, expiring June 1, 1931.

The Newport Company will receive in exchange for outstanding shares of the Newport Chemical Corporation 46,688 shares of preferred stock, 255,645.8 shares of common stock and warrants for 32,677.2 shares of common stock of the new company.

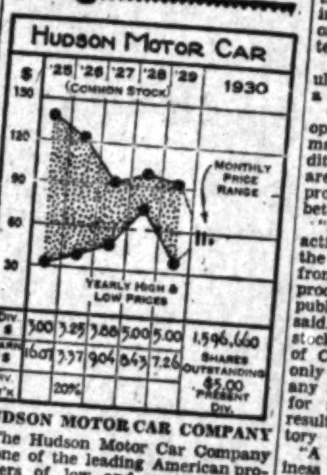
WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



HUDSON MOTOR CAR COMPANY

The Hudson Motor Car Company is one of the leading American producers of low and medium-priced passenger cars, makers of the Hudson and Essex and the Dover commercial car. The Hudson Super-six line, which was introduced fifteen years ago, was superseded in January of this year by an eight-cylinder car, price ranging from $1050 to $1650.

The Essex division is about one-fifth in unit producing volume of estimated 1929 output. Price of this car ranges from $735 to $995. Distribution is affected for both Hudson and Essex in the United States and Canada through 3550 dealers; a large export trade is carried on through approximately 1600 dealers and distributors.

Sales reached a high record of 300,783 units in 1929 against 282,152 in 1928 and 276,330 in 1927. Lower profit margin and the expense incident to the introduction of new models, however, offset the increase in sales. Dividends have been increased from $3.50 per annum, October, 1927, to the present rate of $5 per annum.

Strong public interest was noted in the opening months of 1930 with the introduction of Hudson Great Eight, priced $25 to $95 lower than the old Super-six, and the Essex Challenger, with a price range $25 to $40 higher than 1929 models.

CHRYSLER EARNINGS IN SLUMP

Net in Quarter Shrinks to $180,717 from Total of $8,836,173 in 1929

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive) Chrysler Corporation for the quarter ended March 31, last, today reported consolidated net income of $180,717, after all charges and taxes, equal to approximately 4 cents a share on 4,431,575 capital shares as against a net loss of $2,828,251 in the preceding quarter, and a net income of $8,836,173, or $2 a share on 4,411,990 shares in the 1929 quarter.

The directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share.

Commenting on the company's operations, W. P. Chrysler, chairman and president, stated that conditions in the automobile industry are now stabilized and that it has probably turned the corner for the better.

"Naturally the lessened business activity has affected earnings, but the obvious inference to be drawn from analysis is that Chrysler products enjoy a good degree of public acceptance," Mr. Chrysler said. "It may be noted that the stock of unsold cars in the hands of Chrysler dealers now stands at only 71 per cent of last year's, and any improvement in retail demand for automobiles must necessarily result immediately in improved factory operations.

"A turn for better in general business conditions which cannot now be long delayed may therefore be expected to reflect itself in substantially improved operating results for the company."

Market Loans to Members in Sharp Upturn

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Total borrowings of members of the New York Stock Exchange on security collateral at the close of business April 30, showed an increase for the month of $406,829,020, with a total of $5,063,131,359.

Comparative monthly figures follow:

CANADA TARIFF BAR LOOMS

Dominion Schedule of Duties Aimed at 500 Items Imported from United States

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, May 2.—Is a tariff war between Canada and the United States probable? The budget introduced this week into the Canadian Parliament by Finance Minister C. A. Dunning, appears to point that way.

Although the Liberal party has always been favorable to American business development, the Dunning budget is the most comprehensive measure on tariff revision introduced in the Canadian Parliament since William Fielding introduced his famous "British preference" principle in 1897.

Out of a total of 1188 schedules mentioned, 500 of them are drawn directly to encourage a diversion of trade away from the United States, and to Canadian and British interests.

The business implications of this new budget are far-reaching and serious. The budget includes a system of countervailing tariff schedules which will make the Canadian duty on commodities in respective trade between Canada and the United States equal to the United States tariff. Wheat, flour, rye, oats, livestock, eggs, butter, meats, potatoes, soups, cut flowers and cast-iron pipe are products included.

"Those who raise prohibitive barriers against our products entering their markets must expect that we will extend favor to our own good customers rather than to them," said the Finance Minister. "I would rather extend lower tariff favors to those who extend them to us than to adopt prohibitive tariffs in return for like treatment."

A British economic union, combining the British Isles with all of the British dominions, may yet work out to be more than an idle dream. But American business men had better watch their steps—for Canada is America's best customer.

Why is copper the only metal of any importance that the United States government does not protect by an import duty?

This question was asked and answered by Frank C. Armstrong, New York copper man, in an address last night in Philadelphia before the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

It is only recently that copper deposits have been found elsewhere than in the United States—in such places as Canada, South America and Africa. And this does change radically the traditional American point of view.

Laid down in New York in 1928, Chile's production cost was 5.084 cents per pound; Nevada's production cost for the same year was 9.197 cents.

So copper produced by the Nevada Consolidated Copper Company was 80 per cent higher than that produced by the Chile Copper Company of Chile.

Question: Should the United States allow foreign copper, owned largely by American interests and produced under "slave labor conditions" to enter the United States markets duty free to compete with copper produced in American mines at a much higher cost for free labor?

Mr. Armstrong says that it should not be allowed. He asked in his address for a duty of not less than 6 per cent a pound to protect American copper mines and American labor in the same way that the government protects every other metal but copper.

"The copper situation," said Mr. Armstrong, "presents what is the first outstanding illustration of the results of the exportation of capital from the United States for the particular purpose of building up in foreign countries a basic industry whose low cost product is shipped back to the United States there to compete with and ultimately to destroy one of its own most important industries."

The Armstrong statement is a strong indictment against the present copper policy of the United States.

Retail Buying Held Slightly Better in Week

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

With warmer weather and an abundance of rain in most sections needing moisture, there has been a slight speeding up of retail buying. Over against this wholesale and jobbing trade in regular lines seems little changed, whereas a heavy distribution is reported to have been made in Chicago based on a removal of the selling house to other quarters.

In iron and steel, while optimistic reports continue to come as to proportion of capacity employed, this seems to be somewhat at the expense of prices, which have been lowered noticeably alike in crude and finished lines, this running from steel scrap and pig iron to bars, strip steel, plates and most wire products.

In nonferrous metals tin and zinc show weakness, while lead and copper are reported quiet, with talk of possible further price reductions tending to hold back buying. Automobile factories, those making smaller cars especially, are showing slightly more activity and steel men catering to this line and to pipe making report more doing.

Weekly bank clearings $11,854,499,000, a decrease of 8.6 per cent from a year ago.

Plans of Nickel Unit Unchanged

SUDBURY (Ont.) May 2. (Exclusive)—Reduction in the price of copper will cause no change in the plans of International Nickel's expansion program now nearing completion at Frood and Copper Cliff, J. L. Agnew, vice-president, announced today.

"The nickel business is not bad and may be described as fairly satisfactory considering general conditions and as compared with conditions in other base metals," Mr. Agnew stated. "Business is down approximately 25 per cent from its corresponding level this time last year and whether it will improve or not depends purely on the general prosperity and revival of business throughout the country."

CONTINENTAL BAKING EARNINGS SLUMP

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive) Continental Baking Corporation for the fifteen weeks ended April 12, last, today reported consolidated net income of $1,182,978, equal after preferred dividends to 4 cents a share on 281,813 Class A common shares as against $11,836,734 or $2.19 a share on 291,813 Class A shares in the 1929 period.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Cotton was more or less unsettled again today, with early declines attributed to some near-month liquidation and scattered selling based upon relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of further rains in the Southwest.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Prices Break Sharply as Sales Smash Records Under Acute Bear Attack

Liquidating operations swept through the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday knocking down prices in a wholesale fashion with a selling wave that far surpassed the trading volume for any other session this year. The action followed New York which disregarded such bullish items as a further cheapening of credit, and was largely attributed to the failure of the weekly brokers' loan total to show a decrease, indicating stock liquidation from strong to weak hands.

Transamerica, Standard Oil of California and Southern California Edison, representing three distinct types of securities, led the market turnover and dropped more than 2 points each. All other popular issues acted in a similar fashion to a lesser extent.

Transamerica completely dominated the selling movement with transactions of more than 20,000 shares. The issue broke 2 3-8 points to close at 42 1-8, the low for the day. Standard Oil was the second most active stock on a turnover of 9700 shares under which it was depressed 2 5-8 to 64 3-8, also the day's bottom.

Richfield Oil turned in large volume and slumped 1 3-4 to 23 3-8 from where it recovered to end at 24, down 1 1-8 net. Union Oil broke 3 points to 44 3-4 and ended at 1-8, off 1 7-8 net, and Union Associates fell back 1 5-8 to 44 1-4. Rio Grande sold down a point to 21 5-8 and Pacific Western, 5-8 to 17 1-4. Macmillan yielded a point to 23.

Southern California Edison on a turnover of more than 4000 shares charted the course of the utilities by dropping back 2 1-8 points to 65 where it finished the session at the day's low. Pacific Lighting, inactive on this board, slumped 3 1-4 points to 97 and Pacific Public Service, which strengthened in recent sessions, reacted 1 3-4 to 31 3-4.

Pacific Finance sold briskly to lose 2½ points to 38 3-4. Pacific Mutual sank 2 to 90 and International Re-Insurance, 1 to 47, while Pacific American Fire held firm to 55½. Western Air Express fell back a point to 38 and Douglas Aircraft, ½ to 19.

Sales totaled 57,290 shares valued at $2,640,898; previous day, 19,996 shares valued at $1,029,504.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Reduction of the New York Federal Reserve discount rate and generally easier money conditions gave new strength to the listed bond market today.

The standard railroad securities led the advance on the heaviest buying in weeks and closing prices in some instances were not far from the year's high. Practically the whole list, with the exception of speculative issues and secondary industrials, felt the buoyant influences.

Sales were smaller than yesterday, the busiest session in five weeks, but the general price trend was improved. The averages for thirty bonds reached 100, the highest since March 26.

Unusually heavy buying was shown in some of the high-grade rails, including Union Pacific 4s, Missouri Pacific 5s, Erie 5s, St. Louis and San Francisco 4½s, with gains reaching ¾ of a point.

The developments of yesterday and today tending to ease credit asserted themselves. Call money renewed at 3½ for the first time in a month and the rate then went to 3.

National Dairy 5¼s, U. S. Rubber 5s, Inland Steel 4½s and Armour & Co. 5½s made the best gain in the industrial group.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES CURB

In contrast to the record volume of trading on the parent board, operations on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday held to the customary level and while selling was apparent, prices for the most part backed in fractional proportions only.

Fokker, leading the turnover, was the exception to this rule, selling down 1 1-8 points to 24 1-4, and Intercoast dropped an even point to 21. Arkansas Gas, Axelson, Neon of New York, Cord, Electrical Products, Fox Theaters, Hancock Oil, Pacific Indemnity and Universal Oil all recorded small losses. Gladding McBean fell off a point to 54.

Trading among the "penny" issues was conducted in a brisk fashion with prices irregular. Wellington Oil gained 20 cents to 2.00 and Ambassador Petroleum, 25 cents to $1.25. Bandini dropped 25 cents to $2.85, a new low for the year.

Sales totaled 114,887 shares, valued at $245,350; previous day, 183,355 shares valued at $219,818.

Steadier Tone Rules Trading in Wheat Pit

CHICAGO, May 2. (AP)—Unofficial monthly crop summaries indicating reduced yields and decreased acreage for the United States 1930 wheat harvest did much to steady wheat prices today. The effects of the jolt given to all grain markets yesterday by emergency measures relative to overcrowded storage facilities here were still apparent, and buyers showed lack of confidence. On the other hand, not much disposition was shown to press speculative selling and the day ended in virtually a draw as between bulls and bears.

Closing quotations on wheat were irregular, varying from ⅛c net decline to ⅛c advance, compared with yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅛@1⅛c down, oats ⅛c off to ⅛@¼c up, and provisions showing 10@30c gain.

Outstanding as features of the May unofficial crop reports were estimates pointing to 7,000,000 bushels less domestic winter wheat yield this season than was suggested by the government's April forecast. This curtailment implied that the 1930 winter wheat production would be 25,000,000 bushels below last year's harvest. Moreover, today's private estimates foreshadowed 7.3 per cent decrease of United States spring wheat acreage and 4.8 per cent decrease in Canada.

Wheat bears in Chicago, nevertheless, made much of statements by a leading crop authority in his monthly survey that good rains lately in most sections of the winter wheat belt were of great benefit and came in time to check a serious situation which was developed in the Southwest.

Heavy liquidating sales continued in the corn market today, with much speculative selling also. Oats averaged higher.

Provisions advanced, responsive to upturns in the value of hogs.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—The curb market was carried off sharply today, the more active issues generally losing 1 to 5 points, while some of the high-priced specialties lost 10 to 20 points.

The decline was one of the sharpest of the year, although it was comparatively less severe than the decline on the Big Board. Total sales aggregated 1,6[illegible],900 shares, about 250,000 less than the record 1930 turnover of April 23.

The utility shares, which dominated trading during the recent bull movement on this market, were sold in heaviest volume. American Gas and Electric dropped about 8 points, and such issues as Electric Bond and Share, Brazilian Traction and American and Foreign Power warrants lost 3 to 5 points. American Light and Traction old stock tumbled 30 points.

Several of the recent strong spots in the oils were also under heavy selling pressure. Gulf Oil lost 6 points. Cities Service and Humble each lost about 3 points. Standard of Indiana, however, lost only 1½ points. In the mines, Noranda sagged 2 points to a low for the year.

Investment trust shares sold off with the rest of the market.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Public Utility Construction Plans Expand

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—President Hoover announced today that Matthew S. Sloan, chairman of the committee appointed to study electric public-utility construction, had reported that the program for the present year calls for a total of $900,000,000 of new projects. It had been estimated that this program would total $865,000,000.

In a letter to the President dated April 29 Sloan said that he had received new reports on progress from electric light and power companies regarding the status of work in carrying out the program for new construction and expansion of facilities.

Reports by telephone and telegraph, he said, showed electric light and power utilities have in hand projects representing 80 per cent of the total to be expended.

Accused Indian Woman Spurns Life in Prison

BUFFALO, May 2.—Lila Jimerson, "the red lilac" of the Cayuga Indians, went into County Court here today and flung aside her assurance of life in order to stand trial a second time for the murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, wife of the noted artist, Henry Marchand.

Her first trial was halted abruptly when she collapsed in court and was taken to a hospital suffering from hemorrhages induced by tuberculosis. In the hospital she later pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of murder, second degree, and was taken into court today to receive the mandatory sentence of twenty years to life imprisonment.

After a sharp interchange between defense counsel and Dist.-Atty. Moore, County Judge Thorn adjourned court.

HYDE TELLS NEW POWER BOARD NEED

Testimony Given Before House Group in Support of Hoover Plan

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—A sweeping change in the Federal Power Commission was recommended today by Secretary Hyde, testifying before the House Interstate Commerce Committee in support of President Hoover's plan to set up an independent organization.

Asserting that the present members of the commission, who are the Secretaries of War, Interior and Agriculture, are unable to give adequate consideration to the problems of regulating the nation's water-power resources, Hyde said a commission of five with a new personnel should be established for that purpose.

Hyde was the only witness before the committee at a hearing on the Parker bill to set up a commission of three. He suggested that the growing importance of regulating the nation's power resources in the various sections of the country will be more adequately represented with five members. A thorough reorganization of personnel is needed, he said.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN IN GAY FETE

Pioneers of Battle for Suffrage Honored After Naval Slash Indorsement

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) May 2. (AP)—From a bitter convention floor battle on blanket support of naval disarmament, the League of Women Voters tonight turned to gayety, pageantry and birthday candle lighting—a fete to the nineteen national honor roll pioneers present to celebrate ten years of suffrage.

Carefree, they came to the convention hall ballroom without their brown portfolios crammed with legislative problems threshed out today, or left open for settlement at tomorrow's final convention session.

Hardest fought of the problems was a measure making direct link for the first time between an international disarmament program and national disarmament measures in their support.

By a vote of 115 to 79, the measure won through in face of determined opposition, committing the league, as a working organization, to support "international reduction of expenditures for war, and national measures related to such international reduction treaties."

This will cover cruiser bills, as well as the London disarmament treaties, for which a "hearty support" resolution will be considered on the floor tomorrow.

LADYLIKE AUTO NOISES SOUGHT

New York Experts Test New Varieties of Horns

Sound Desired That Warns But Doesn't Startle

Commission Seeks to Abate Metropolitan Bedlam

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive) Ever since the noise abatement commission found out that there is a lot of unnecessary uproar in New York its members have been seeking its causes and methods of removing it. Among the most bothersome sounds are those caused by automobile horns and with the assistance of the Bell Telephone laboratories' acoustical staff, experiments have been carried on in this field. Yesterday in the laboratory thirty-four different kinds of horns were put through their paces under all sorts of conditions. Members of the commission and newspaper representatives formed the jury that voted on the results.

The experiments were carried on by Dr. Harvey Fletcher, in charge of the acoustical department, assisted by members of his staff. A room insulated against outside sounds was used, with the thirty-four horns placed along the far wall. Each horn was numbered and an electric bulb was attached to it, and so arranged that it would light when the horn was sounded. All the horns, which were of four classes—vibratory, motor, mechanical and wind—were operated from a central control board.

VOTES CAST

As each horn was sounded votes were cast as to whether or not the sound was objectionable and likely to startle a pedestrian. By means of loud speakers this test was repeated at a distance equivalent to forty feet in the open. On the first test ten horns were inoffensive. On the second the number climbed to eighteen.

The next test was made at the same forty-foot distance at the same time that a record of the sounds of traffic made at West and Bethune streets was played. The object was to ascertain which of the horns were too soft to be heard over the roar of trucks, drays, pleasure cars, policemen's whistles, footsteps and other factors that build up the noise content of a busy street. It was found that only three of the thirty-four horns came in this class, and that even in these cases it was debatable whether or not their sound was too soft.

After this the sounds were reproduced as though they were a mile away and all the thirty-four horns could be heard. One particularly loud one was still audible at a distance of ten miles. It could be heard distinctly to the amazement of those present. This served to show, as Dr. Fletcher remarked, that the horns are "pretty loud."

The last test was made with a filter which eliminated the high-frequency content of the sounds made by six horns. In four cases the filtered sound was more agreeable than the unfiltered, while in two there was no recognizable difference. In their analyses of the various sounds the investigators discovered that the vibratory horns were more agreeable to the ear because the harmonies in tone are exact multiples of the basic tone.

The quantity of sound was measured by a "noise meter" developed in the Bell laboratory for use in telephone research and gives the amount of noise registered in units called "decibels," zero being the threshold of hearing, and 100 the maximum of disagreeable sounds. In demonstrating the delicate microphone of the machine, a pin was dropped in the room and the meter, at its maximum sensitivity, almost blew up.

NOISES GAUGED

This indicator shows that the amount of noises in the average New York residence is thirty decibels, while in the average business office it is forty-five decibels. Light street traffic registers sixty decibels, and heavy traffic twenty decibels higher. The road of a lion is equivalent to ninety decibels, while subways, steamboat whistles and other similar sounds are scaled at 100. Motorcar horns at a distance of twenty feet outdoors range from seventy to 107 decibels.

With the information gained by these tests the noise abatement commission, which was represented by its director, Edward F. Brown; Charles C. Burlingham, Dr. Fletcher, Dr. Foster Kennedy and Alfred H. Swayne, hopes to be able to decide upon specifications for a horn which will not be offensive to the ear and yet will give adequate warning to pedestrians. Once such a horn has been found, it will be put into use either by the co-operation of automobile manufacturers or, failing that, by legislation.

Governor's Board Thinks Wires at Fault While Marshal Blames Arsonist

COLUMBUS (O.) May 2. (AP)—The cause of the tragic fire at Ohio penitentiary Easter Monday night when 320 convicts locked in their cells were killed was left undetermined late today in two official reports submitted to Gov. Cooper.

The Governor's board of inquiry reported there was strong circumstantial evidence indicating that the fire was started by defective temporary electric wiring. This report listed probable causes as: Incendiarism, spontaneous combustion and the electric wiring, but stressed the latter as the most probable cause.

State Fire Marshal Gill's investigators discarded the electric-wiring theory almost entirely and expressed the belief that the fire was of incendiary origin.

SHULER PLEADS HIS OWN CASE

Contempt Intent Denied But Criticisms Defended

Bar Association Attorneys Urge Jail and Fine

Decision by Court May be Given Next Monday

Rev. R. P. Shuler pleaded in his hearing on a contempt citation before Superior Judge Tappaan yesterday that he did not mean to be in contempt of court, he did not [illegible] certain matters included in his radio castigation of a judge still were pending in the court, and also, he felt he had a perfect right to do what he did.

But, if the court felt differently about it and found it necessary to punish him, would not the court be big enough to fix it so that he could go back east and keep some speaking engagements and attend a religious conference?

"Well, you've got to admit this fellow has guts" is the way Dr. [illegible] Brigich admiringly sized him up in an aside to a newspaper reporter as the hearing got under way.

JAIL TERM URGED

"When a defendant in a case before a court in this community feels that it is incumbent upon him, or upon his friends, to run a radio broadcaster in order to procure a [illegible] or a lenient handling of his case; when a judge of the court tells this respondent (Shuler)—if he [illegible] he has a marked influence upon prospective jurors; when he has the temerity to stand up in open court here and virtually defy the court, then the situation has reached the ultimate limit, and there is nothing left to vindicate the authority and dignity of the court but to give this respondent an opportunity to cool off and do some thinking such as a maximum jail sentence will enable him to do."

Ashburn, as had MacDonald before him, asked for the maximum penalty of five days in jail and a [illegible] fine on each of the seven counts of contempt charged. Judge Tappaan announced that the case was taken under advisement until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which time he is expected to render his decision as to the minister's innocence or guilt.

NOTHING SPECTACULAR

The entire proceedings were devoid of anything spectacular. The charges for the association merely cited certain court records having to do with the cases Shuler admitted he discussed, and with the record in his previous contempt hearing wherein he was found guilty on two counts and fined in connection with his radio utterances on the Pantages case.

Shuler, acting as his own attorney, admitted the utterances as set forth in the information. When he took the witness stand he went over the complaint paragraph by paragraph and entered a specific and general denial of any intent to be in contempt of court, or to influence the court, judges, jurors, or [illegible] jurors, or in any way to obstruct justice. As to the charges having to do with his criticisms of Judge McComb for his action in allowing Charles H. Coffey to file an application for probation in a case involving a charge of driving while intoxicated, Shuler said he did not know the case still was pending when he broadcast his remarks. The arresting officer in the case, a city policeman, had given him the information, he said.

PLEA TO "GO EASY"

It was in reference to the Coffey case that Shuler volunteered the information that one of Coffey's friends had come to him and begged him "to go easy" on Coffey in the case pending before the court.

His reference to the judge telling Shuler of his influence on prospective jurors, came in as part of Shuler's broadcast last Thursday night. The pastor read excerpts of the same broadcast to support his contention that his motives were clean and that he sought to [illegible] justice in the city.

Shuler at one time protested that he had not said these judges [illegible] intentionally. "I have [illegible] that they do it unconsciously or subconsciously," he said.

[illegible] Ashburn rejoined, "but [illegible] this one in reference to Judge McComb where you said: 'Judge McComb did the other [illegible] premeditated, deliberate,

At Bakersfield .59 of an inch fell yesterday, bringing the storm to .83 of an inch and making 4.24 inches for the season.

Towns to the east of Los Angeles received a heavy drenching. At Upland .40 of an inch was reported, making the storm 2.24 inches, while at Ontario .47 inch was registered yesterday with 1.92 inch for the storm. At Chino .68 inch was recorded yesterday with 1.81 inches for the storm period.

IMPERIAL REPORTS MAY DOWNPOUR

MEXICALI, May 2. (Exclusive) Imperial Valley's first May rainstorm in twelve years brought a downpour which amounted to .41 inch in this city and .60 inch in Brawley during the early morning hours today. Showers continued intermittently this afternoon.

County Horticultural Commissioner Horton said that the melon crop suffered only slight damage. If the shower had arrived a week later it might have been a serious disaster to the growers, he said. The main danger now is the possibility that mildew will develop in the fields, due to excessive moisture.

SHOWERS IN NORTH NOT ON SCHEDULE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (Exclusive) — Northern California points from the Oregon border to Fresno received unexpected showers today from a depression that moved onto the continent from the Gulf of Alaska and developed surprising strength. Along the California-Oregon line intermittent storms were so severe an airplane on a combined errand of business and mercy was forced to the earth at an emergency field, discommoding but not injuring any of the three passengers and pilot.

Forecaster Reed said the depression has centered over Alberta but has thrown a trough south to the Mexican border and more showers are anticipated. Temperatures will come down in the Sierras, he predicts, bringing additional snow. There is seven inches at Soda Springs, Sierra gauge point.

Precipitation in inches reported by official northern stations at 5 p.m. was:

LAVINE CASE RAID RAPPED

Judge Orders Arrest of Fitts's Agent Over Seizure of Johnson Girl's Julian Documents

Arrest and prosecution of Jack Chriss, veteran investigator of the District Attorney's office on charges of unlawful search and seizure was ordered yesterday by Superior Judge Schauer, sitting as a trial judge in the $75,000 extortion case against Morris Lavine, former newspaper reporter, and Miss Leontine Johnson.

The order of the court to the City Prosecutor, which dropped like a bombshell during an otherwise quiet court day and created a sensation in prosecution ranks, came as the outgrowth of the arrest of Miss Johnson on the extortion charges and the subsequent search of her apartment and the seizure there by District Attorney investigators of documents, letters, papers and manuscripts, and various other articles.

Apprised of the court order, Chriss, who was on duty, reported to Blayney Matthews, chief investigator, and was in turn taken before Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

The accused officer waited in an ante-room while the District Attorney and his assistants discussed the situation. Later Chriss was ordered to return to his duties and await the action of City Prosecutor Nix. Fitts declined to discuss the charges against his investigator.

Late last night no action had been taken by the City Prosecutor, although Deputy Jacks was in the courtroom during the order of Judge Schauer and left hastily at its conclusion.

Assistant City Prosecutor [illegible] said that he had received no [illegible] had no evidence and had not [illegible] up the law. The order of [illegible] Schauer had been [illegible] into the City Prosecutor's [illegible] Krowl said, but no evidence [illegible] been presented on which to [illegible] complaint.

Two grips, which gained [illegible] prominence in a civil suit against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and are asserted to contain confidential information from the files of S. C. Lewis, former head of the defunct Julian corporation, were a part of the property of the former Lewis secretary seized.

BRIDGE JOB AWARDED ON FISHER BID

Fourth-Street Viaduct Contract Figure Larger Than Engineer's Estimate

The contract for the bridge unit of the Fourth-street viaduct project was awarded by the Board of Public Works yesterday for $1,246,635, to Fisher, Ross, McDonald & Kahn. The bid accepted by the board is 1.3 per cent above the engineer's estimate.

The entire project, including tearing down the old structure, paving, improving and right of way, is estimated at $2,264,000. The expense is to be borne by the city and county, each contributing 25.5 per cent, Union Pacific Railway, 13 per cent, Santa Fe, 21.5 per cent, and Los Angeles Railway, 14.5 per cent. The city supervises the construction.

The total length of the bridge is 2400 feet with a 600-foot ramp to Mateo street. The bridge will be seventy-one feet wide, with five-foot sidewalks and a fifty-six-foot roadway. The viaduct will extend from Anderson street on the east to Molino street on the west, passing over Mission Road, Santa Fe avenue, Los Angeles River and Union Pacific and Santa Fe tracks.

CONTESTANTS FETED HERE

Young Orators and Friends Tendered Luncheon; Speakers Tell Value of Their Efforts

Honoring the victorious contestants in the semifinals of the oratorical contest in Los Angeles to take part in The Times finals, a luncheon was given at the Biltmore yesterday noon. In addition to the contestants, those attending included their immediate friends, the judges and principals and oratorical coaches of all the schools of the district which at any stage participated in this year's competition. About 150 were present.

At the speakers' table were the judges and members of the Los Angeles Board of Education and immediately in front were grouped the young men and the one young woman, in whose honor the luncheon was given.

TOAST TO PRESIDENT

Benjamin F. Bledsoe, as temporary chairman, proposed a toast "To the President of the United States" and welcomed the guests in behalf of the publisher of The Times, now absent in the East, and recalled the meeting of prominent citizens seven years ago, when the plan for a contest on the Constitution was presented with the request for their approval and moral support. He recalled how earnestly was urged the necessity of implanting the fundamentals of American government in the minds of the youth of the country to combat the heresies that were being insidiously broadcast and how the idea had developed into a national and international institution.

Former Judge Bledsoe welcomed the contestants and the guests in the name of the "million and a half counted and the half-million uncounted" residents of Los Angeles, adding that the city is proud to be known as the birthplace of the contest on the Constitution.

Judge Wilbur was introduced as

One hundred and fifty Southern California leaders will greet Katsuji Debuchi, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, at a function to be given in the visiting official's honor in the Music Room of the Biltmore on the 7th inst., according to plans given out yesterday.

While here the envoy will be a guest of the Ambassador.

Conn, her physician, announced yesterday she is out of danger and will be able to leave the hospital in about two weeks. She will then go to Palm Springs for an extended stay to regain her health.

APRIL BUSINESS GAINS DISCLOSED BY SURVEY

Wholesome improvement in a number of lines was reported yesterday in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce's Southwest Business Review for April, referring to statistical records on local business conditions. Water commerce broke all previous records for value of exports and equaled April, 1929, in [illegible]ports. Total of water commerce [illegible]ceeded last April by nearly $12,-[illegible],000.

Bank clearings were better than [illegible]ch by 2½ per cent, but fell [illegible]ut 10 per cent below April, 1929. [illegible]ck exchange transactions were [illegible]ater in value than during the [illegible]eceding months of 1930, although [illegible]me 6 per cent less than April, 1929. Building permits were just about equal to the March figure.

Postal receipts climbed 5 per cent over the March figure, and 6 per cent higher than in April, 1929. Retail sales showed greatest activity that should continue steadily, the bulletin announced. Wholesale price index was 90.75, as against the 1929 average of 96.6.

Among important industries, construction showed considerable activity in the home building and reconstruction field. Wearing apparel and millinery both showed considerable increase in April, due to the Easter buying. Motion pictures are up to normal and are working about 80 per cent of production capacity.

Improvement in employment conditions within a short time is forecast, though seasonal conditions caused a slight drop in April.

April statistics reported were: Number of building permits, 2792, value, $7,026,972; bank clearings, $814,230,683; postal receipts, $942,126; stock exchange transactions, $33,408,753; total water commerce, $95,000,000 and 2,250,000 tons volume; exports, $18,403,000 and 733,000 tons; imports, $4,250,000 and more than 62,000 tons.

ARIZONA YOUTH VICTOR IN ORATORICAL CONTEST

Long Beach Student Takes Second Honors of Pacific Southwest in Constitution Battle

Alfred Baughn, a tall, fair-haired, strong-featured lad from the State of Arizona, captured first place in the Pacific Southwest Oratorical contest on the Constitution at Shrine Auditorium, last night, and incidentally annexed himself to the $500 cash prize offered by The Los Angeles Times. He also won the right to represent the Pacific Southwest at the great contest at Seattle on the 9th inst., where he stands a chance of being selected to go to Washington, D. C., as the champion high school orator of the Pacific Slope.

Baughn's primacy as an orator was not unquestioned, however, as it took the eleven judges the better part of an hour to reach a final decision. Under the rule the winning orator had to have the lowest total score, and also be graded first by a majority of the judges. No contestant met both conditions and the judges had to be called into conference. When finally they emerged they placed Alfred Baughn, Arizona, first; Odie Wright, Long Beach Polytechnic, second, with $250 as the prize; James Pike, Hollywood, third, $100; John Young, Torrence, fourth, $50, and $25 each to the remaining three speakers, Alice Parichan of Reedley, Donald Matson, Pasadena High, and Donald E. Butler, Nevada.

Baughn's voice and personality, his earnestness and convincing manner, added much to his appeal and helped him to win first place.

ARIZONAN IMPRESSES

His oration was on "The Lesson of the Constitution." With the declaration that nations, like men, rise on "stepping-stones of their dead selves to higher things," he traced the progress of peoples striving for liberty up to the time when the "fires of revolt" burned away the fetters that bound the colonies to the mother country and the master minds of the times framed a government that would secure for all time their new-found liberty.

In framing the Constitution the convention set up a new departure in the realm of human government. Never before had a government been established with a division of power into three distinct and co-ordinate branches—the legislative, the executive and the judicial, with such a carefully planned system of checks and balances.

The first Congress of the colonies proclaimed a bill of rights and these rights were guaranteed to the people in the new Constitution. "This is the lesson of the Constitution: We must not merely expect to inherit freedom; we must cherish it, preserve it, and protect it by our devotion to America and her ideals. On stepping-stones of the dead British colonies this mighty nation has arisen. So must we arise, oh, youth of America, on stepping-stones of our dead faults and failures and, with the help of Almighty God, bear aloft the torch of freedom passed to us by our illustrious forefathers and with it scale the heights, climbing upward, ever upward, to honor, victory and success."

BAUGHN'S SUBJECT

Baughn chose as his topic for extemporaneous address, "The Detailed Setting of the Constitutional Convention."

As the winning oration will be delivered in competition in Seattle one week from tonight, it would be obviously unfair to the contestant to print his oration in full at this time.

Odie Wright, winner of second place, spoke for his four-minute off-hand speech on "The Duties of the Citizen;" James Pike, "Dangers Threatening Our Existing Social Order;" John Young, "Problems of Law Enforcement," Alice Parichan, "Leaders in the Constitutional Convention;" Donald Matson, "What I Understand by Liberty Under the Law," and Donald Butler, "The Doctrine of Implied Powers."

The entrants delivered their extemporaneous speeches with remarkable fluency and understanding of their topics, a fact dwelt upon by the presiding officer, Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, who challenged any of the learned judges to make extemporaneous addresses upon any of the topics under the same conditions, and do as well.

AUDITORIUM FILLED

The Shrine Auditorium was filled with an audience of 6500, which responded with vociferous applause to the fervid eloquence of the best school orators of the Southland, in their glorification of the Constitu-

FITTS DENIES HE'LL DROP OUT OF RACE

Julian Cases Will Not Interfere With Candidacy, Prosecutor Asserts

Reiterating his position as a candidate for Governor, Dist.-Atty. Fitts yesterday denied in detail reports that he contemplates withdrawing from the race in a statement issued from his office.

The statement reads:

"Rumors that pressure of work in the Julian matter will cause my withdrawal from the race for Governor are absolutely false.

"I have not withdrawn, and do not intend to withdraw my candidacy for that position. The Julian cases have nothing to do with the political situation.

"I have repeatedly stated heretofore that I will not allow my hopes as a candidate for Governor to interfere with my duties as District Attorney of Los Angeles county."

JULIAN CASE SWAMPS JURY

Papers in Evidence Cause Inquisitors to Dismiss Witnesses Until Documents Are Examined

Swamped under an avalanche of documents submitted by H. L. Carnahan, receiver for the Julian Petroleum Corporation, the county grand jury yesterday temporarily suspended the questioning of witnesses in its inquiry seeking the wreckers of Julian "Pete" and devoted its time to inspection of scores of letters and files.

After the last witness was heard Tom Cavett, District Attorney's investigator, carried three armloads of the documents into the grand jury room.

During the morning session Harry Bauer, an official of the California Bank, spent several hours on the witness stand identifying records subpoenaed from his institution in an effort to trace the financial deals of certain persons believed to have been partially responsible for the Julian crash.

Other witnesses called to testify were Leo Stanley, former employee of the Julian corporation, and Logan Lindley, deputy City Prosecutor, familiar with several phases of the investigation once conducted by the City Prosecutor's office into instances of asserted usury.

Completing its first day's inquiry prompted by the new information obtained by Dist.-Atty. Fitts Thursday, the grand jury adjourned until 10 a.m. Monday, when it will resume the investigation. Meanwhile Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters, and Fred Shelley, his assistant, will continue their classification of material and arrangements for the appearance of additional witnesses before the jury Monday.

After the grand jury adjourned District Attorney's investigators were pressed into service to subpoena nearly a score of witnesses for the Monday session. The officers left the District Attorney's office with orders to make certain that all the witnesses are served over the week-end, and notified that their presence is demanded by the grand jury.

Although Dep. Dist.-Atty Hammon declined to discuss the nature of the new phase of the inquiry, it is believed to be directed toward numerous deals between S. C. Lewis and certain Los Angeles brokers suspected of having knowledge of the Julian stock overissue while the paper still was on the market.

The Lancer

ONE of the mysteries of recent history is the fate of Gen. Zapata. Of all the wild chapters of Mexican revolution the Zapata revolution was the wildest. Zapata was an ignorant, brutal ox driver, who—by the freaks of fate—became a great revolutionist and all but a king in Mexico.

He collected the finest gang of cut-throats ever unhung. The story of the Zapata campaign is a story of unrelieved horror. A grotesque touch is that he finally led his army into Mexico City; but was so overawed by the first big city he had ever seen that he sneaked out again after a stay of a few hours.

People in Mexico tell you that he was executed; that he was killed in battle; that he is still living somewhere in the hills. The real truth is high drama.

A MOVIE PLOT

Zapata was the victim of an elaborate plot which sounds like a movie scenario—and probably will be one some day.

At the height of his career Zapata presented a dire problem for the Mexican government. He had an army of swashbuckling horsemen who couldn't be licked.

THICKENS

One day in a saloon within the Federal army lines there occurred a free fight. A colonel of the army slapped the face of a superior officer and was sentenced to be shot. He escaped on the morning when he was to have been executed.

Later that day he appeared at the camp of Gen. Zapata; told him the story and asked to be enlisted as a revolutionist under his banner.

Like many ignorant people, Zapata was sly and cunning. He told the colonel he would have to prove his loyalty. Zapata gave him command of twenty horsemen and stationed him at a safe distance. Finally told him to attack a Federal outpost. This the deserter did in a workmanlike manner, killing several Federal soldiers.

TREACHERY

He remained for about six months in Zapata's army, carrying out many daring campaigns against the Federals until Zapata's suspicions were relaxed. Nevertheless he and his soldiers were never admitted within the real rebel lines.

One day Zapata had a birthday party and the deserter colonel was one of the guests; a grand time was had. A week later, the colonel announced a birthday party of his own. To disarm suspicion it was to be a barbecue held several miles outside of his own camp.

FATAL FESTIVITIES

Zapata went to the party with a bodyguard and members of his staff.

He found the colonel's soldiers lined up in two lines—at present arms—a corridor of armed men through which he rode apparently without suspicion.

When he got well between the double line of men two or three concealed machine guns opened fire, and that was the end of Gen. Zapata.

Wealthy Long Beach Widow Named in $600,000 Alienation Suit Filed by Surgeon's Wi

MATE ASSERTS LOVE USURPED

Mrs. Fay Bowles Declared to be Worth $1,000,000

Dr. R. A. Terry Well Known in Medical Circles

Improper Acts Listed by His Spouse of Twenty Years

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 2. (Exclusive)—Suit for $600,000 damages was filed today by Mrs. Portia L. Terry, who charges Mrs. Fay K. Bowles, a wealthy widow, with the alienation of the affections of her husband, Dr. Roy A. Terry, and with criminal conversation.

The plaintiff is the wife of one of the best known and wealthiest surgeons in Long Beach. He also is owner of an apartment-house. The Terrys have been married twenty years.

WORTH $1,000,000

Mrs. Bowles lives at the Willmore Hotel. She formerly lived in Portland, Or., and is the widow of a wealthy war-time airplane manufacturer. In the complaint is set forth that the defendant is "a woman of great wealth and has upward of $1,000,000."

The suit is divided under two heads, alienation of affections and criminal conversation. On each ground is asked $250,000 damages and $50,000 exemplary damages.

In the complaint, Mrs. Terry recites that Mrs. Bowles met Dr. Terry in November, 1929, that she visited him at his office and he visited her at her apartment in Long Beach, and that "she deliberately and designedly began a course of conduct toward Roy A. Terry intended to gain and usurp the love of Roy A. Terry."

VISITED APARTMENT

This course, the plaintiff asserts, included telephoning and visiting Dr. Terry without cause or reason "other than the accomplishment of her attempt to alienate and usurp his affections," that she entertained him "in her apartments, "ardently loved and caressed him," and posed as his wife. On the other heading, the surgeon's wife asserts acts in Long Beach, Los Angeles and other communities, and that Mrs. Bowles "ruthlessly violated her husband's constancy." Swaffield & Swaffield filed the suit at the County Clerk's branch office in Long Beach.

Board Ignores Council's Order on Sewer Work

Bids for the second unit of the San Fernando Valley outfall sewer, known as Section 34-B, extending from Woodman avenue to Kester avenue, were called for yesterday by the Board of Public Works. The bids are to be opened the 14th inst., the same date as bids for the first unit, from Laurel Canyon to Woodman avenue.

By this action the board apparently ignores the action of the City Council Thursday in instructing the board not to expend the remaining $1,000,000 of the 1922 outfall sewer bond issue of $12,000,000 for these San Fernando Valley projects, Councilman Henning demanding that former promise be kept that the money be used for sewers in the Harbor district.

McDONALD APPROVED FOR PLANNING BOARD

Lieutenant - Commander Henry McDonald, former naval medical officer, yesterday was confirmed by the City Council as a member of the Planning Commission, succeeding Lyman Farwell, term expired. McDonald, who was nominated last week by Mayor Porter, is a graduate of the University of California and is a native of Los Angeles, having been born at Second street and Broadway.

IOWANS TO PICNIC

Former residents of Belmond, Iowa, will meet at a picnic tomorrow in Lincoln Park, it was announced by the committee.

WATER BOND ISSUE HELD IMPERATIVE

Lawyer Says Failure to Vote Passage Would be Municipal Suicide

Failure to authorize the $38,800,000 water bonds the 20th inst. would be a folly that might prove to be municipal suicide, declared W. H. Anderson, attorney, in a statement issued yesterday calling upon all citizens to vote for the issue. Approval of the bonds will not entail one cent of cost to the taxpayer, he said.

"Stand back of your city's good name and good financial standing and good credit, and vote for the water bonds," said Mr. Anderson.

"Los Angeles is the only metropolis that has ever been successfully built up in a semi-arid region. The limited water that once supplied the needs of the little pueblo of the Angeles years ago ceased to be sufficient for the growing needs of our great and growing city.

"Years ago, therefore, we commenced to look elsewhere for water, and got it in what we then thought was a sufficient quantity for a great many years to come; but we have continued to grow with such unexpected rapidity that even the water thus acquired and added to our original pueblo waters is rapidly becoming insufficient to meet demands."

Los Angeles must look elsewhere for a water supply sufficient to meet our growing needs, he pointed out. This can be acquired only by buying it, he stated.

"The only way such money can be raised and made available is by a bond issue," he continued. "It has been demonstrated that our municipal water system has earned, and will continue to earn, more than enough to pay every dollar of principal and interest upon every necessary investment in necessary water development."

The Western-avenue Chamber of Commerce yesterday added its indorsement to the scores that have been received from civic and business organizations. Other indorsements yesterday include Branch No. 274, Workmen's Circle; Paramount Properties, Inc., and City Attorney Werner.

WIFE FILES ANSWER TO BIXBY SUIT

Denies Desertion Charge and Asks for Divorce on Grounds of Abandonment

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 2. (Exclusive)—A cross-complaint was filed today by Mrs. Bertha Kilgore Bixby in answer to the suit for divorce filed yesterday by Jotham W. Bixby, millionaire son of the founder of Long Beach. In her complaint the wife denies desertion, the principal ground in her husband's suit. In her cross-complaint Mrs. Bixby asks for a divorce on grounds of abandonment.

Mrs. Bixby asserts that she and her husband separated in December, 1928, and that she went to New York to live on agreement with him that he was to follow. She admits all the other particulars in Bixby's complaint excepting the charge of desertion. Her cross-bill was filed in the local branch of the County Clerk's office by Attorney Ralph H. Bloom of Los Angeles.

According to Bixby's original complaint, they were married March 7, 1906, and separated in September, 1927. Mrs. Bixby is living in Hollywood with a daughter 22 years of age.

Writer Urges Peace Efforts

High Lofting, British author of the "Doctor Doolittle" books for children, and disciple of universal peace, spoke to the pupils of the Progressive School, 2140 North Highland avenue, yesterday in the third of a series of lectures by noted authorities at the institution.

Mr. Lofting stressed the importance of making the children of the world feel that it is up to them to establish permanent peace among the nations; to wipe out racial animosities, and to substitute for them something better. The writer has been working for permanent peace ever since the armistice.

The Progressive School idea, Mr. Lofting is convinced, is one of the great hopes of the future in the field of education.

ACTOR'S SON GETS IN PICTURE

Richard Monte Blue

After more than fifteen months of hesitation, Richard Monte Blue, son of Monte Blue, motion-picture actor, finally gets his introduction to the public. Blue and his wife, Mrs. Tove Blue, former Follies beauty, weren't going to permit any pictures to be taken of Richard because when his sister was photographed in infancy her eyes were affected.

However, when Richard became old enough—he was 15 months on April 26—his parents allowed his picture to be taken, a camera study by Preston Duncan, Hollywood portrait artist. This is his first picture. His sister is Barbara Ann Blue, 4 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Blue aren't thinking of a film career for either at present. They're going to educate them first, they said, and then if they want professional careers it is up to them. Blue feels it is the educated men and women who advance farthest in motion pictures, or in any other profession.

WAREHOUSE PLEA UNDER ADVISEMENT

Request for New Sheds on Terminal Island Made to State Rail Commission

Request of the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company for permission to construct and operate a warehouse, of 40,000 square feet capacity, on the southerly end of Terminal Island, Wilmington, was taken under consideration yesterday by the State Railroad Commission.

Officials of the warehouse concern pointed out that there is an immediate need for general storage space on Terminal Island, the only accommodation of that classification being in city sheds now used for other purposes.

Permission also was asked yesterday by the Central Warehouse Company of Los Angeles to construct and operate a warehouse of $250,000 square feet capacity on Mormon Island, in the harbor district. Hearing on this matter was set for next Tuesday.

Druggist Found Guilty of Dry Act Violation

After a short trial yesterday Alfred B. Jacobs, a wealthy wholesale druggist, was found guilty of violation of the National Prohibition Act when a jury in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court returned its verdict.

It had been charged that the druggist had a permit to obtain rub alcohol in large quantities, but that Federal agents made five purchases of fluid and reported it contained alcohol fit for beverage purposes.

Jacobs is to be sentenced Monday.

Dismissal Won by Woman in Poisoning Case

Mrs. Belle M. Lewis, 34-year-old rooming-house proprietor, is free again following dismissal of a charge of attempt to commit murder, on the motion of the District Attorney in Superior Judge Schauer's court.

Mrs. Lewis was accused of attempting to fatally poison Henry P. Lynch, a lodger and part owner in her establishment.

The dismissal was asked on grounds that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a trial.

EDGEWATER CLUB BOUGHT

Jonathan Beach Organization Takes Over Large Establishment at Santa Monica

The Edgewater Beach Club at Santa Monica, one of the largest and most pretentious establishments of the kind on the Southern California coast, has been taken over by the Jonathan Beach Club, Ltd., which was formed by the Jonathan Club of Los Angeles for purposes of the transaction, according to an announcement yesterday by President Jeffries of the latter organization. The consideration was not disclosed.

The building was erected in 1926-1927 for the Edgewater Club of Southern California by the Winter Construction Company on a ninety-nine-year lease basis at a cost of approximately $1,250,000. About a year later the Edgewater Club went into bankruptcy and the place was bought by the Winter Construction Company from which it passed into the hands of a bondholders' committee in 1928. The Edgewater Club is authoritatively said to have had a membership of 2300 with 1600 or 1700 in good standing. The Jonathan Club has taken over the remaining time of the lease from the bondholders' committee.

The Edgewater Club building is a completely equipped nine-story, reinforced concrete structure of Mediterranean style. It contains 100 sleeping chambers, 2000 dressing-rooms, a large swimming pool, five dining-rooms, an auditorium with a seating capacity of 2500 and accommodations on the roof for handball courts.

Frank Goldsborough, on Junior-Coast-to-Coast Hop, Forced Down at Colton

Forced down at Colton last night, Frank Goldsborough, 19-year-old aspirant for the junior transcontinental flight record had to stay over for the night on his coast-to-coast flight. News of his landing ended hours of anxiety felt by aviation enthusiasts waiting at Western Air Express Field, where he had been due to land at 3 p.m. yesterday. FRANK GOLDSBOROUGH

Goldsborough left Yuma at 4:45 p.m. yesterday after rain had forced him to interrupt what had been intended to be a nonstop hop from Tucson, where he left at 11 a.m.

The youthful flyer is a son of Brice Goldsborough, pilot of the ill-fated plane "Dawn," which was lost in a trans-Atlantic attempt made by him and Mrs. Frances Grayson. Young Goldsborough is seeking a junior record for the coast-to-coast time, though not a nonstop flight. He left Westwood, N. J., last Monday. His flight has been interrupted by several accidents, but he kept gamely on.

Among other charges were three indictments for violations of the Tariff Act; one, naming two persons, for violation of the National Prohibition Act; two for violation of the Immigration Act and three for violations of the Dyer Act.

PAVING GRAFT PENALTY FIXED

Earle and Breitenstein Get Terms in Prison

Judge Aggeler Denies Plea for New Trial

Defrauding of Pasadena in City Work Charged

Warren C. Earle, former Pasadena City Engineer, and T. C. Breitenstein, paving contractor, yesterday were sentenced to San Quentin prison by Superior Judge Aggeler as a result of their recent conviction on charges of defrauding the foothill city out of approximately $42,000 in paving contracts. They must serve a term of from one to ten years.

Sentence was passed by the court immediately after the defendants' motion for a new trial was denied.

Following their conviction two weeks ago Earle and Breitenstein sought to obtain a new trial on grounds that the testimony of Cletus Ward, former city paving inspector, was that of an accomplice and lacked corroboration, and therefore was not admissible as evidence. Ward testified that he was paid $5000 as his share of the graft. He was granted immunity in exchange for his testimony.

It was charged that Earle, Breitenstein, Ward and Thomas F. Ducey, Breitenstein's business partner, conspired to mulct the city of Pasadena out of large sums of money on the Colorado and Linda Vista paving contracts a year ago. Ducey has not been tried because physicians reported he was too ill to appear in court. He has been critically ill since he was indicted by the grand jury in the fall of 1929.

BEACH CITY OIL HEARING SET

Santa Monica Council Will Take Up Petition of 2000 For Drilling Permits Monday

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, May 2.—A hearing on the petition of 2000 Ocean Park property owners for a permit to drill for oil in a zone covering approximately one-third of this city's area, lying in the southeasterly section, will be conducted publicly by the Santa Monica City Council Monday morning, according to a resolution adopted yesterday.

The City Planning Commission recommended granting the petition after a stormy session last Tuesday, when the Council chamber was jammed by proponents and opponents of the proposal to spot zone so large an area.

Declaring petroleum exploitation in a residential city of Santa Monica's character would be ruinous, the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce has gone on record before the Planning Commission with recommendations that the question be settled by a direct vote of the people through an initiative ordinance to prohibit drilling for oil within the city limits of Santa Monica. As an alternative on the ballot the special committee appointed by the chamber proposed that drilling be permitted in a restricted section under all accepted regulations and safeguards, but in no other section of the city.

Mayor Michel, as a member of the Planning Commission, already has voted in favor of the drilling petition. He declared that before a final permit is issued to any applicant, all the proper safeguards and guarantees will be attended to.

City officials declared today there is no thought of opening up the highest-class residential areas in the northerly and coastwise areas of the city and that drilling permits will be issued only in areas where property values would be least [illegible] by the petroleum exploitation.

ELEVEN AWAIT TRIAL AS REDS

May Day Demonstrators Enter Pleas

Ten Cases Put on Calendar for 29th Inst.

Bill Distributor's Hearing Set for Tuesday

Eleven Communist sympathizers, five men and six women, arrested by police in connection with the May Day demonstrations near the Plaza, were arraigned in Municipal Court yesterday. With the exception of Luke Jackman, arrested in San Pedro for violating the handbill ordinance by distributing Red literature, trial for each was set for the 29th inst. Jackman's jury trial was set by Judge Curtis for Tuesday when he declared he could not furnish bail.

Russell Dell, leader of a Red demonstration squad, pleaded not guilty to charges of battery, interfering with an officer and parading without a license filed following his asserted assault on Police Officer Canady. His bail was set at $625 on the three charges. David Pradkin and Lawrence Rauersmith entered similar pleas to battery charges as did Andrew Dougall to a handbill charge. All asked jury trial and, with the exception of Dell, were ordered released on $100 bail each.

Mrs. Lillian Silverman, charged with parading without a license, and Mrs. Seema Kaspin, Mrs. Eda Locke, Mrs. Anna Stark, Bessie Robinson and Sarah Rubin, charged with blocking the sidewalk, were arraigned before Municipal Judge Russill. Through their attorney, Leo Gallagher, all pleaded not guilty and waived jury trial. They were ordered released on $100 bail each pending trial.

Complaints charging several more Communist sympathizers with offenses committed during the demonstrations were issued yesterday by City Prosecutor Nix. The defendants will be arraigned this morning before Judge Curtis.

JUDGE DENIES DIVORCE IN NUDE PHOTOS CASE

After a contested hearing lasting two days Superior Judge Hahn yesterday denied a decree of divorce to either party in the suit of George Walters, local photographer, and his wife, Lydia Walters. The court did, however, allow the mother to keep the couple's two children, and gave attorneys until Monday to agree upon the amount of support money the father should pay.

The photographer accused his wife of an affair with James Powell, night watchman of the building in which his studio is located. Mrs. Walters accused her husband of being too familiar with women and that he took photographs of women in the nude on the pretext he was making pictures for art's sake. She also accused him of having drunken parties in his studio.

Judge Hahn denied each a decree. He said that the husband's conduct had been such that would not permit granting him a divorce. On the other hand, the wife, too, had been guilty of indiscretions. He said, however, it was his opinion that Walters's charge against his wife and the watchman was unfounded.

As to the photographs, Judge Hahn declared that any woman would object to her husband taking pictures of women in the nude, or a husband would object to a wife taking photographs of nude men.

"If such pictures have to be taken for art's sake, it would be better that a single man, not a married man, take them," the judge declared.

URE STIRS DGE'S WRATH

[illegible] the property of Miss Johnson, reported to have contained secret documents and papers which would reveal the inner workings and causes of the Julian crash. These grips were taken from the apartment of the woman a short time after her arrest and yesterday made their appearance with their contents at the hearing.

With the grips, the arresting and raiding officer brought a sixty-page article, described as a story written for the Los Angeles Examiner that was prepared by Miss Johnson and Lavine and which was alluded to as an expose of the Julian mess.

WARRANT FAULTY

Under questioning of Judge Schauer, Chriss had testified as to the issuance of the warrant of arrest and search warrant on Miss Johnson's apartment and Investigator Cavett had testified to the seizure of the documents and the subsequent search.

It was under cross-examination by Attorney Rush, counsel for Johnson, when the first intimation came that the search warrant might be faulty and illegal. The defending attorney put Chriss through a searching interrogation as to the history of the document. Suddenly, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Dennison and McKay announced that they would stipulate to the court and jury that the search warrant was void. This was a practical admission, the prosecutors later explained, that the rights of the defendant Johnson were encroached upon.

Following the noon hour and after repeated attempts on the part of the prosecutors to get the documents, manuscripts and papers before the jury as evidence, the action of Judge Schauer came.

Interrogating Dennison as to his position in offering the manuscripts and documents, Judge Schauer stated that it seemed to the court that the offer should be in the nature of rebuttal to anticipated defense. This position was accepted by Dennison in announcing that he would delay further offer.

JUDGE'S STATEMENT

At this point the court began his statement ordering the arrest and prosecution of Chriss, saying:

"Much to the regret of this court the constitutional rights of individuals apparently have been somewhat encroached upon by the judicial decisions.

"This court is not going to be a party to any further whittling away of those rights.

"The Fourth and Fifth amendments to the Constitution of the United States and Section 10 of Article I of the constitution of the State of California purport to secure to citizens a right inviolate to their homes and personal property, secure against unlawful searches and seizures.

"It has been held that when property was unlawfully taken and produced in court that the courts would not inquire into the manner by which such property reached the court; but I do not believe that those decisions go to the extent of holding that where it is stipulated that the property was unlawfully seized, that the court may not take notice of the manner in which it was produced; it being the effect of those holdings that the court in the first instance will not inquire how the property came into court, but in this case it has been stipulated that the purported search warrant was void, and, therefore, the court, without any inquiry, has it brought to its attention that there was an invasion of personal rights.

STATE LAW QUOTED

"But even though the court may be somewhat limited in its power to inquire into those things, I find that the Legislature adopted Section 146 of the Penal Code, which declares that 'Every public officer or person pretending to be a public officer, who, under the pretense or color of any process or other legal authority, arrests any person, or detains him against his will, or seizes or levies upon any property or dispossesses one of any lands or tenements withoupt regular process or other lawful authority, therefore, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

"Now, if that section is enforced it may make it unpopular with peace officers to so flagrantly violate the constitutions of the United States and of the State of California.

"It having come to the attention of this court today that one Jack Chriss has apparently been guilty of a violation of Section 146 of the Penal Code, this court directs that Jack Chriss be taken into custody and that the City Prosecutor of this city proceed to prosecute him for a violation of Sec. 146, Penal Code."

The first witness yesterday was Chriss and he was followed by Cavett, who identified the grips and papers taken from the Johnson apartment. Cavett said that he made two trips there and during his testimony the various seizures were exhibited.

Cavett also told of the arrest of Lavine and of his denial that he had any money a few seconds before the $75,000 was taken from his inside pockets. He also testified that Charles Crawford, at whose office the money was received, said to Lavine: "This is what happens when you shake-down your friends." The witness also testified that Crawford said: "Morris, you're just a blackmailer." Lavine hung his head at this charge, according to the witness, and made no answer.

The entire testimony of Cavett was later ordered stricken from the record by the court on the grounds of the faulty search warrant which the witness used in searching the Johnson home.

OTHER WITNESSES

Other witnesses heard yesterday as the first week of the hearing adjourned until Monday at 10 a.m. and the jury was ordered locked up over the week-end were Arthur Morris, son of Abe Morris, broker, who testified as to a meeting prior to the publication of the first article in the Los Angeles Examiner which was attended by Jack Bennett, Charles Crawford and Jacob Friedlander and the senior Morris.

Morris said that Bennett had a typewritten copy of the article that was destined to appear in the Monday issue of the newspaper and that it's impending publication was discussed.

Mrs. Helen M. Beach, landlady at the apartment of Miss Johnson, and Mrs. Laura M. Hardy, owner, testified that the woman occupied quarters in the building from early February until early in March and that a portion of the time she was known as Mary Smith.

Louis Berman, brother of Jacob, was called, but apparently only served as chauffeur for his brother on the trip to the Morris home and attended him at a meeting with Miss Johnson in the law office of Christensen & Critchley. The witness did not remember the substance of any of the conversations.

Joseph Loeb, an attorney, told of a luncheon meeting with Lavine at which the now famed Johnson documents were discussed as also their value to certain brokers and the advisability of their purchase. The publication of the expose series was also discussed, Loeb testified, as well as the appearance of a book to be written by Miss Johnson which was to reveal the inner secrets of the Julian debacle.

SHULER PLEADS HIS OWN CASE

studied and purposely done, and don't you forget it."

Shuler in his argument reiterated that he meant no harm to the judges or the courts, and was utterly at a loss to see why he should be hailed into courts for doing things which he said the newspapers are doing every day. He admitted that he could not criticise a court on a matter still pending, but he did not know this matter was pending. He declared that whatever he did was in service to the community.

ASHBURN'S ARGUMENT

Ashburn bluntly argued that all Shuler was trying to do was to impress his will on the courts to see that they administered justice as Shuler thought it should be administered, and if they did not he indulged in vilification of the courts and sought to bring them into public disrepute and scorn. In addition, said Ashburn, there was no sign of penitence, no word of palliation from Shuler. There was only his insistence of his right to do as he has done.

When the proceedings opened Judge Tappaan asked Mr. Shuler whether or not he had retained counsel, and the minister said he had not, but would act as his own attorney. The court earlier had requested Public Defender Vercoe to be present, and he was, but later the court advised that he did not believe the presence of the Public Defender necessary.

"It has been intimated that you feel you are not ready to go to trial," the judge said to the defendant. "It is not my practice to make a man go to trial unless he has had ample time to prepare. How do you feel about it?"

Mr. Shuler said that of course it was short notice for such a lengthy citation, but he would proceed. Judge Tappaan was insistent that Shuler state whether or not he wanted more time, and Shuler replied that he was ready to go ahead. "I am going to trial at my own request at this time," he said.

COFFEY GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

Charles H. Coffey, 38 years of age, who pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to stop and give aid after an automobile accident on January 6, last, yesterday was sentenced to ninety days in the County Jail as one of the conditions of three years' probation granted by Superior Judge McComb.

The prosecution charged that Coffey drove through a pedestrian zone, knocking down two women without stopping.

SPOUSE PREFERRED NEWER COMPANION

When Mrs. Petra Victorina objected to her husband, Jose Victorina, bringing another woman into their home five months after their marriage, he told her to get out, the wife asserted yesterday when granted a divorce by Superior Judge Collier. "He insisted that the other woman live with us, and when I refused to accept her my husband compelled me to leave," the wife said.

Bakersfield Woman Says Bullet Fired at Her on Ridge Route Trip

Nothing but the potency of the left hind foot of a graveyard rabbit, which she was carrying in her purse, saved Mrs. Loretta Fitzgerald, 22-year-old Bakersfield woman, from death by gunshot wounds while she was driving over the Ridge Route recently, she declared yesterday.

A bullet, assertedly fired at her, penetrated the body of the automobile in which she was riding and missed her head by a fraction of an inch, she said.

Mrs. Fitzgerald asserts that her 26-year-old estranged husband fired the shot. He was arrested at his home, 6110 Central avenue, Thursday night by Deputy Sheriffs Brewster and Croushorn, and is now held in the County Jail pending an investigation by Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's homicide squad.

Group Enjoined in Realty Fight

Injunction against the activities of Buron Fitzgerald, Charles Fitzgerald, James Sheridan and David Creely in "organizing" the purchasers of land from the Clevelin Realty Company was made permanent in Superior Judge Hanby's court yesterday, after a showing by plaintiff's attorneys, Ingall W. Bull, Frank C. Weller and Cleveland Schultz, Jr.

Several affidavits on file with the court asserted that a "recovery committee" had been formed by Fitzgerald after he had been discharged by the Clevelin company, and letters were written to clients of the firm telling they had made a bad investment, and offering to recover the money invested for a percentage. These practices are enjoined by the court's action yesterday.

MAYOR INTERROGATES BEAN

Police Captain Questioned on Accident for Which Commission Voted Suspension

Mayor Porter yesterday conferred with Chief of Police Steckel and Capt. James Bean of the homicide squad who was suspended last Sunday following a collision between his car and that of a civilian, and following the conference stated that his views will be conveyed through the action of the Police Commission when it takes up the matttr of the approval or disapproval of the suspension at a regular meeting.

Suspension of Bean and also Officer McCoole followed a report to Chief Steckel by Commissioner Drake that five witnesses had informed him that Bean had been drinking and caused the accident. McCoole was suspended for not making a report within twenty-four hours of the accident.

Thursday Chief Steckel, after an investigation, furnished a copy of his report to the Mayor, which is understood to have revealed that there was no indication that the police captain had been drinking, according to witnesses and others who had talked to the captain before the accident. Also, it is reported, physicians who examined Bean declared he showed no indication of having taken intoxicants.

Following the submission of this report, Steckel and Bean were called into the conference yesterday to enable the Mayor to question Bean himself.

McCoole's excuse for not reporting the accident was that nobody was injured, although it developed afterward that Capt. Bean had bruised his nose but did not consider it an injury sufficient for a report.

While the matter was taken up with the Mayor by Chief Steckel, under the charter it is the Police Commission which takes action following suspensions. The Mayor, however, may convey to the commission his wishes in the matter.

MYSTERY VEILS LEAP OF DEATH

Colorado-Street Bridge Girl's Suicide Scene

Victim Believed to Have Been Poisoned

Actor Witnesses Tragedy; Inquiry Launched

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 2.—Evidence that she had been drugged and possibility that she recently had been jilted by a man, caused the local police to launch a searching investigation into the death of Esther E. Esteb, 22 years of age, of 263 South Larchmont Boulevard, Los Angeles, who took her life by leaping from the Colorado-street bridge today.

Olympia Guilherme, Brazilian screen actor, was the only eyewitness of the tragedy and reported that he made a futile effort to clutch the young woman's dress as she climbed over the railing at the west end of the bridge.

Guilherme was questioned for six hours and released by Detective Lieutenants Henry Collins and Frank Clendenen, who reported that he appears to have had no connection with the affair.

ACTOR'S VERSION

The motion-picture actor asserted that he and Miss Esteb happened to be passengers on the same bus traveling from Hollywood to this city and that both stepped off the bus at the west end of the Colorado street bridge. Guilherme stated that while he was waiting for Fred Pitney, a friend, to pick him up and take him to the Flintridge-Biltmore Hotel, he noticed the girl run east a few yards on the bridge and place one foot on the north railing. He ran toward her, but as he stretched out his arm to grip her skirt, she made a quick lunge and hurtled into space.

At the point where the jump was made the fall is less than sixty feet to the canyon bottom, so the police are working on the theory that the victim may not have intended to take her life, but merely to injure herself in order to frighten someone in whom she was interested.

CHLOROFORM DETECTED

The girl was rushed in an ambulance to the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, where she was pronounced dead by Chief Surgeon C. C. Troensegaard. Her spine was fractured and the right leg broken. The body was taken to the Reynolds & Eberle mortuary.

A mystery angle was injected into the case when Dr. Troensegaard discovered the odor of chloroform about the victim's mouth. No notes indicating that she planned to end her life were discovered among her effects.

A telegram to the girl dated April 30, sent from Seattle by "Carmel," reads: "Mother and aunty came to see me about your telegrams. Am fine. Have not seen Palmer since Easter. Have not met Baker. Do not quit job. Mrs. Hartman returned. Do not intend to see Palmer any more."

HAD BEEN WORRIED

The victim's mother, Mrs. M. V. Estep, is reported to reside at 1206 East Thirty-fifth street, Tacoma, Wash.

Miss Estep, according to the detectives, was in the employ of Gouley Burcham & Co., Los Angeles brokerage firm. Her employers report that she had appeared very worried recently about her mothers' health.

The police learned tonight that Miss Estep quarreled a week ago with a wealthy Beverly Hills man in whose company she had been for the last six months. The name of this man was not revealed, but he is reported to be an American.

The date for the inquest has not been set.

According to local police records, Miss Estep is the twenty-ninth victim of the local "suicide bridge."

As a result of her death, Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley plans to renew his former attempts either to install life nets beneath the graceful span or increase the height of the bridge railings.

ASSOCIATION SETS BEACH SAVING GOAL

New Group Formed With Nine Major Objectives in Shore Line Preservation

Permanent organization of the California Beach Association under a plan similar to that of the national organization, known as the American Shore Preservation Association, was effected yesterday noon during a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce Building. Officers of the new organization were elected and a constitution and by-laws adopted.

Nine major objectives in the preservation and maintenance of California beaches were set by the association, according to C. J. S. Williamson, manager of the civic development and real estate department of the chamber, who called the gathering together.

Officers elected are: President, Fred E. Wadsworth, county superintendent of recreation camps and playgrounds; vice-president, Duncan McDuffie, president of the California State Parks Council, and secretary-treasurer, J. R. Hunt, manager, Venice branch, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

One of the first official acts of the new organization was the unanimous indorsement of the proposed study and survey of the Los Angeles county coastal line extending from Malibu on the north to White's Point on the south, which is to be undertaken by the Los Angeles City Playground Department.

TAX LAW TO BE DISCUSSSED

Inheritance tax laws will form the subject of discussion at noon Monday following the weekly luncheon of the Federation of State Societies in Leighton's Cafeteria, 542 South Broadway. William B. Brown is to be the principal speaker. Harry B. George, vice-president, will preside.

Avoid Lye. Your plumber will tell you to avoid lye to clear clogged drains. When using a beaten egg shampoo only the scalp should be rubbed with the egg. Egg shampoo should be made and used at once, as it will not keep more than a day. For light hair use only the egg whites, as the yolks are liable to darken it. Today's Bible Text

What! Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.—I Cor. xix-xx.

CENSUS SLACKERS

Statistics are lacking on the subject; but we are curious to know whether the census evaders are mostly male or female. The matter of age seems to be the sticking point with some.

SUPER-SECRET SERVICE

The super-secret service about to be instituted by Chief Steckel might be made up of cross-eyed men. The policemen and thugs would be at a loss to know which were being shadowed.

RED-HANDED

Soviet Russia wants American tourists and accordingly proposes to abolish the $22 visas tax. That bread line must need the American dollar badly.

MEXICO NEXT

And now Mexico is moved to take a census, also. It will be her first serious attempt and will be done on May 15. A holiday has been declared and enumerating the folks will be more or less of a picnic. It has its good points.

TOTAL ECLIPSES

There may not be another total eclipse of the sun in California for fifty-seven years, but there are other eclipses: Carnera by the State Boxing Commission; Old Man Gloom by General Prosperity; Graft and Corruption by Buron Fitts; Cold Snow and Tornadoes by the California Climate.

SOME PRIZE EGGS

National Egg Week has been proposed. There are some prominent eggs in America. "Scarface Al" Capone might head the list. Then there is the fellow in the brown derby, the road hog, alleged "politicians," the guy who reads the titles out loud at the movies and that "extra U. S. large" egg who makes the eagle scream.

AS CLEAR AS GRAVY

A professor of physics says that Einstein's link between gravitation and electricity is easy. In an "isolated charged sphere he finds relation between the factors 'E' and 'M,' the electrical and gravitational factors, respectively, involving no other terms except those dependent upon the co-ordinate systems used." Now there are thirteen people in the world who understand Einstein.

DISHWASHING

There are champion runners, champion coffee drinkers, champion boxers, champion golfers, champion tennis players, champion dancers, champion typists and even champion sparkplugs. But the championest champ is the champion dishwasher.

Madonna Asslin is it. She won her laurels recently and will reign Queen of the Food Show of the Retail Grocers' Association at the Ambassador Auditorium on May 12-17. Her face is beautiful and her fingers appear the pink of perfection.

She did her stuff against a field, or possibly it should be called a kitchen, of fourteen other contestants and stacked high 180 plates the acme of cleanliness in twenty-five minutes.

Man's heart goes out to her. She could not have accomplished the feat save by constant practice at the kitchen sink. And then it seems to run in the family, for her sister was champion last year. We venture her mother is a champion cook.

The breakage of ten plates and cups may seem a trifle large to a connoisseur, but, considering the daily disasters of the regular maid, they are inconsequential.

A youth may have a good time with other champions. He may be yanked around the floor in a semidazed condition by a flapper in a dance marathon for two or three months of waltzing and wiggling. He may be proud to be introduced to the champion long-distance talker. He may feel a glow to be intimately acquainted with the marathon necker. But when it comes to choosing a wife, he will haunt the home of the champion dishwasher.

MARCH OF PROSPERITY

Through the vale of depression the United States marched at the beginning of the year and it is now on its way to the heights again. This was the tenor of the message which President Hoover on Thursday delivered to the United States Chamber of Commerce, coupling it with definite warning that the efforts which are reviving prosperity need to be continued with no let-up, until enough momentum has been gained to make sure that there will not be backsliding.

One of the most important parts of the President's address was that in which he held out hope that some means may be discovered for preventing inflation and such consequent catastrophes as the nation suffered last fall. While, as he showed, mere control of interest rates through the Federal Reserve system is not wholly effective, this does not mean that some additional mechanism will not act as a brake to speculation if one can be invented.

An important step was taken in the segregation of credits to limit the disaster. While "call money" went up to 18 per cent, money for business and commercial development remained steady at 5 to 6 per cent. The segregation was not complete, the President admitted, but even the partial segregation that was accomplished prevented the stock debacle from becoming generalized. The storm shook the superstructure, but left the foundation almost untouched, in other words. In previous stock inflations, the flow of capital to speculation weakened the basic structure; yet in this affair there were involved neither any important bank nor any important business crashes.

One reason for this, as the President said, is that business was forewarned and made preparation, and those who suffered were the heedless who would not listen and follow the good example that was being set.

The depression of 1921, he pointed out, led to a better statistical service being arranged in the Department of Commerce, which provided the storm signals upon which business acted. Further improvement upon this service, together with an accurate barometer of unemployment, and a wider understanding of the use and value of such statistics are the needs of today and tomorrow.

This does not involve government meddling in, or government direction of business and industry, in the President's opinion.

"I do believe," he said, "that our experience shows that we can produce helpful and wholesome effects in our economic system by voluntary co-operation through the great associations representative of business, industry, labor and agriculture, both nationally and locally.

"And it is my view that in this field of co-operative action outside of government lies the hope of intelligent information and wise planning. The government can be helpful in emergency, it can be helpful to obtain and spread information.

"Such action, however, as may be developed must adhere steadfastly to the very bones of our economic system, which are the framework of progress; and that progress must come from individual initiative; and in time of stress it must be mobilized through co-operative action."

Further stress on the value of initiative, the free play of constructive forces, was laid by the President in his peroration. He said:

"He would be a rash man who would state that we can produce the economic millennium, but there is great assurance that America is finding herself upon the road to secure social satisfaction, with the preservation of private industry, initiative and a full opportunity for the development of the individual.

"It is true that these economic things are not the objective of life itself. If by their steady improvement we shall yet further reduce poverty, shall create and secure more happy homes, we shall have served to make better men and women and a greater nation."

These were far wiser sentiments for a May Day oration than were produced anywhere under the Red flag.

ROD-AND-LINE TIME

Now is the time when the speckled and rainbow beauties in creeks, streams and mountain lakes rise to the May fly; when the voice of big hubby is heard in the land worrying little friend housewife to hunt up waders and woolen stockings and corduroy coats; when the sports stores smilingly enter orders for reels and lines and artificial fly books; when the winter of the fisherman's discontent is made glorious summer by another open season; when the head of the family again solves the high price of living by sallying forth to catch a half-pound trout with $75 worth of fancy tackle.

What a sense of freedom and forgetfulness sweeps down from the hills and mountains into the homes of Californian cities at the challenge of the brook trout—"If you have the skill of the wrist and a nose for the pool among the rocks, come out and catch us if you can." What old resident of our land of the out-of-doors but knows what it means to find sermons in stones and books in the running brooks, an old-fashioned dominie, rod in hand.

Now for a while our vocabulary changes. No longer are we talking of Hancock Oil, United Linen Preferred, Union Associates or Federal Bank discount rates. Now the magic words on the lips of the man who really lives are San Gabriel River, Cedar, the Sespe, Little Coldbrook, Big Rock Creek, Jackson Lake, Green Valley and Arrowhead. Now we are not speculating in grain or cotton futures, but on the present conditions of water and weather in old well-remembered haunts where the fightingest fish last May provided the big thrills of the season.

May is here and it is rod-and-line time again. Who would trade for all the banquets and luncheons of business the scent of the rainbow trout right off the hook frying over the burning pine cones in mountain camp, without benefit of chairmen or set speeches—just the stars, the tall fir trees and desultory swapping of fish stories?

And if one is more of a lazy man than a fisherman, what odds? The stream and the willow and sight of the leaping trout we shall never land is still excuse enough for donning four-pluses, shouldering pole and basket and escaping for a few short days from the ineffectual feasts of the city to life nearer the bone, where it is sweetest.

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE

Thoreau would be surprised to know that Gandhi read his essay on "Civil Disobedience" away back in 1907. There is a suspicion that the Hindu reformer got his ideas from the American recluse. Thoughts are explosive.

ARMED JURY

A Jacksonville (Fla.) one-armed Coroner rounded up six one-armed jurors to sit on a case of a woman who had been accidentally drowned. Such a jury might be useful to try hit-and-run drivers.

FARMER'S GOLF

Now if the farmer would only take up golf, he could hoe his corn and get the ball out of the rough by the same stroke. Work would become pleasure and dubs would have a reason for their continued existence.

VOICES OF THE NIGHT

By James J. Montague

At night, what time I seek repose,
  If it is summer weather,
I hear my neighbors' radios—
  A score or so together.
Some airs are vibrant, strong and tense
  And others light and snappy
And, as a needful consequence,
  The output is not happy.

A cocktail of vermouth and gin—
  In days when such was vended—
The most exacting heart could win
  If it was deftly blended.
And pie—the species known as mince—
  Has always been a fixture,
For its ingredients evince
  An aptitude for mixture.

But trombone solos, coster songs
  And bells that shrilly jingle
May be combined with Chinese gongs
  And never quite commingle.
And when I hear a violin,
  A bass, a yodling peasant
All adding to the general din,
  I hardly find it pleasant.

When music, heavenly maid, was young—
  Unless the dope's erroneous—
The ditties that were played and sung
  Were splendidly harmonious.
But though, since I was but a lad,
  Through many a land I've rambled,
I've not heard anything as bad
  As music when it's scrambled.

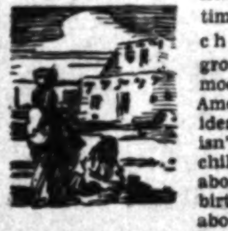
The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

OH, TO be a boy again!

Our friend, Moses Bellmard, Kaw Indian chief, who has been living here for some time and whose children are growing up as modern young Americans, has an idea we like. He isn't rearing his children to think about their "lost birthright," but about the birthright they possess, that of American citizenship and equal opportunity. He wants the Indians to take full part as American citizens in modern American life. But he also wants the white Americans to better understand the red Americans. And he feels that if the white children grow up with understanding and friendship for the Indian, they will not have to unlearn a lot of misinformation and overcome a lot of prejudice in later life.



So Bellmard is arranging to take about thirty Los Angeles boys, between the ages of 10 and 16, on a trip through the Indian country of the Southwest. They will travel by motor bus, but will camp every night. They will go from Los Angeles to Santa Fe first, then visit Indian tribes, spend three days on a big cattle ranch and be taught a great deal of Indian tradition and history, woodcraft and plainscraft. The trip will last about thirty days.

Dunno, But You'd Best Vote the Water Bonds

If April showers bring May flowers,
As all the poets sing,
Then what the heck, will you please tell,
Do April dry spells bring?

Fantastic Life Story

Wallace Smith, who writes scripts for motion pictures in Hollywood, has a life story more fantastic than any he writes. As a kid of 14 he worked in a Chicago lace factory to make money to study art, his job being to bundle up Chicago-made laces for shipment to Switzerland, whence it was then "imported" for the American trade. He quit both lace and art school, though, to get a job in a newspaper office—as office boy—and worked up to reporter. He was assigned to cover a hanging one day and wrote such an unusual story about it that he became the paper's expert on necktie parties, covering forty in all.

But he kept up his art, working independently of schools. He pretended to be an interne in a city hospital in order to study models who did not know they were being studied. Later that study bore fruit in his illustrations for Cosmopolitan Magazine. Such astute critics as Douglas Fairbanks treasure some of "Wally's" pictures, and his illustrations of Ben Hecht's "Fantazius Millare" attracted the attention of even a Federal grand jury.

Yesterday we heard an artist who is himself a man of national reputation assert that Smith is the greatest artist, in his line, in the country.

All a Matter of Practice

In 1916 Wally went to Mexico as a newspaper correspondent and had the thrill of being sentenced to death by a firing squad. "I was told that Mexican tradition demanded that one facing a firing squad must be nonchalant and debonair," he says. "But look at the practice they've had! I'll confess I was scared limp."

But some one in authority decided it would be poor policy to execute an American just then, so he was set free. He returned to this country, wrote his first novel, "The Little Tigress," was asked to adapt it for the screen—and has been tied up with screen contracts ever since, though he also has written five more books. "Condemned" is one of his more recent adaptations.

But when he tires of the fleshpots of moviedom he expects to blossom out as an artist again; and his artistic friends expect that reblossoming to be a notable event.

Villain Still Pursued

Though the poetry contest is all over, the stack of unread verse still is a couple of feet high. One poet protests that we have published hardly anything dealing with the tender passion. So here:

Together

Whatever meed the years may bring
Of nights that moan or days that sing,
As in the past we still shall cling
Together.

And when the golden bowl shall break,
We ask what friends there be to take
Our dust, and only one mound make—
Together.

Spring Hopes Eternal

"I am too busily engaged in a new spring love affair to write," naively confides a poetess, "but here are the results of last April's hallucination:

Would you return should I repent,
Or is the hurt all healed?
Convention was a word we scorned—
Today my lips are sealed.

"Wherever I may be, my dear,"
(Those were the words you said)
"I'll come the day you want me,
You stubborn auburn-head."

But, oh! her hair is silken,
And her mouth a streak of flame!
I'm doubtful that you'd hear me
Should I cry aloud your name.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

DECREPIT AUTOMOBILES

[Washington Post]

A survey by the automobile department of The Post reveals that motorists and pedestrians in Washington are endangered by the operation of thousands of defective cars and trucks. Every unfit machine that is driven through the streets is a potential source of accidents. The large percentage of accidents caused by worn-out brakes, defective steering gear and maladjusted headlights is sufficient reason to demand that these automobiles be kept off the streets.

Another disadvantage arising from the operation of numerous antiquated and defective automobiles ought to be considered. On the theory that a system is no stronger than its weakest part, traffic regulations must be made to fit the most inefficient machine on the streets. The operation of approximately 30,000 obsolete machines in Washington necessitates enforcement of regulations which were adopted prior to the advent of the modern car. The general result is traffic stagnation such as is experienced in few other large cities.

If motorists in Washington were required to keep their automobiles in condition, some of the regulations that now congest traffic could be liberalized without subjecting the public to any greater danger. Most of the large cities of the country have come to recognize the necessity of facilitating rather than restricting traffic, and mechanical efficiency of vehicles is one of the first prerequisites of this change in policy.

TWO EXITS

[Baltimore Sun]

When any ordinary citizen makes a decision and it has unfortunate personal consequences he has to face the music. Judges are in a far more enviable position. Often they can first determine how they would like to decide a case. Having done that, they can hunt through enormous libraries of precedents at their disposal, and, if they can find some that fit their disposition, they can safely hang their decisions on the sacred peg of precedent. If their search for precedents is unavailing, they can decide the way they want to, anyway, and justify themselves by reference to a unique state of facts in the case.

HIGHER POWER

[Portland Oregonian]

It is unthinkable—and we shall not think it—that the power of law and public sentiment is not greater than the power of organised criminality. There must be ways of getting at the gangsters, little and large, even as there are means provided for punishment. The condition has ceased to be an affront solely offered to Chicago. It is an affront to America.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Under the Direction of Dean Rockwell Hunt

XVIII

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

BY DEAN LAIRD J. STABLER

Like the college of dentistry the college of pharmacy had its beginnings in the affiliated school of medicine. Continuing in this relationship until June, 1922, it then officially became an integral portion of the University of Southern California.

Through the active interest of L. W. Brunswig and L. Schiff, who are regarded as the most consistent supporters of this college from its very incipiency, the first classes in pharmacy were held in the fall of 1905. At the outset there were but ten students, but before the close of the year the enrollment had increased to twenty-three. Actual organization was effected by Laird J. Stabler, with the assistance of Albert B. Ulrey and Walter F. Taylor. An advisory committee was constituted, which consisted of Dr. Walter Lindley, Granville MacGowen, L. N. Brunswig, L. D. Sale, F. M. Boswell, Frank Moore and F. F. Bothwell. It was not until the beginning of its second year (October, 1906,) that this division really became in any sense affiliated with the University of Southern California.

During a period of three years the classes in pharmacy occupied the second floor of the Medical Building on Vista street. Beginning with the third year classes were conducted at the university campus, in the frame building, with modern facilities, which later gave way to to the new and permanent Science Hall. In spite of external appearances, however, the frame structure, which came to be popularly known as "the shack," afforded unusual opportunities for some of the best lines of research in important, practical fields.

In 1910 Dr. Stabler was appointed dean of the college of pharmacy and he has served in this capacity ever since, having been on the faculty of the university during all the years since 1894. On his recommendation requirements for admission to the college were raised in 1909 to include the completion of a minimum of one year in high school. The advancing standards and admission requirements in this college may be regarded as typical of the scholastic progress of the university as a whole. At first the entrance requirements had been only the equivalent for admission to a high school, with the exception that the candidate must be at least 16 years of age. In 1915 a second high school year was added. In 1922 it was a distinct recognition when the school was honored with membership in the American conference of pharmaceutical faculties. It was at that time that a third year high school requirement was added, and for the professional degree of bachelor of science in pharmacy regular graduation from high school was made an entrance requirement. Thus it is quite evident that the standards have been steadily advancing, and by the year 1932 the entrance requirements for the college of pharmacy will be on precisely the same basis as in the regular divisions of the university and the full four-year course leading to the bachelor's degree will be the minimum curriculum.

The three main divisions of study are chemistry, with Dean Stabler at the head; botany, with Prof. Andrew C. Life in charge, and pharmacy, under the direction of Prof. Arthur R. Maas. The spirit of research, fostered by the college, has resulted in valuable contributions to the field. Co-operation between the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, the National Association of Retail Druggists and the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy made it possible to complete a survey of the entire field through a subvention granted by the Commonwealth Fund. This survey emphasizes the claim that pharmacy is a profession and not a trade. With the modern trend of pharmaceutical education toward higher and more scientific standards, the college of pharmacy of the University of Southern California is in full accord.

Summing up the chief ideals and objectives of this professional college, they may be stated as follows: (1) To create a favorable opportunity in Los Angeles for higher pharmaceutical education; (2) to supply a broader foundation for the professional careers of the students; (3) to give training in other subjects, related to pharmacy, thus opening up additional avenues and opportunities for achievement, and (4) to provide additional opportunities for cultural training to an important group of young people entering upon the active duties of life.

It has been of distinct advantage to the college of pharmacy during the years to be in close association with the regular chemistry department of the university; for this department is widely recognized as one of the strongest and best equipped for sound scientific work in the entire West.

COURSES IN PHOTOPLAY

By Dean Karl T. Waugh

The University of Southern California was one of the first to recognize the educational opportunities and needs presented by the motion-picture industry. Its location within easy access of the very citadel of cinematography adds to the appropriateness of heeding this new call to higher education—there is urgent need for expert workers who shall combine academic culture with mastery of technique.

In the summer of 1927 the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, then but recently organized for the purpose of uniting the diverse branches of the industry, made overtures to the university with a view to obtaining training in courses suitable for its needs. A committee on college affairs was constituted, headed by Milton Sills, to work out with the university authorities courses affording adequate preparation in fundamental subjects. For the university the work was placed under the general direction of Dean Karl T. Waugh of the college of letters, arts and sciences. As a result three courses drawn from the university's resources in the field of physics, chemistry, art, architecture, English, psychology, etc., were offered in September, 1927, as follows: (1) The science and technique of cinematography; (2) composition, literature and criticism for motion-picture scenario and continuity writing; (3) architecture and fine arts. Beginning in February, 1929, Dr. Waugh and W. Ray MacDonald of the school of speech conducted what is believed to be the first class in photoplay in an American university. Lecturers in the course included President R. B. von KleinSmid, Dean Waugh, Douglas Fairbanks, J. A. Ball, J. Stuart Blackton, Frank Woods, Paul Bern, Benjamin Glazer, Irving Thalberg, Clara Beranger, Conrad Nagel, William Cameron Menzies, M. C. Levee, Edwin Schallert, William C. De Mille, Joseph Alexander Leighton and Emory S. Bogardus. This class is being conducted again during the spring of 1930, an equally competent and brilliant group of lecturers having been secured.

INDIAN WAR PENSIONS

BY ANTON MAZZANOVICH

Gen. George Crook Camp No. 1, United Indian War Veterans, U.S.A., of Los Angeles, Cal.

We have a class of men scattered throughout the United States who are deserving of a better pension than the Leatherwood Act of March 3, 1927, allows them.

This appeal is made in behalf of the veterans who served in the Army on the frontier of this great republic during the days of the covered wagon. There are not many left, but Congress has the opportunity to reward them for services rendered during our Indian wars.

Their bravery, courage and determination paved the way for the settlement and habitation of the vast empire west of the Mississippi River. Their heroic sacrifice blazed the trail to civilization. They followed the flag through all dangers—in winter storms and blizzards of the Northwest as well as the blistering sand of the Southwestern deserts, faithfully and uncomplainingly, hundreds of miles from home and friends. Many of them were left on the plains and mountains, in gullies and ravines, where the treacherous Indian arrows or bullets overtook them.

If the people of this, the richest nation in the world, believe that our veterans of Indian wars and their widows are entitled to a better pension, copy the following and mail it to the Senator or Congressman of your district, Washington, D. C.:

"The undersigned considers it his duty to indorse 'Manlove' bill, H. R. 8976, and the Crail amendment, H. R. 9044.

Sincerely yours ——————"

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Wild Flowers?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The nature-study class at the Los Angeles Evening High School, 4600 Country Club Drive, is just starting the topic, "Wild Flowers of California." The class meets on Tuesdays, 7 to 9 p.m. There is no charge of any kind and people of all ages are welcome.

Work of the class will be the identification of 200 species of wild flowers in this locality. Field trips will be planned for the week-ends. Those who cannot attend the trips will be able to gather much delightful information by just attending the lectures and discussions, but the trips will be made at the least possible expense and the hiking will not be strenuous.

This school is reached by the "L" car and there is plenty of parking space for those who drive.

HOMING

As bright red rivers of the heart
  Spring from their fountain, deep and strong,
Traverse their channels, far apart,
  Then rush together with a song—
So leave all souls their home of light
  For shadow lands of time and space,
Until they weary of the night
  And fly back to their Holy Place.

Viola Paulson

"Should I reveal exactly how I feel?"

Thus quoth Viola Paulson, 20 years of age of Long Beach, yesterday as she settled down to serve thirty days in the County Jail for a liquor-law violation.

NEW ORDER IN GAS-OIL LITIGATION

Ratio Adjustments Made by Court for Operators at Santa Fe Springs Field

Adjustments of the gas-oil ratio for seventeen oil companies operating in the Santa Fe Springs field are made in a modification of the gas-wastage temporary injunction signed yesterday by Superior Judge Hazlett. For some the ratio is increased, for others it is lowered. Under the new order the average ratio for the entire field has been raised from 1200 feet to 1400 cubic feet of natural gas produced with each barrel of oil pumped.

The new order also permits the pooling of various wells and leases owned by the operators, if desired, providing no well in the pool shall exceed a gas-oil ratio of 1000 cubic feet of gas wasted with each barrel of oil produced.

Following the signing of the order Judge Hazlett set June 16, next, as the date on which operators again may appear relative to modifying the injunction order, providing the State Supreme Court has not in the interim passed on the constitutionality of the State Gas and Oil Conservation Act under which the injunction was granted. Should the act be upheld by the high court Judge Hazlett will proceed on June 16 with the trial on the petition of the State to make the temporary injunction in the Santa Fe Springs field a permanent restraining order.

Terminal Club Work Started

Construction has commenced on the Terminal Club at 704 Market Court in the Los Angeles Union Terminal, Seventh and Central avenue. An area of more than 12,000 square feet is being remodeled into comfortable quarters. The clubrooms will consist of lounge, private and club dining-rooms, game room, gymnasium, roof garden, etc.

Jay T. Nash, business manager of the club, predicts the present membership of 150 will be increased to 200 by opening day in June.

"NOTHING TO WEAR" COMPLAINT VERITY

Mrs. Ethel Walker was forced to vacate her apartment because her husband, Clarence J. Walker, would not pay the rent, the wife testified yesterday before Superior Judge Haslett when granted a divorce. "What was worse, the landlady kept all my clothes. It was most embarrassing because I had hardly anything to wear, anyway," the wife declared. Mrs. Walker was given her decree and the custody of a minor child.

STREET CAR EXTENSIONS APPROVED

Utilities Board Favors Central Avenue and Third Street Line Franchises

Franchises for two proposed extensions by the Los Angeles Railway Company of its car lines to provide service as a public necessity were approved by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation yesterday and sent to the City Council asking favorable action.

One of the extensions is on Central avenue between Seventy-seventh street and Manchester avenue, a distance of 3300 feet.

The other is for an extension on West Third street from Western avenue to a private right of way west of Gramercy Place, a distance of 1300 feet.

The Central avenue extension has been requested by residents for many years and will give the people south of Seventy-seventh street a better connection with the industrial section.

The Third street extension, the board finds, is in line with the program to make that street an important arterial between Main street to La Brea street by way of the Third-street tunnel and street improvements.

Opposition to the franchises was voiced by Robert Loucks, in behalf of the Public Utilities Service League, recently organized, which seeks to eliminate all street cars from Los Angeles in favor of municipally operated busses.

ATTIC MAN'S PAST WILL BE STUDIED

Aide of Fitts Leaves for Milwaukee to Get Data in Oesterreich Murder Case

Edward C. King, District Attorney's investigator, left for Milwaukee yesterday, where he will investigate the early associations of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich and Otto Sanhuber, who are awaiting trial in Superior Judge Hardy's court on June 2, next, for the murder of Fred Oesterreich in Los Angeles on the night of August 22, 1922.

The investigation is expected to include an attempt to trace the purchase of a small automatic pistol by Sanhuber in Milwaukee before he came to Los Angeles with the Oesterreich family in 1913. It also probably will call for photographing the rooms occupied by the "attic man" while he lived secretly in the Oesterreich homes in the East.

The eight-year old murder was solved April 7, last, when Sanhuber confessed that he slipped from his attic room in the Oesterreich home on Lafayette Park Place and fired the shots which killed Oesterreich, fearing that the latter was about to injure his wife.

Pair on Trial on Auto Insurance Fraud Charges

Accused of attempting to bribe a witness in an automobile-accident case to defraud an insurance company out of an adjustment, Milford Martin and B. L. Martin, his son, went on trial before Superior Judge McComb yesterday.

The complaint charges that the two men offered $100 to Richard Machado, a principal in an automobile accident, with the understanding that he would assume blame for the mishap so that his insurance company would have to pay damages.

According to Machado's testimony, he received $10 as the first payment of the bribe.

County Will Pay on Paving Cost

The county will pay $30,915 of the cost of paving Florence avenue, between Van Ness avenue, Los Angeles, and West avenue, Inglewood, it was decided by the Board of Supervisors, after recommendations yesterday by Road Commissioner Jones.

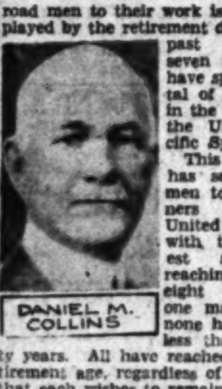
Supervisor Shaw made the motion to allocate the funds, toward the total cost of the improvement, $300,000. The new street will be seventy feet wide with fifteen-foot sidewalks. It will provide a new highway to the west beaches from Vernon, Maywood, Walnut Park, Bell and South Gate.

BONDS TO BE DISCUSSED

The California Progressives announce a water-bond meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the Wilcox Cafeteria, 428 South Spring street. Councilman Thomas B. Williams will speak on "What Water Means to Southern California." A. J. Samis will be chairman.

LONG RAILROAD SERVICE ENDS AS SEVEN RETIRE

The fascination that holds railroad men to their work is best displayed by the retirement during the past week of seven men who have spent a total of 203 years in the service of the Union Pacific System.



DANIEL M. COLLINS

This record has sent these men to all corners of the United States, with the longest service reaching forty-eight years for one man, while none has served less than twenty years. All have reached the retirement age, regardless of the fact that each wishes to remain in service, against the Union Pacific policy that a man must retire at a certain age.

Daniel M. Collins, traveling freight agent, probably is the best known of the group, with forty-four years to his credit. He started in 1885 as agent at Norfolk, Neb., and has been in continuous service since. His duties have taken him to Sioux City, Iowa; Omaha, Minneapolis, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Los Angeles as traffic department official.

John A. Anderson is the oldest man in point of service to be placed on the ever-increasing list of pensioners of this railroad. He began service in 1881 at Cutler, Utah, when that part of the line was under construction.

Others who have had their names added to the inactive list are Joseph T. West, with twenty years' service; Charles A. Cochrane, with twenty-six years, Harry H. Barron, twenty-seven years, Walter A. Stevens, twenty-three years, and Thomas J. Huff, twenty-two years.

All of these men are now residents of Los Angeles or the surrounding communities.

SPORTS TODAY END BOYS' WEEK

Playground Programs Bring Period to Close

Miniature Aerial Warfare Poinsettia Feature

Recognition of Juveniles in Civil Life Praised

With the celebration of Boys' Day in Recreation the Boys' Week program for 1930 today will be brought to a close. Since last Sunday boys have been given consideration and recognition. At the same time men have been made conscious of the fact that there are 150,000 boys in Los Angeles who are confronting problems of juvenile existence in which they need and desire adult male co-operation.

The program for today is diversified and will be held in various sections of the city, particularly centering at the municipal playgrounds.

Most of the features have been arranged for joint participation of fathers and sons. There are also scheduled many banquets, bonfires, hikes, beach trips, swimming parties and other activities.

EVENTS OF THE DAY

Among these special events for "Boys' Day in Recreation," will be a track meet this morning at Wall-street playground, 511 East Eleventh street. There also will be an apparatus demonstration this evening. A bicycle meet will be featured at Verdugo Playground, 3552 Verdugo Road, this morning and a wienie bake in the evening.

District finals in the Junior Olympic Games will be held at the following playgrounds:

Banning, 10 a.m., 1331 Lecourreur avenue; Downey, 10 a.m., 1772 North Spring street; Evergreen, 10 a.m., 2650 East Second street; North Hollywood, 1:30 p.m., 11515 Chandler Boulevard, North Hollywood; Queen Anne, 1:30 p.m., 1245 Queen Anne Place; Sawtelle, 1:30 p.m., 11800 Nebraska avenue, Sawtelle; Yosemite, 1:30 p.m., 1840 Yosemite Drive, Eagle Rock; Harvard, 1:30 p.m., 1555 West Sixty-second street.

MINIATURE WARFARE

One of the novelties of the day will be a miniature aircraft warfare demonstration at Poinsettia Playground at 8 p.m. This will consist of an exhibition of night flights of model airplanes with demonstration of smoke screen laying, bomb dropping and parachute dropping. No similar event has ever been held in the country.

At 2:30 p.m. boys will give lifesaving and swimming exhibitions in co-operation with municipal beach life-guards in dedication of the Sunset Pier bathhouse at Venice. Arroyo Seco Playground will this evening open a miniature playland.

AT ECHO PLAYGROUND

Echo Playground, 1632 Bellevue avenue, will have a boys' night which will include musical numbers, athletic stunts and other features arranged by boys. Another father-and-son stunt night will be held at James Slauson Memorial Playground. Downey Playground will feature bicycle, chariot and skating races. Every other city playground has provided events for fathers and boys.

Yesterday was "Boys' Day in the Schools," with boyhood in charge of the educational work as well as the recreational phases of the public and private high schools of the city.

Last Words Wreck Girl's Suicide Plan

Though she left a note, according to police, indicating that she did not want to live, Miss Betty Durfee, 22 years of age, was saved from probable death late Thursday night by a friend, William F. Kelly of 1310 South Wilton Place.

Kelly telephoned police that Miss Durfee had called him, stating she was going to kill herself. Officers Morrison and Farnam rushed to her home at 1339 Ingraham street and reported finding her lying unconscious in a gas-filled bedroom. They took her to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where she was revived and later released to an uncle.

In her room the officers found the following note: "Have a drink on me. Love to all my pals.

"Betty."

First Charges Against Culver Trio Dismissed

A complaint charging former Mayor Reve Houck and Councilmen Dave Clark and Dan Coombs of Culver City with misappropriating public funds was dismissed by Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday.

The order followed a motion by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Holland, who said the grand jury has indicted the three men for the same offense.

EFFORT TO PREVENT NAME CHANGES FAILS

Councilman Lewis yesterday made an unsuccessful fight to prevent the City Council from adopting an ordinance changing the names of a group of streets running from the easterly to westerly city boundaries to Gage avenue. The streets affected, which are more or less continuous, are Sixty-third street, Sixty-third Place, Sixty-fourth street and Hyde Park Boulevard. Lewis contended that the residents of these streets are satisfied with the present designations, which are being changed at the instance of communities outside the city limits.

COUNCIL ORDERS PLANS

On recommendation of the Public Works Committee the City Council yesterday instructed the City Engineer to prepare plans for the improvement of portions of Cruz Road, Nichols Canyon Road and the prolongation of Genessee street in the hills above Hollywood Boulevard. The improvement is to consist of permanent pavement, curbs, gutters, sewers, storm drains and water mains.

CHAPLIN WILL PRODUCE PLAY

Walter Huston to Play Lead in Lasky's "The General;" Bessie Love Borrowed by R.-K.-O. for Heroine Role; Skeets Gallagher Wins Comedy Part

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Charles Chaplin, the world's greatest comedian, is planning to produce a stage play!

CHARLES CHAPLIN

This became known yesterday. Dr. Cecil Reynolds has written a drama of modern life, and it is this play in which Chaplin is deeply interested.

Indeed, Chaplin has himself had a hand in the construction of the play, revamping the entire third act.

Dr. Reynolds is a noted physician of the city, who is also known for his literary efforts.

WALTER HUSTON HAS PARAMOUNT LEAD

A very busy man indeed is Walter Huston. Having completed the title role in United Artists' "Abraham Lincoln," followed by a picture for First National, "The Bad Man," he has been engaged for still another vehicle.

WALTER HUSTON

This picture is "The General," which Paramount will produce. It is the same story which Emil Jannings formerly starred in a silent picture. The new version will of course, be a talker.

Following his appearance in "The General," Huston will journey back to New York, where he is to star in a new stage play called "Born in Texas."

BESSIE LOVE GOES TO R.-K.-O. FOR ROLE

When R.-K.-O. began to look about for some one to play the lead in a new picture, the story of ed from John Emerson's and which is adapted Robert Baker's play, "The Conspiracy," they decided that only Bessie Love could really do justice to the part.

Therefore they have borrowed her from M.-G.-M. for the role in the film, for which no director is yet chosen, but which Bert Millhauser will supervise. Hugh Trevor has been assigned the leading male role opposite Miss Love.

Skeets Gallagher in It

When Paramount produces "Toplitsky of Notre Dame," which is by way of being something of a burlesque on college yarns, the picture will feature, besides Harry Green and Jack Oakie, no less popular a comedian than Skeets Gallagher, who has just been assigned one of the principal parts in the film.

Gallagher has won laurels for himself since leaving the New York stage, and it is whispered that a certain of the larger companies is anxious to star him.

Dorothy Lee Plays Lead

When Luther Reed starts directing "Babes in Toyland" for R.-K.-O. he will have as ingenue lead no less charming a young actress than Dorothy Lee. William Le Baron made the announcement yesterday.

DOROTHY LEE

Miss Lee has been playing an important role in "Dixiana," and before that appeared in "Rio Rita."

No less than three noted comedians will carry the comic characterizations, these including as heretofore announced, Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey and Joseph Cawthorn. Everett Marshall and Irene Delroy will play the romantic leads.

First National Picks Title

The picture in which Lila Lee, Doug. Fairbanks, Jr., Louise Fazenda and Lucien Littlefield are to be featured by First National is no longer to suffer the obscurity of being without a title.

"The Princess of Main Street" is the engaging name given the production, which William Beaudine will direct.

Bebe in Specials

R.-K.-O. officials have formally decided not to waste the sweetness of Bebe Daniels's exceptional talents on the more or less desert air of program pictures.

Miss Daniels is to appear only in important specials, probably all musicals. Some important New York productions are to be purchased for her use.

BARRYMORE IN ANTIC VENTURE

Star Plays Comedy Role in "Man From Blankley's"

Weird Travesty of Bourgeois Social World Screened

Martinelli Operatic Film Gains the Plaudits

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

John Barrymore dons the antic manner in "The Man From Blankley's" at Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater, and those who wish to can have a grand time watching his monkeyshines and listening in on them.

Heretofore Barrymore has been the romantic hero of many a fervid love opus. His humor, when vouchsafed, has been dry and sardonic. He has been the colorful protagonist of the amorous exploit.

But the new Barrymore goes to lengths hitherto unimagined. The prize effect that he achieves, if this may be cited as an example, is the imitation of an Egyptian scarabaeus in plaintive mood. And decidedly, this one bit of business is the picture's bright particular high spot.

I do not know about "The Man from Blankley's" and its general reception. The tendency in this feature seems definitely toward the weirdest sort of burlesque. A set of comic-opera characters surround the star, and afford opportunity for him to jibe humorously at their fantastic beards, figures and faces.

There is a certain love interest, but it is just an incident. Loretta Young is the pretty respondent to the star's romantic persuasions. She is just about the only really personable type outside of himself in the entire museum of caricatures, provided by a very zealous make-up department as well as several efficient character impersonators.

The whole story of "The Man from Blankley's" revolves around the idea of hiring a guest to make up a dinner party of fourteen (rather than thirteen) persons. The Tidmarshes of London, who give the dinner, are bourgeois, and nouveau riche in the bargain. Their recourse to Blankley's for an extra member of their party is hastily decided on, and then at the last minute they send word for him not to come.

However, an inebriate gentleman does turn up in time for the event, and announces himself as Lord Strathpeffer. He is recognized by Miss Young as a gentleman whom she had known without any such peerish distinction. The mention of this by the young heroine leads the hosts to believe that the man sent from Blankley's is an impostor. Before the evening is over they also conclude that he is a thief, but that is all by the way in the wind-up.

The plot, indeed, is rather generally secondary. The travesty on the social affair is the primary facet. Such matters as the serving of a squealing rubber squab afford special food for laughter. This happens when it is found that the kitchen is one squab short, and the deficiency is compensated by the gravying of the imitation pigeon belonging to the Tidmarshes' youngster.

As regards Barrymore himself, I would say that he is somewhat too lavish of his efforts to induce humor in his particular characterization. It is overstressed. He would have achieved more and finer effect at times had he not played it so obviously.

There was undoubted appreciation for his endeavors from the audience, as testified by the laughter, but this was not always as general and unrestrained as laughter should be that greets the comic spirit. In many instances, though, the extent of the uproar was sufficient to render the dialogue inaudible for quite a space. Barrymore's impersonation of the scarabeeus or beetle was a great bit of perfectly idiotic comedy, and reveals a true ingeniousness.

One very serious detriment to the picture is the overemphasis on accent, which demands such intentness on the part of the listener, if he wants to know what the talk is all about, as to reduce enjoyment.

Outside of the star and Miss Young, principal portrayals are in the capable hands of William Austin, Albert Gran, Emily Fitzroy, Louise Carver and others. The picture was directed by Alfred E. Green from the screen play of Harvey Thew and Joseph Jackson, this in turn being taken from the stage piece by F. Anstey.

Giovanni Martinelli is a distinct success in the prison scene from "Faust," and excellent work is done by the other singing principals. The loud applause for this particular operatic feature was entirely merited. Ann Pennington in a Technicolor "Musical Revue" sings and dances. This short production is very passably diverting.

Romberg Music Heard Again in 'Student Prince'

The current series of operettas as produced by Lillian Albertson at the Majestic Theater might be known as the Sigmund Romberg festival. It is said to owe its origin to the taste of the public for tuneful and entertaining musical romance.

The third of the series, "The Student Prince," with Allan Prior, original singing star of the New York and London companies, is the current attraction at the Majestic, and is reported as successful as "The New Moon" and "The Desert Song."

Supporting Prior are Elvira Tanzi, Richard Powell, Blanche Le Claire, Sylvia De Frankie, Georgie Harris, Ada Sinclair, Gordon De Main and others.

SISTERS SEPARATED

For the first time since they began their careers plugging songs behind the counter of a Chicago music store, Zelma O'Neal, singing-dancing comedienne, and her sister Bernice are separated in the picturization of "Follow Thru," musical comedy, at the Paramount studios in Hollywood.

Bell Trouble Proves Novel Picture Plot

BY ELENA BOLAND

A novelty even for the foreign variety of the Filmarte is the Chinese picture showing this week.

"Daughter of Heaven" is based on a Confucian legend which tells of peculiar ailments troubling the Sacred Bell. This bell refused, so the story runs, to ring. The Emperor and all China, to put it mildly, were in a quandary until some farsighted lad invented a clock. What the clock had to do with the bell was not divulged; but the Emperor said the man was crazy and just for that the exiled inventor wouldn't tell what was wrong with the bell.

Forgetting all that for a while, the tale goes on to show how a couple of orphans grow up and fall in love and how the lady orphan's father has to make a new and perfect gong or he will die. Then something goes wrong with the ancient formula and the metals do not mix and about that time the Tartars arrive in headgear and brass plates while the boy is away at school. While the father is worrying about the bell and the girl is worrying about her father, the boy is worried about the Tartars. The Emperor has his problems, too; in fact, everyone in China seems all hot and bothered.

All the deaths happen practically simultaneously. The boy stabs the Tartar chief and a henchman knifes the boy. The inventor hasn't his clock but decides anyway that his time has come so out he goes to clear the coast for father's doom which is thwarted by daughter throwing herself into the fiery melting pot. After it is all over the point is discovered. The right formula for the bell comes to light with a postscript personally requesting that the bell have included in its ingredients human flesh and bones.

The picture was written and produced by James B. Leong and was photographed, he declares, principally in China. If so, it is a pity he didn't choose sets which would add to the authenticity of the locale, instead of seemingly studio-built affairs.

Lady Tsen Mei is the feminine star and, in all but costume, most Americanized in her technique. This is true of the entire cast and it contrasts strangely with the usual opinion that the Chinese are a facially unexpressive race.

A short subject called "A Chinese Scenic" affords those views of reality and beauty which are lacking in the feature.

There is also a Mack Sennett revival, "Skidding Hearts" which presents Mal St. Clair and Ora Carew.

Club Women to Attend Carthay Theater Parties

Clubwomen of Los Angeles are organizing theater parties to view "All Quiet on the Western Front," current Universal war epic at the Carthay Circle Theater.

Turning its anniversary month into a testimonial in honor of Harold B. Franklin, president of Fox West Coast Theaters, the Carthay Circle has arranged a number of special programs in connection with "All Quiet on the Western Front" during the next four weeks.

Abe Lyman and his international band, with Phil Neely and Ted Ledford as soloists, are proving a popular addition to the program.

Talent Secured for Late Show

To the list of entertainment already announced for the first midnight frolic in conjunction with "Song o' My Heart" at Grauman's Chinese Theater tonight, the names of "Whispering" Jack Smith, Richard Keene and Roger Davis have been added.

NEW COMEDY STARTS RUN TOMORROW

Kay Hammond Enacts Chief Role in Three-Act Farce at Vine-Street

Tomorrow night will mark the premiere of the season's newest comedy when "The Questionable Elaine," authored by Alan B. Moody, starts a two-week engagement at the Vine-street Theater in Hollywood.

Elaborate settings, beautiful gowns and a splendid cast are reported in readiness for the rise of the curtain tomorrow night, when the play will be presented to an audience of Hollywood celebrities and civic leaders.

"The Questionable Elaine" is described as a breezy comedy, dealing with a pampered society debutante bored with "doing the right thing at the right time with the right people." The cast includes Kay Hammond, Dennis D'Auburn, Grayce Hampton, Symona Boniface, Elwyn Eaton, Lydia Knott, Byron Alden and others.

Definite Date Announced for Criterion Film

The date for the arrival of Norma Shearer in "The Divorcee" at the Criterion has been definitely set as the 14th inst. Paul Whiteman and his forty New York stage, screen and radio stars will say farewell in "The King of Jazz" on the 13th inst.

Norma Shearer's newest picture, "The Divorcee," is declared by M.-G.-M. studio officials to be the most pretentious production given Miss Shearer since she was elevated to stardom.

Based on the novel, "Ex-Wife," by Ursula Parrott, "The Divorcee" tells the adventures of a wife who finds herself free. An important supporting cast was selected for the production, including Chester Morris, Conrad Nagel, Robert Montgomery, Florence Eldridge, Helena Millard, Robert Elliott and Mary Doran.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THE Civic Repertory Theater will round out its season with a new play, it was decided all in a moment yesterday after weeks and weeks of debate on the subject.

"Wound Stripe," a drama by Neil Blackwell and Roland Edwards, will be produced following "Goin' Home." It will arrive June 5 and will be the penultimate offering of the year, "Justice," the Galsworthy play, ending it all.

No one at the theater yesterday seemed to know a great deal about who Miss Blackwell is or where she is, but information was supplied that Edwards helped direct "Mamba" and is now on the Coast with Tiffany.

Bert Lytell Arrives

Bert Lytell, with the new Mrs. Lytell (Grace Menken,) who has been his leading woman in "Brothers," arrives in town today. The two will be here until Henry Duffy produces this melodrama, sometime in the near future.

Lytell, of course, carries his original roles (the brothers) in the play, and although no announcement has been made, it is understood that Miss Menken will also have her part. The two were married in the East a few weeks ago. Miss Menken is a sister of Helen Menken.

"Hi There" Gains Momentum

A note from the North reaching this desk supplies the interesting news that not only have Clark & McCullough furnished a skit for Paul Blssinger's "Hi There," but that Kathleen Norris, the California novelist, has written one. The show, directed by Alexander Leftwich, opens a week from Monday at Erlanger's Columbia, San Francisco. It should reach here about June 15.

"Philadelphia" in San Francisco

Another correspondent writes that "Philadelphia," which left the Vine street a bit hastily to make way for "Among the Married" is starting all over again in San Francisco tomorrow. Andy Wright, its producer, has announced that he has a month's lease on the Tivoli where "Philadelphia" may be seen. The cast appears the same, with Rockcliffe Fellowes, Del Lawrence, Franklyn Farnum, Ora Carew, Kit Guard and others.

Weaver Goes to Own Show

Playwrights take an interest in their own shows, it would seem. John V. A. Weaver, who with George Abbott wrote "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em" now on view at the El Capitan with Isabel Withers, was in the front row of the theater on the opening night.

Night before last, he was again observed, with a party of friends, scurrying into the theater to witness the show for the second time. He told Matt Allen, local Duffy manager, that he thought the production an excellent one and maybe he will see it again.

"Woodrow Wilson" at Theater Mart

When Mrs. Alice Pike Barney presents the play, "Woodrow Wilson," by Maurice Salzman, at her Theater Mart next week, Grace Hyde Trine, who has directed any number of pageants and acts herself, will have the only woman's role. Miss Trine plays a Mrs. Fields who brings a message to the President from the women of California.

New Bulletins from New York

Shaw's "The Apple Cart" will end its run at the Alvin Theater next week. It will go on the road next season with Tom Powers, Claude Rains and Violet Kemble Cooper still in its cast.

Will Morrissey's "Folies Bergere Revue," which has been running at the Gansevoort Theater, will close after a midnight performance tonight.

Francis Wilson will play the title role in "The Little Father of the Wilderness," which the Players' Club will put on as a curtain raiser to "Milestones." Walter Hampden and Frederick Lewis will have important roles.

Robert Williams will leave the cast of "Rebound" to start a stock company at the Plymouth Theater, Boston. Mr. Williams will be succeeded next week by Arthur Campbell.

Leo Donnelly has been engaged for the leading role in "The Spook House," a mystery play by Joe Byron Totten. It is scheduled to come to Broadway about the 26th inst.

SCHOOLS GIVEN RADIO WARNING

Urged to Get Busy on Plans for Broadcasting

Advertisers Taking Up All Available Time

Educational Value Stressed by Many Leaders

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. James Russell Loyal and Salvador Baquez, soloists. World-wide news, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m. Judge Dudley S. Valentine on "Traffic" at 12:30.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Educators interested in the use of radio in public schools must formulate their programs quickly and take advantage of the offers of time from chain broadcasters and individual stations before advertising programs are accepted which will fill the school hours.

This warning was conveyed in a report on radio in education issued by the Payne Fund, engaged in the development of education, in which are discussed the efforts now being made in the use of instructional broadcasts.

"While educators are making progress in the use of radio," the report declares, "business concerns are moving still more swiftly. Daylight hours, once so little sought by advertisers that it seemed as though they might always be available for school programs, are now being rapidly filled with programs advertising department stores and other business concerns."

SCHOOLS INSTALL RADIOS

The expense of installing radio equipment is within the reach of practically all schools, it was found, and in some cities, Cincinnati among others, provision has been made that all new school buildings erected shall be completely wired for radio.

"There is a strong desire on the part of many teachers, principals and school officials that pupils shall have the contacts and instruction that only radio can make possible," it is commented. "Successful experiments have proved that educators can organize suitable programs for schools and that they can be broadcast on a city-wide, State-wide or national basis."

ON YOUR DIAL TODAY

KHJ at 1 p.m. brings Kenyon Congdon, baritone, as a guest soloist in radio concert with the French Trio. This is always an excellent half-hour. At 5, Hank Simmon's Show Boat docks with the great American drama "Davy Crockett," a play in five acts chock full of love and heroic deeds. Both KHJ and KNX at 6 tonight, on Paramount Hour, will entertain with Heidt and his Californians' Orchestra, direct from Monte Carlo. Guest artists will be Marcia Freer, Paul Ash, David Mendoza and the Paramount Orchestra and others, including Jesse Crawford, organist, and Vic Ince, trumpeter. At 7:30, Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians will make their debut over CBS., in Los Angeles with a program of "cultivated syncopation," while at 9 tonight "Chasin' the Blues" brings an all-male cast, with women urged "not to tune in"—which means "Ladies be There."

Included in this program will be an eight-minute talk by Floyd Gibbons. At 9, an hour with Will Rounds's Ensemble with Nance Fitz, contralto, excellent string music and song.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

MUSHROOMS A LA KING

One pound of mushrooms, one medium sized green pepper, cut in dice, two diced pimientoes, two tablespoonfuls of flour, one cupful of chicken stock, one cupful of cream or rich milk, four tablespoonfuls of butter, the yolks of two eggs, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of paprika. Two tablespoonfuls of salted cooking sherry. Wash the mushrooms, remove the caps and chop the stems, leaving the caps whole. Melt the butter, add the chopped stems and the diced green peppers and simmer gently for five minutes. Add the mushroom caps, and cook for another five minutes, mix the flour with the chicken stock, and slowly stir into the mixture, add the pimiento, and cream to which has been added the well beaten egg yolks, cook slowly for five minutes, add the sherry, and serve on buttered toast.

CELERY ESSENCE

Two cupfuls of celery, chopped fine, three cupfuls of boiling chicken or veal stock, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of onion juice, a seasoning of salt and white pepper, one-half a cupful of ginger ale, one teaspoonful of lemon juice and two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, simmer the vegetables, in the stock until soft, strain, and add the seasonings and gelatine, which has been dissolved in the lemon juice and ginger ale. If liked, add one cupful of diced cucumbers, from which the seeds have been removed, color with a few drops of green coloring, and serve when set in bouillon cups with two or three slices of cucumbers as a garnish.

POTATO FRITTERS

Two cupfuls of mashed potatoes, one cupful of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of paprika, one teaspoonful of salt, and three well beaten eggs, beat the eggs, and gradually beat into them the mashed potato either hot or cold. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together, and beat it into the mixture, drop by large spoonfuls into hot shortening, and brown on both sides.

CHEESE BREAD

Take thick slices of stale bread, cut them in half, dip them into milk, place them in a baking dish, place on top of each one a thin slice of cheese, then a slice of bread and another slice of cheese, add half a cupful of milk to which has been added half a teaspoonful of dry mustard, place in a hot oven and bake for fifteen minutes. Serve at once.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

KEEP THE DRAINS CLEAR

If your bathtub and sink and toilet were stopped up, you would no doubt send out a hurry call for the plumber to discover the cause of the obstruction in the sewage system of your home. Most people do not become as much alarmed when the sewage system in their own bodies becomes clogged, and yet the body is constantly throwing off refuse material which must be carted away and disposed of in some manner which nature has well provided.

The waste products of metabolism are constantly being thrown out by various channels, some through the skin, some through the lungs, some through the kidneys, and a large portion is converted into bile and used again as a digestive fluid to be eliminated by the intestines. If the elimination from any of these channels is imperfect there is a grave danger that some of these wastes (hence poisons) will be again reabsorbed into the circulation. Each time this clogging occurs, the systematic poisoning is greater, and finally the body may be so impregnated with such virulent toxins that disease readily develops. There is no doubt that one of the greatest causes of disease is an impure blood stream. The blood must be kept pure, as it carries the food which supplies life to all of the organs and tissues of the body. Whenever a partial clogging takes place a dangerous cesspool is formed which may poison the entire system.

The large colon, by acting as a storage place for most of the solid excretions, is very likely to be a source of systematic poisoning, especially as in some cases the waste material backs up into the small intestines where it is readily absorbed. Either partial or complete constipation is bound to permit some of the retained poison to be forced back into the circulation to be handled by the liver. Unless the colon empties normally, its contents, really consisting of garbage, become decayed and fermented.

Whenever you find that your system is becoming toxic, you feel sluggish or tire readily, or have any of the predisease symptoms, you may be sure that a dangerous cesspool has developed some place in your system. Some of your organs of elimination have become clogged. You will usually find that this condition is caused by such things as: using too much food, using bad combinations, using an excess of starches or sugars, not obtaining enough exercise, having weak abdominal muscles, not obtaining enough fresh air, allowing yourself to become enervated, or not obtaining enough sleep.

You can usually get rid of these dangerous cesspools by correcting the cause and undergoing an eliminative diet and the right kind of treatments. After this you can maintain good health if you will learn to live so that the eliminative organs do not again become obstructed.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE NEW NEIGHBORS

Who brags of what he thinks he knows
His ignorance will soon expose.
—Danny Meadow Mouse.

Peter Rabbit was much puzzled. All the time that Danny Meadow Mouse had been talking about those new neighbors, whom he didn't like, but liked him, Peter had been looking this way and that way. But look as he would, he could see no one, except Danny.

"Who are these new neighbors?" inquired Peter.

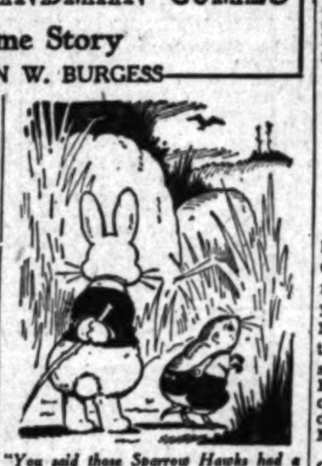
Just then there was a shrill cry. It came from somewhere up above. Danny Meadow Mouse seemed to shrink. Yes, sir, he seemed to shrink and actually grow smaller, although, of course, he didn't. But he did flatten himself so close to the ground and draw himself in so that he seemed to be smaller than he really was. Peter stared at Danny for a moment. It was plain that Danny was a badly frightened Meadow Mouse. As Peter could see nothing to cause such fright, he concluded that it was that shrill cry that had given Danny such a scare.

Again he heard that shrill cry of "Killy! Killy! Killy!" And between the branches of the tree above him he caught a glimpse of a bird. He recognized it at once as Killy the Sparrow Hawk. Killy was circling overhead. Suddenly it popped into Peter's head that Killy might be one of the new neighbors. He looked down at Danny Meadow Mouse. Danny was still crouched there, a picture of fright. Presently the voice of Killy sounded from some distance away. Danny Meadow Mouse drew a long breath. "Do you see anything of Mrs. Killy anywhere?" he inquired in his squeaky little voice.

Peter looked all around, but could see nothing of Killy or Mrs. Killy, and said so.

"Probably she's on the nest," said Danny. "Those are the new neighbors. It is bad enough now. A dozen times a day I have a fright just like the one I had a moment ago. But that is nothing to what it will be when they have a family to hunt for. Nanny and I have got to move before then. We have got to have a little peace in life."

Peter was, of course, all curiosity. "Do you mean that Killy the Sparrow Hawk and Mrs. Killy have a nest around here?" he inquired eagerly.



"You said those Sparrow Hawks had a nest near here," said he

"I mean just that," replied Danny. "Why they couldn't have picked some other place I don't understand. Here we were, all comfortably settled, and they had to come over here and set up housekeeping. What with those two in the daytime and Spooky the Screech Owl at night, an honest Meadow Mouse hasn't much chance around here. It is a wonder that Nanny and I are alive as it is."

Meanwhile, Peter was looking up through the trees in search of a nest. He couldn't see one. He looked and looked, but he couldn't see a nest anywhere.

"What are you looking for?" inquired Danny when he noticed what Peter was doing.

"You said those Sparrow Hawks had a nest near here," said he, "and I am looking for it. But I don't see a nest anywhere. It ought to be a good-sized nest and I should be able to see it."

Danny stared very hard at Peter. "Do you mean to tell me, Peter Rabbit," said he, "that you have lived around here as long as you have and don't know that Killy the Sparrow Hawk's nest is in a tree?"

Peter looked quite as foolish as he felt. "Of course, I know it," said he, "now that you mention it. It had slipped my mind."

Pioneer Subdivider and Prominent Church Builder Dies After Long Illness

Alfred E. Gwynn, for many years identified with Los Angeles as a real estate man and builder, died at his home, 233 North Villon street, yesterday following an extended illness. He was 63 years of age and came to California in 1887. In 1905 he organized the Bert Cwynn Company, one of the earlier subdividing concerns. In 1926 he organized the Associated Mortgage Company of Los Angeles, of which he was vice-president at the time of his death.

He erected the Methodist Hospital and for several years served as president of the board of that institution. He was a member of the Wilshire Methodist Church and of Eastgate Lodge, No. 290, Masonic order. He also belonged to the Los Angeles Realty Board. He wrote a book of poems at one time which was favorably received.

He leaves his widow, two sons, Howard and Allen, both of this city, and one daughter, Delight Bacon, also of Los Angeles. The body is at the Leroy Bagley mortuary, Hollywood Boulevard. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Women's Law Club Chooses New Officers

At the annual election of officers last night of the Women Lawyers' Club, Vera Radir Norton was named president for the coming year; May Lahey, vice-president; Mrs. Ella Atchley, recording secretary; Anne McRobbie, corresponding secretary; Jean Crop, treasurer; Frances Emans, auditor, and Dorothea Mesny, parliamentarian. The dinner-meeting was held in the Mary Louise.

Following the election, Mrs. Edna Covert Plummer spoke on the work of the Los Angeles Bar Association judiciary campaign committee, of which she is a member. Activities of the committee, she said, are directed toward arousing interest of bar members in the plebiscite on candidates for the Superior Court bench. She urged co-operation of the women attorneys in obtaining for Los Angeles the highest possible type of Superior Court judges.

Gardens Now at Their Best at Art Gallery

More than 13,950 visitors were received at the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery during April, it was announced yesterday. This is an average of 581 visitors for each of the twenty-four exhibition afternoons.

Garden lovers planning to visit the exhibitions are advised to apply for cards of admission immediately. William Hertrich, superintendent of the gardens, states that the rose, iris and Japanese gardens are now at their best. The entire quotas for the week of June 23 to 28 have been reserved for delegates to the American Library Association, who convene in Los Angeles during that week.

Health Board Asks Removal of City Dump

Elimination of the city dump at Twenty-fifth street and the Los Angeles River as a menace to the health of the East Side is requested of the Board of Public Works in a resolution unanimously passed by the Health Commission yesterday. The board is given thirty days in which to initiate proceedings for a remedy and unless this is done the health department will institute abatement proceedings against the dump.

Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, said the condition would be regarded as intolerable in any modern city and the only reason it is allowed here is because the public has become used to it for nearly thirty years.

The action of the board was taken following complaints from the East Side Chamber of Commerce, the East Side Improvement Association and other organizations.

Your Baby and M

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

SHALL THE CHILD NAP IN DAYTIME OR GO TO BED EARLIER AT NIGHT?

All good sleeping habits go through a series of natural changes. For these changes the mother is never prepared. She feels that as soon as she has established the baby on two good naps daily, he begins to refuse his second nap. So she hurries to pool the naps to make one long one in the middle of the day cut his waking time in half. No sooner is this nicely established than the child refuses all naps, stands up in his bed, shakes the sides, kicks on the wall or calmly climbs out.

His mother may find that even if she keeps him penned in until he falls asleep from exhaustion, he will sleep all afternoon, and when bedtime arrives he is "raring" to go, with sleep a thousand miles away.

CHILD OUTGROWS NAP

Long afternoon naps for the child past 14 or 15 months are the exception rather than the rule. For one hour after lunch the child may consent to be quiet and play in his bed (with mother's watchful eye upon him,) but he may not sleep a wink.

Such a problem confronts Mrs. R. W. M. She says: "My 15-months-old boy sleep 12:30 until 3:30 and bed at 7. But he d a half or one hour aft in bed and demands If wakened within going to sleep in day and trembles. What

New Thoughts

Dry woodenware away from the fire to prevent cracking.

All utensils used in coffee-making must be kept absolutely clean.

Touch that sore corn with a little oil of peppermint and see how it will relieve the pain.

A handful of scrap zinc thrown on the fire is an effective soot remover and flue cleanser.

If you must keep your refrigerator in the kitchen, keep it as far away from the stove as possible.

Laced shoes are much better for the baby who is learning to walk than buttoned ones, for the valuable ankle support they give.

Heavy Cloths

It is a shame to discard those heavy woolen cloths you have been using for floors just because they are badly soiled. They are too hard to replace. Soak them for an hour in hot water in which sal soda has been dissolved, allowing three tablespoonfuls of soda to one gallon of water. Stir the cloths, every so often, with a stick. Remove and wash in hot suds as usual, rinsing in hot water. You will find them as good as new.

Time and Labor Saved

If butter and chocolate are in the same recipe it is a simple matter to melt the chocolate. Just put the two together in a small saucepan and let stand over a low flame for a few minutes. The butter will prevent the chocolate from sticking or burning.

Pure Extract

Be sure you buy pure extract of vanilla flavoring. There is all the difference in the world, as vanilla flavoring will stand out by itself in every dish and utterly take away the delicacy of it. Buy the pure extract.

CALTECH TRIO GIVEN HONORS

Elected to Membership in Academy of Science

Recognition Highest to be Accorded Scholars

Many of Institution Now in National Group

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 2.—Three additional members of the California Institute of Technology faculty have been elected to membership in the National Academy of Sciences, leading scientific society in the United States, it was revealed here today.

Those who received the coveted honor are: Dr. Harry Bateman, professor of mathematics, theoretical physics and aeronautics; Dr. Paul S. Epstein, professor of theoretical physics, and Dr. Alfred Henry Sturtevant, professor of genetics.

FIFTEEN NOW BELONG

Fifteen of the 280 members of the National Academy are now members of the staffs of the California Institute of Technology and Mt. Wilson Observatory. Election to membership in the academy constitutes the highest recognition accorded scientists in this country.

The National Academy of Sciences was organized by the government during the Civil War to carry on scientific work in connection with the conduct of the war. It has continued as a peace-time organization since then, except during the World War, when it again aided the nation through establishment of the National Research Council.

WHO THEY ARE

Dr. Bateman is one of the leading mathematicians and most prolific writers on mathematical subjects in the United States, and has been recognized not only in America but in England, having been in 1928 elected Fellow of the Royal Society of London. He is a graduate of Cambridge University, England, has studied in Paris and received his doctorate at Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Epstein has won distinction in the field of theoretical physics. He holds the degrees of C. Sc. and M. Sc. from Moscow University and Ph.D from the University of Munich. He has been connected with the faculties of Moscow University and the University of Zurich. He is a member of the National Research Council. Dr. Sturtevant has received recognition for his extensive and valuable research in the field of genetics. He holds the bachelor's and doctor's degrees from Columbia University and, for a number of years prior to his coming to the California institute, was on the research staff of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C.

Prof. Thomas Hunt Morgan, chairman of the division of biology of the California Institute of Technology, is president of the National Academy at the present time.

MAX VANDERSNOOZLE CIRCUMVENTS ENEMY

Once upon a long time ago there lived a poor but wealthy citizen of Tinkerdam, Holland, named Max Vandersnoozle.

Vandersnoozle had made his fortune peddling dikes until his business grew so large that he couldn't carry them around any longer, so he opened a preffenhoser store.

Now, Max Vandersnoozle had thirteen children, all girls. Also, he had a wife, another woman. And the day came when the fourteenth child came, also a girl. Max in desperation scoured the city and brought home a four-legged razzhund, a male.

Late one night little Hulda Vandersnoozle, 1 year old, cried out loudly and with fatherly solicitude, Max jumped from his nice, warm bed to the cold, cold floor to see what the matter could be. On his way to Hulda's crib he stepped firmly upon a large, sharp tack.

"Dinnervatter!" swore Max, roundly, as he hopped over to the crib on his other foot. When he found out that Hulda had been only hunting her bottle, he limped back again.

In the middle of his third snore a wild shriek rang through the Dutch halls. Wildly, Max sprang from his bed and once more strode through the fresh air which blew coldly through his nightie, and as he set down his bare foot within the darkened room of little Hans, it squashed brutally and painfully a sharp, tin soldier.

Without seeing what ailed little Hans, Max crawled back to bed on his hands and knees, both feet out of commission and when, an hour later, the razzhund barked loudly and long, Max was snoring the snores of the snoozer.

And all the next day and for a week thereafter, while his feet were healing, Max Vandersnoozle was locked up in his workshop, at the end of which time he came out and clumped triumphantly around the floor, his feet encased in big, wooden blocks. And these were the first wooden shoes.—[Detroit Free Press.

AFRICAN SAUSAGE TREE IS DESCRIBED

A tree which bears fruit apparently only to deceive is the so-called "sausage tree" of East Africa, a queer tree if a queer one is to be found.

As the sausage tree is approached while bearing fruit (often reaching a length of two feet,) it has a most inviting look but a most disappointing result upon inspection.

The exterior seems to be edible upon a glance, but the interior is hard and weedy pulp, neither tempting to the palate nor edible.

The tree, which is a member of the catalpa family, has a use, however and enters into both the religious and medical life of the natives of the country where it is found. The negro tribes of Nubia consider the tree sacred and hold religious festivals in the moonlight beneath its branches. Poles made from the tree the erected before the houses of the chiefs and are worshiped by other members of the tribe.

The natives cut and roast the sausages and place the cut sides against parts of their bodies afflicted with rheumatism and similar complaints.—[Washington Star.

DEATH CALLS LORNA MOON WHO WROTE "DARK STAR"

LORNA MOON

Death came to Miss Lorna Moon yesterday in Albuquerque, N. M. She was widely known in Hollywood as a scenarist and writer of short stories and was the author of "Dark Star" and the "Doorways of Drumorty." She went to the desert nine days ago in the hope that the climate there might aid in regaining her health.

Stricken with tuberculosis several years ago, Miss Moon fought to conquer the disease. At the same time she kept on with her work, and it was while she was confined to her room that she created "Dark Star," published a little more than a year ago. The book met with instant success, and her second novel, "Macabre," was nearing completion at the time of her death. She was 31 years of age.

A native of Stricken, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, Lorna Moon first went to Canada in 1918 at the close of the World War. There she worked as a journalist, later going to San Francisco where she was also employed on a newspaper. Recognition was first won through a series of Scotch stories published in England, and later brought out in one volume under the title of "Doorways of Drumorty."

About 1923 she came to Hollywood and worked for Cecil de Mille. She also worked for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer where she adapted and wrote the continuity for "Mr. Wu," "London After Midnight," "Annie Laurie," and "Up-Stage." Her courage in her fight for health won her many friends, and it was through having returned to work after a severe illness that she first contracted tuberculosis.

Miss Moon's body will be brought to Los Angeles. The announcement of the funeral will be made later.

Raid Nets Six as Robber Suspects

Six men were arrested last night by Detective Lieutenants Hoy, Edmondson and Malina at the flat of Mickey O'Donnell, 130 South Bunker Hill, and held for investigation.

Three of the men held gave their names as Hershell Jernigan, 28 years of age, 924 West Sixth street; Carl Marage, 22, 827½ Downey Road, and Mickey O'Donnell. All are booked on suspicion of robbery.

WIFE FINDS HUSBAND DROWNED IN BATHTUB

John Conkle, 55 years of age, 2122½ Wilmont street, was found last night drowned in a bathtub at his home. His wife made the discovery. Conkle had been bedridden for four months. Police learned from Dr. J. A. Bell, who attended him, that Conkle recently asked the comparative times of death by drowning and by gas asphyxiation. At that time, Conkle is quoted as saying he was a burden on his wife.

DOPE-PLANT GROWING CHARGED IN ARREST

Marihuana was grown in the yard of Jose Ortega's home at 709 Casanova street, police reported last night after arresting the man and booking him on charge of violating the State Poison Act. Officers Boshart, Matthews and Brown charged that they had bought the narcotic repeatedly from Ortega. After arresting him they reported finding sixty marihuana plants among the corn in his yard.

VETERANS TO MEET

The Ninety-first Division Association, Southern California sector, in co-operation with the Ninety-first Division Post, American Legion, will hold its last dinner of the season next Wednesday evening in Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street. Capt. Charles Chenoweth, president, will preside and introduce Gov. Young as the principal speaker. Entertainment will be provided by the Black Diamond troupe of colored singers, dancers and musicians.

ON A PRISON SHIP

The French prison ship La Martiniere on its recent semiannual voyage to Cayenne or Devil's Island, as it is more commonly known, carried the largest and most conspicuous passenger list in its history. There were nearly 700 men on board, including several rather distinguished persons who had become involved in capital offenses. Most of the "passengers" were housed in four great cages with accommodations for the warder in the center, where all are under his watchful eye. In case of any attempt to mutiny the warder can turn on a jet of steam which is calculated to subdue any such outbreak in a few seconds. Besides these four cages there are four steel cells in which the more desperate criminals are kept.

Sea Lion Slaughter

The sea lion could hold his own against his natural enemies, but his real troubles began when man discovered that he was insulated with several inches of oil-bearing blubber and that his hide made good leather. Nearly 200 years ago the slaughter began on the west coast, says Nature Magazine. Countless thousands of sea lions died for the enrichment of the oil hunters, until by the beginning of this century only a remnant of the vast herds which once roared and fought on their offshore rookeries is left to carry on the species.

Year's Best Novels Chosen

"Le Sourire de l'Ange," by Leandre Vaillat, has been chosen by the Femina Vie Heureuse and Northcliffe Prizes Committee, in London, for the Northcliffe prize for the best novel of 1929-30. The Femina Vie Heureuse for 1929-30 has just been awarded in Paris to Charles Morgan for his novel, "Portrait in a Mirror."

Records Moved Under Guard

Under guard and with the utmost secrecy thousands of the most valuable books and records of the British government, stretching back over many centuries, were recently moved by trucks from the Record Office in London to Canterbury prison, abandoned as a prison, for storage. Many of the books and documents are invaluable and irreplaceable.

IOWANS MEET TOMORROW

An invitation is extended to all former citizens of Maquoketa, Iowa, to attend a basket luncheon to be held at Westlake Park at 12 o'clock noon tomorrow.

NEW UNION OIL PLANT ON WAY

Increase in Production of Kerosene Planned

Will Use Edeleneau Process in Gas Treatment

Project's Daily Capacity to be 10,000 Barrels

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Enhancing its kerosene output for export as well as for domestic consumption the Union Oil Company has a $1,000,000 gas-treatment plant under construction at its refinery north of San Pedro.

The plant, known as the Edeleneau type, will neutralize and clean the crude petroleum by treatment with sulphur-dioxide gas. It will have an output capacity of 10,000 barrels each twenty-four hours, allowing the discontinuance of the older types now in use.

Automatic mechanical features are such that twenty-five men only are needed per shift for its operation.

Completion will be in six months, and the output is expected to be mostly for trans-Pacific export.

SUMMER SAILINGS OF COAST LINERS CHANGED

Excursions to Mexico, to Alaska and the approaching return of the flagship H. F. Alexander to the coastwise run are causing a radical readjustment of Pacific Steamship Company schedules.

Last night the Electrolysis Club departed on the Emma Alexander on a special cruise to Ensenada, returning tomorrow night. Tonight the Dorothy Alexander sails on an excursion to Mazatlan, returning the 15th inst., only to retrace her trip the 17th inst., and return the 29th inst. On June 3 she will sail directly from Los Angeles with passengers for Southeast Alaska, whence she will enter the summer Alaska-Seattle run. On the 9th inst., the H. F. Alexander arrives and departs on the first of her weekly coastwise runs.

Beginning with the 9th inst., the Ruth Alexander and Emma Alexander will alternate on regular week-end runs to Ensenada throughout the summer. The Ruth Alexander will inaugurate the series, departing from her Wilmington dock at 7 p.m. the 9th inst. and returning the 11th inst. at 4 p.m.

Admiral Line ships are scheduled for forty-nine arrivals and as many departures at Wilmington this month, according to P. H. Germain, agent.

George A. Armes, new president of the Los Angeles Ship Building and Dry Dock Corporation, who has been in New York the past fortnight relative to contracts for new ship construction, will return from the East on the 6th inst. He will first stop over in San Francisco to survey operations of the General Engineering and Dry Dock Company, of which he is also president.

The local yards will start construction next week on a steel oil-bunkering barge for the Western Oil and Refining Company, and on the 7th inst., a force from the plant will go to Newport Harbor to launch from her sand-bank cradle the excursion boat Valencia. The 130-footer, which is powered with three Diesel engines, and has capacity for 200 passengers, will be launched with special equipment, due to her "high-and-dry" position and the narrow channel.

Arthur Friberger, district passenger agent of the General Steamship Corporation, announces that formal opening of the concern's new passenger offices at 609 South Grand avenue will be held on the 5th inst., the public being invited. Mr. Friberger has just added to his local staff Charles B. Edmonds, veteran in Coast shipping circles.

The Royal Mail-Holland-America terminals are enjoying a busy week-end with three ships in port. Yesterday both the Royal Mail liners Narenta and the Holland-America motorship Drechtdyk were at dock, the Narenta topping off with borax and canned goods, a 9700-ton Pacific Coast cargo for the United Kingdom, while the Drechtdyk was discharging passengers and 800 tons of general from North Europe and England. Today, the Royal Mail's Nitcheroy will come in from the north to load for the continent.

The Los Angeles Steamship Company announces two special spring excursions from Los Angeles or Long Beach to San Francisco and back, with the sailings of the liner Yale from its Wilmington dock the 9th and 13th insts. The round-voyage fare on which there is a six-day return limit will be $10 including meals and sleeping accommodations, to which $2 may be added for standard outside rooms, or $20 more for de luxe suites. Two similar southbound sailings are scheduled, one on the Harvard from San Francisco the 9th inst., and the other on the Yale from San Francisco the 10th inst.

Load-line legislation on American coastwise and Great Lakes vessels has been deferred until after the international load-line conference late this month. Capt. W. J. Peterson, head of marine service bureaus here and up coast, told a Senate subcommittee April 28 that unless special exception be made of Pacific lumber schooners they would have to reduce their cargo so much many would be put out of business.

NEWSPAPERS IN GARDEN

We have worked out a method that can be used for garden mulch around the plants. Last year we were growing green beans. When the drought came their leaves began to wilt and were doing no good. The first row we tried soaking the ground around them thoroughly in the evening, then taking the first or second section of the Indianapolis News, folding it to fit between the rows, thus making packs of eight to twelve or more sheets thick.

We laid them close to the plants on each side of the row like shingles, only reverse, commencing at the top of the grade, so when it rained the water would run under the packs instead of over and off. We soaked the papers thoroughly and put dirt, stones and bricks on the upper corners to prevent wind from blowing them away. The first week this row began to thrive and bloom. The other rows not so treated began to die. We also tried medium asphalt roofing cut in strips. This did not do so good as the paper packs but better than none.

We find that several sheets of thin paper to be better than one heavier or roofing. Also the water runs off the roofing instead of under, as with the papers, and the packs will hold more misture than the one sheet of roofing. We tried the paper packs on most of our garden last year on flowers, beets, onions, parsnips, cabbage and tomatoes with good results.

Probably we would have had better growth had we commenced using the papers before the ground died out. This year we expect to plant the seeds through the paper packs by using a sharp stick piercing the packs for plants to come through, first making a depression at the row that the water will run to the plants.—[Exchange.

ARIZONA YOUTH ORATORY VICTOR

Constitutional Convention Subject of Oration

Judges Deliberate Hour in Making Decision

Shrine Auditorium Filled for Notable Event

tion of the United States and the institutions under which they live.

Constituting a symposium of patriotic appeal for a more loyal citizenship, a deeper reverence for the Constitution and an insistent demand for law observance and law enforcement, seven orations that quickened the blood and aroused a latent patriotism in an audience that packed the vast auditorium from stage to roof, were delivered. It was the challenge of the youth of America to their elders to stand squarely upon the Constitution, to defend it against all assaults and pass it on to the rising generation intact and in all its virile strength. It was the challenge of Young America, about to take over the affairs of government, to those in authority, that they see to it that law and order be held as supreme in the land, that the temple of justice be not turned over to the money-changers and that the halls of administration be not debauched and polluted by false and venal servants.

INSPIRING OCCASION

It was an inspiring occasion. The vast auditorium was a radiant mass of humanity, the decorations were in harmony with the patriotic spirit of the event and the music of national airs kept the audience in a lively mood.

Doors to the auditorium were opened at 6:30 p.m. The entire first floor was reserved for those who had engaged tickets in advance. As soon as the doors opened the crowd that had gathered made a rush for the balcony which accommodated 3000 and within a short time it was filled. Never before was there such demand for seats.

Shortly before 7:30 o'clock the Los Angeles Playground Band, augmented to about seventy-five, filed in and filled the orchestra pit. The band had drawn upon the high school orchestras of the city schools and was composed entirely of school musicians. It was under the leadership of Edwin E. Suman, director.

Director of the Contest, Prof. Alan Nichols, went behind the scenes where were assembled the eleven judges who were to pass upon the contestants and evaluate their efforts. They were waiting for the final instructions of the contest manager, before they took the seats allotted to them in the body of the house, and which were at a distance from one another. The judges were to mark their ballots on their own individual judgment, alone and without conference. For the championship of all high-school orators of the Southwest and perhaps of the nation, was at stake.

CONTEST JUDGES

The winner of the night's event was to be crowned as the champion orator of the Southwest to go to Seattle where he might win the championship of the Pacific Coast. And that meant $500 cash for the Los Angeles victory and a four-months' tour of Europe all expenses paid for the Seattle victory.

The judges were Benjamin W. Coleman, associate justice Supreme Court, Nevada; A. G. McAlister, associate justice Supreme Court, Arizona; Harry H. Culver, Harry H. Culver & Co.; William May Garland, W. M. Garland & Co.; H. D. Ivey, president Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank; Prof. Charles F. Lindsley, chairman department public speaking, Occidental College; Prof. Charles A. Marsh, chairman department of public speaking, University of California at Los Angeles; Orra E. Monnette, vice-president and chairman of regional board, Bank of Italy; D. W. Pontius, president Pacific Electric Railway Company; Cecil B. De Mille, Cecil B. De Mille Productions, Inc., and Prof. Stanley Howell, professor of constitutional law, University of Southern California.

In making their decisions, the judges considered three points:

First, the fitness of the contestant to make a worthy showing in the highest stages of the contest, character, poise and personality being criterions. Second, the composition of the oration, with particular emphasis on historical accuracy, logic and general literary effectiveness. Third, moving power—the extent to which the speaker thrills and quickens his audience. Judges were instructed to attach equal importance to the set and to the extemporaneous speeches. The judges balloted secretly, using the standard ballot form, wherein the winner had to receive the lowest point total and also first place from a majority of the judges.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEECHES

In the matter of extemporaneous speeches, the judges were to place equal emphasis and importance upon the extemporaneous speeches and the set orations. At 8 o'clock the curtain rose, disclosing the seven contestants and Judge Wilbur of the United States Court of Appeals, and former Secretary of the Navy, with Hon. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, formerly of the judiciary. Judge Bledsoe had been announced as acting chairman and he in turn, announced Judge Wilbur as the presiding officer. Elaborate programs, giving every detail of the contest had been distributed.

Judge Bledsoe walked to the front of the stage and raised his hand for order. He announced the purpose of the evening's event, gave a history of the contest on the Constitution and the tremendous proportions to which it had grown and paid a glowing tribute to Harry Chandler, founder of the contest. Judge Bledsoe then introduced Judge Wilbur, who in turn presided and introduced the orators.

OVATION FOR PIKE

As the music ceased, Judge Wilbur arose and announced as the first speaker, James Pike, upon the subject, "The Torch of Democracy." Young Pike was given a rousing reception by the audience, led by the large contingent from Hollywood High School, which he represented.

Opening with a quotation from Roosevelt, "Ours is a government of liberty, by, through and under the law," he declared that the United States Constitution has not only made this the greatest of nations "but it has served as an incentive to the rest of the world to dispel the darkness of autocracy with the torch of democracy." From the earliest time man had yearned for freedom but this yearning had not found its fullest expression until the Constitutional Convention, which convened in Philadelphia in 1787, "when the Almighty answered the prayers, hopes and tears of down-trodden humanity" through the framing of that immortal document, the Constitution.

"The majesty of popular government has survived a century and a half, and 120,000,000 people possess a measure of liberty heretofore unknown—not liberty that means license, but, thank God, liberty founded in law." The speaker warned against an insidious foe—"those dangerous agitators who would disrupt our existing social order, waving the red rag of anarchy." No thinking person will question, he said, "that our Constitution is in graver danger today than at any other time in our history, due to the apathy with which the public regards the ever-increasing assaults upon its principles." The speaker closed with an impassioned plea for an aroused consciousness:

"It has always been considered a privilege to die for our country, but it is a greater privilege to live for it and fight the battles of democracy."

YOUNG CHEERED

Then came John B. Young and Torrance led the cheering for its high school champion. His topic was "The Development of our Constitution." He traced the struggle for liberty from the time the Egyptians made slaves of the Israelites to Valley Forge, where it was only the longing for liberty that sustained Washington's army. He then told of the framing of the Constitution, by drawing upon the "rich heritage of the past." "Great men had drawn plans for government before and there had been nations that endured longer than our nation is old, yet never before have these two vital principles of government been accurately balanced—a strong Federal authority and individual liberty.

In contrast to the cry of "Liberty without government" in soviet Russia and government without liberty by Mussolini in Italy, "our Constitution stands as a beacon with its principle of liberty under the law." But the speaker felt uncertain of the future with the growing disregard of law. "Unless the American people awaken to their responsibility of law observance and law enforcement there is grave danger that within the lives of those now living the end of organized government will be at hand;" but "so long as the Constitution remains intact, our liberty and rights are assured."

WRIGHT FOLLOWS

Odie Wright of Long Beach Polytechnic, was then announced, and the 500 fellow-students who had accompanied him let out a roar that shook the building and kept up for many minutes. "The Challenge of the Constitution," was announced as the orator's theme.

"The new American nation was moving on crutches and tottering to its fall when the representatives of the thirteen small discordant republics met in Philadelphia in 1787 and drafted a Constitution 'for a more perfect union' which provided a new relationship between man and man. In all previous history hard and fast lines had been drawn between the rich and the poor, between the governing and the governed, between the privileged few and the down-trodden masses.

"But with the new American Constitution there came a leveling of the masses and equality of opportunity, the participation of the individual in governmental affairs, a universal distribution of wealth, of privileges and a government invested in the people, wherein 'all citizens may participate in any of the three branches of government, the humblest citizen become the chief of all, the common man may become the law-maker and one's neighbor may preside in the halls of justice."

But, he warned, privileges like these demand responsibilities: The true citizen votes at all elections, serves on the jury, obeys the laws, sacrifices personal pleasure and profit by serving in public office when called upon. The challenge for better citizenship is greater today than ever before, and he called upon all to pledge anew "their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor" to preserve and perpetuate our temple of liberty—the Constitution of the United States.

MATSON OF PASADENA

Pasadena gave a heartening reception to its champion, Donald D. Matson, and he was generously cheered throughout the house. In speaking of "Liberty and Justice Under the Constitution," the subject of his oration, he referred to the Constitution as the expression of the "moral, spiritual and intellectual standards of the men who framed it," reflecting their longing for freedom and equality of opportunity. They drew from the history of all time in the struggle for liberty when they framed the Constitution, securing to themselves and posterity the privileges of civil and religious freedom.

To establish justice was the basic principle of American constitutional government; but it did not stop there; it guaranteed freedom "based upon the voluntary submission of the citizen to self-imposed laws." Within the American Constitution, he declared, are contained the greatest governmental truths ever evolved by human agencies, and the freedom meant by that supreme interpreter of the law, when He said, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." The speaker closed with a call to all citizens to take up the responsibilities of government and see to it that "our blessed heritage is preserved intact for future generations."

GIRL WARMLY GREETED

A ripple of expectancy ran through the house as the next speaker on the program was reached—the only girl orator of the evening, Miss Alice Parichan of Reedley High School. Miss Parichan was given a warm reception that told her that she had a sympathetic audience.

She spoke upon the subject "Is Our Constitution a Success?" and introduced her address with a reference to different members of the Constitutional Convention, "all masters of their work," and made a pleasing period by quoting from Longfellow's "Ship of State:"

"We know what Master laid thy keel,
What workmen wrought thy ribs of steel."

But to what purpose did they build? she asked. "Down through the years we have acclaimed that our Constitution has been a success. But has it?" Not unqualifiedly, according to the speaker. Not so long as power is in the hands of a few rich, which is developing class distinction; not so long as humanity is oppressed; so long as prices are based upon utility and not on the cost of production; not so long as we allow corporation lawyers to trample on justice, flout the Constitution and divert the purposes of its makers. She spoke with bitterness against war and said that surely war was not meant when the fathers spoke of insuring life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. She called for the abolition of war and prayed that all true Americans give whole-hearted support to the Constitution and the ideals of the forefathers.

NEVADA'S ORATOR

Nevada's chosen orator, Don Butler, as in the case of the Arizona visitor, was given a fine reception. His topic was the "Elasticity of the Constitution." The speaker asserted that the clause in the Constitution which provided that Congress "make all the laws necessary and proper" to carry the Constitution itself into effect, the so-called "elastic clause," was the making of America. Without it the Constitution would have been an inflexible and unworkable instrument, unequal to meet the emergencies of a growing people and changing times. No part of the Constitution treats of labor, of banks, of social welfare, of laws governing new inventions, etc., and without the saving grace of the "elastic clause" no such laws could be passed.

"If I were told to choose from all parts of the Constitution one phrase that has been most influential in the rise of the United States to the prominence in which it now finds itself, I would select the unobtrusive 'necessary and proper' clause as the brightest star in the crown of good government."

He warned against the abuse of power under the "elastic clause" and cautioned that we "look well and use our growing power wisely."

LION CUB NAMED AFTER VESSEL

Immortal French General Paid Honor

Lafayette and Betty De Golia

CONSIDERING the numerous litters of cubs that have been born in captivity at Gay's Lion Farm, El Monte, one would believe that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gay, the proprietors, long since have exhausted their supply of appropriate monickers with which to tag the new arrivals. As a matter of fact, they have, therefore, when they found themselves up against it for a name to bestow on another baby lion that made its debut the other day they invited Miss Betty De Golia to conjure up a name.

Thus was the cub named after a steamship, the new Lafayette of the French Line, the vessel, of course, having been named after the immortal French general. Lafayette came to Miss De Golia's mind quite naturally for she is the daughter of H. G. DeGolia, general passenger agent in Los Angeles. Emilien P. Belot, manager of the first-class department of the line, acted as Miss De Golia's escort at the christening.

The toastmaster proposed a toast "To the Constitution," and bade the guests to keep in mind, while drinking the toast, "Washington on his knees at Valley Forge; Lincoln on the field of Gettysburg and Wilson before Congress on the declaration of war."

Scalp lacerations last night sent Vera Andrews, 23 years of age, a waitress, 2618 West Pico street, to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where she told police surgeons that her father had hit her over the head with his revolver. Police report that the girl admitted drawing the weapon on her father when he reprimanded her for late hours, and that he wrenched it away and hit her. Dist.-Atty. Fitts Advocates Boys' Reform School

Dist.-Atty. Fitts was applauded last night when he spoke before the Civic Discussion Club at Los Angeles Evening High School and declared that his office is working to make the streets and roads of Los Angeles county safe for women and children. He also advocated a separate reform institution for boys who go wrong, where they can be trained in a useful occupation.

"I would rather rehabilitate a man than to send him to San Quentin to become an habitual criminal," he declared. "If a boy is not a criminal when he goes into San Quentin, he will be one when he comes out after associating with hardened criminals."

Fitts reviewed the reorganizing and activities of his office since he took charge, saying that his staff raised the percentage of convictions from 31 per cent to 83 per cent within eight months. In that eight months' period, he added, the business in the District Attorney's office had increased 72 per cent, despite which fact he cut the force in half and turned back $122,000 to the public treasury.

"Two years ago crime had a hold on Los Angeles because it was impossible to get an honest prosecution in the District Attorney's office," he asserted.

E. M. Scofield, water commissioner, also spoke. The meeting was conducted under the direction of Arthur E. Wolpe.

Man Held for Slaying After Ten-Year Hunt

Solution of the fatal shooting nearly ten years ago of Ventura Morales, 35 years of age, on a ranch near Carmelita was made known last night by Deputy Sheriffs Mendoza and Sepulveda. The killing, according to the officers, has been confessed by Apolinar Soliz, 35, whom they arrested on a ranch a few miles north of Clarksburg, Yolo county, last Wednesday and returned here late yesterday.

Morales died at the General Hospital on December 22, 1920, a few hours after the shooting.

Soliz, the officers stated, declared he shot Morales in self-defense in a fight over Juana Colunga, 40 years of age.

Dr. Lofting expressed himself as delighted and surprised with the interest the children showed in his books and remarked on the equipment of the school to give the children an opportunity to learn naturally and without the formal drill and routine that characterizes other schools.
